

WILL DECORATE HEROES' GRAVES

Post and Relief Corps will be Assisted by Citizens. School Exercises Monday.

Next Sunday is Memorial Sunday and Tuesday is Decoration day. The G. A. R. and W. R. C. of M. A. Ross Post, No. 41, have appointed committees who will see that the graves of soldiers in the nine different cemeteries in this locality are properly decorated. These cemeteries and the members of the Post are so widely scattered that it was thought best not to have any public services under the management of the Post. The pupils of the Gresham school, however, are preparing a public program to be given in the school assembly hall on Monday afternoon at 2:30 which the public is invited to attend.

The observance of these days by our citizens should not be overlooked. Decoration day should be made more of each succeeding year. There is no national holiday when patriotism and love for those who have preserved our liberties and given their lives a sacrifice for their country can be so well taught and instilled into the minds and hearts of our boys and girls. This should not be celebrated as a gala day, but rather as a day in which old and young may join in honor of the heroic dead and those who though still living gave the best of their lives that this nation might not fall through internal dissensions and become the laughing stock of a world filled with monarchial and despotic forms of government. We are likely to easily forget in this present day and age when we are eager in chasing the almighty dollar and in forwarding great enterprises for our commonwealth that there ever was a time when our whole fabric of constitutional and republican form of government was in danger of overthrow and disgrace, and it behooves us as loyal American citizens and a Christian nation to set aside one day at least to meditate on these things and do honor to our nation's heroic dead.

CLOSING LITERARY OF HIGH SCHOOL

The High School Literary society held its regular monthly meeting last Friday afternoon. It was the final meeting of the year, which gave it an added interest.

The pupils of the seventh and eighth grades attended. The following program was given:

Song, How Can I Leave Thee, by the society.

Roll call, Proverbs from the Bible.

Charades, Wallace Wilkinson, Marguerite Michel, Fred Wagner.

Scene VI, Act 2, Merchant of Venice, High School pupils.

Instrumental solo, Freida Bratzel.

Parody, Willa Metzger.

Instrumental duet, Helen Hoss and Bessie Howitt.

Old Maid's Dream, Elsie Schultz.

Song, Lottie Davis.

School paper, Christie Burkholder.

Song, God be With You Till We Meet Again, by the society.

Monuments at Reduction.

Attention is called to the opportunity offered by the East Portland Marble Works, located at 335 East Morrison street. This concern is the successor to W. W. Minar, who died about a year ago, and was well known in all this section of country. Sometime, sooner or later all have to do business with the monument makers. A good stone over a grave shows respect for the dead. A well kept cemetery shows a progressive community. The Outlook recommends this firm for any who have need of anything in the monument line.

HORSES AND COWS FOR SALE.

One matched team, bay horses, weight, 2900; age, 8 and 10 years. One black gelding 4 years; weight, 1200; one bay filly 5 years; weight 1250. Ten first class milch cows. Will make special price on these cows to anyone who can handle the entire lot, or will sell any number. These cows have been tuberculin tested. D. F. Talbot, Gresham phone 528.

DALHEIMER WINS IN SUIT AGAINST MCGREGOR

The case of Dalheimer vs. McGregor in Justice Rollins court was tried before a jury yesterday. Briefly stated, the facts are about as follows: Dalheimer has been renting McGregor's farm of forty-one acres for a period of five years and at the expiration of his term he failed to get a settlement of affairs with McGregor satisfactory to himself. Whereupon he sued McGregor for $25.75, the balance due him according to his figures. McGregor claimed that the plaintiff owed him about this amount for personal property which he took with the lease and which he failed to return with the place. The trial and examination of witnesses was almost comical when the trivial matters brought out were taken into consideration.

Several witnesses were brought by the defence to prove that Dalheimer had wilfully removed and destroyed property belonging to McGregor, but no very substantial evidence was produced and inasmuch as the counter claim was based upon the value of articles which by the agreement, the plaintiff was allowed the use of along with the place these five years, the jury seemed to take little consideration of the same.

The jury after being out about one hour returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $25.75 less $4.00 for one cord of wood and the value of two broken window panes which defendant claimed had not been repaired. The contract with several other documents pertaining to the deal were submitted to the jury and these together with the testimony given by the litigants formed the basis for their decision.

Attorneys Fitzgerald for plaintiff and Carter for defendant conducted the case and the jurors were, Ed. Sleret, Mr. Pugh, S. S. Thompson, Dan Metzger, Robt. Wright and Walter Burtch.

W. H. M. S. WILL HOLD SILVER ANNIVERSARY

We are in receipt of a copy of a neat program of the twenty-fifth annual convention of the Woman's Home Missionary society. A silver anniversary will be held in Sellwood M. E. church, corner Tacoma avenue and E. Fifteenth streets, Thursday and Friday, June 1 and 2. An elaborate program has been prepared.

Mrs. W. H. Bachmeyer and Mrs. James Sterling will attend as district officers, while Mrs. Dunlop and Mrs. Clanahan will attend as local delegates.

This society has within the territory of the United States over forty industrial homes for young people, twenty-five mission schools, five hospitals, three national training schools, four conference training schools for missionaries and deaconesses, forty-one deaconesses institutions, three orphanages besides many forms of mission work carried on in various ways. A strong effort is being made to establish a much needed home and settlement work in Portland.

WANTED—Wood to saw with drag saw. Heavy timber preferred. Magnuson & Nelson, Gresham, Oregon, phone 501. 27

Why be bothered with two pair of glasses? Call at Fieldhouse, the jeweler's, and have Dr. Lowe show you the new glasses with which you can see all distances. No lines or seams in the glass to catch dust and strain the eyes. No cement to come apart. To have him show them to you will in no wise obligate you to purchase.

PASTURE—Cattle wanted to pasture. Inquire of B. Witter, Gresham, Oregon. Phone 383. 27

"LEST WE FORGET"

God of our fathers, known of old—
Lord of our far-flung battle line—
Beneath whose awful hand we hold
Dominion over palm and vine—
Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet,
Lest we forget—lest we forget!

The tumult and the shouting dies,
The captains and the kings depart;
Still stands thine ancient sacrifice—
An humble and a contrite heart.
Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet,
Lest we forget—lest we forget!

Far-called, our navies melt away;
On dune and headland sinks the fire.
Lo! all our pomp of yesterday
Is one with Nineveh and Tyre!
Judge of the nations, spare us yet,
Lest we forget—lest we forget!

If, drunk with sight of power, we loose
Wild tongues that have not Thee
in awe,
Such boasting as the Gentiles use
Or lesser breeds within the law—
Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet,
Lest we forget—lest we forget!

For heathen heart that puts her trust
In reeking tube and iron shard,
All valiant lust that builds on dust,
And guarding calls not thee to guard,
For frantic boasts and foolish word,
Thy mercy on Thy people, Lord!
Amen.
—Rudyard Kipling.

APRON SHOWERS BRING MAY FLOWERS

An apron shower was given in honor of Miss Pearl Lindsey by Misses Grace and Minnie Lawrence at their home on Roberts avenue. Miss Lindsey was well entertained by those present and received enough aprons for all occasions to start a ladies aid society or do her the rest of her life.

An interesting feature was the life of Miss Lindsey in song from babyhood to the time of her golden wedding fifty years hence.

Those present were, Miss Pearl Lindsey, Mrs. Jessie Cathey, Mrs. Jas. Elkington, Miss Laura Bulkely, Miss Elizabeth Holliday, Miss Mabel Thomas, Miss Hope Anderson, Miss Alice Erickson, Miss Winifred Osborn, Miss Grace Lawrence, Miss Minnie Lawrence.

Dairy Notes.

First get a pair of scales that can be hung conveniently near the cows and weigh every milking and mark it down. It only takes a few minutes and it gives you an exact record of what the cow is doing every day.

While a pound or two shrinkage is scarcely noticeable on one cow, in a dairy of fifty it would pay pretty well to have a man just to look after this one item. And if it would pay in one large dairy, would it not pay well by increasing the total amount that is paid out to the farmers in one township in equal proportions?

Then again, the man who weighs every milking is soon striving to get a little more milk each day, and he begins to take an interest in the dairy in a way that he never thought of before, and the results at the end of the year show a marked increase in the total returns of cash.

Many farmers are giving their cows a good grain ration, but a few minutes' brushing every day would be better than the last two pounds of grain that is fed.

Isn't it about time the Commercial club was getting busy again? There is talk of a woman's auxiliary being formed. The men start out bravely alone but they soon find they need the assistance of the women.

Rockwood Grange Dance.

Lovers of dancing will not forget the dance tomorrow night at Rockwood. Richard's orchestra and grange supper. Tickets $1.00, supper extra. Undesirables not admitted. 25

M. E. CHOIR ENJOYS MUSICAL SOCIAL

The choir of the Methodist church met as usual Wednesday night and practiced some very pleasing music for Sunday. C. W. Albertson was leader and the members of the choir say that he is exceedingly helpful.

There was nothing unusual about all of this. The unusual happened about nine o'clock when it was announced that the members of the choir and their invited friends were to be entertained at the parsonage. Here two hours or more of social pleasure and solid fun, with ice cream and cake, were enjoyed. The games were literary or musical and afforded much merriment.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Albertson, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling, Mr. and Mrs. Clanahan, Mr. and Mrs. Bachmeyer, Mr. and Mrs. Rusher, Mr. and Mrs. Elkington, Mr. and Mrs. Dunlop, Mr. and Mrs. St. Clair, Mrs. Valentine, Mrs. C. S. Smith, Misses Grace and Minnie Lawrence, Mary Hanson, Viola Mathews, Florence Fieldhouse, and Messrs. Ed. Aylsworth, Marshall Flemming and Jackson Jones.

A SUCCESSFUL FARMERS' CLUB

Agricultural societies for the development of farming conditions are being organized in every wide-awake section of the country. The Pacific Northwest is not slow in keeping pace with the times. No better illustration of what an agricultural community can accomplish by co-operative effort can be found than the Northwest Gaston farmers' club. This organization is working in a number of ways to better the community, which is one of the prosperous and happy parts of the state. The central idea is the farmers are not competitors, and what helps one will help all.

It is not primarily a commercial organization. No co-operative store or the like will be organized, but the co-operative plan of selling will ultimately be perfected. The executive force of the association is working along social and educational lines. An excellent school is maintained, and the building is so equipped as to provide a suitable meeting place for the club.

Poultry Notes.

The cost of getting started in poultry raising is comparatively small provided one goes into it little by little. With care and attention to details one can soon have a good sized flock of biddies and every egg counts.

Ten or more years ago a man in Massachusetts gave his son $1,000 and three or four acres of land. The son looked about him undecided what to do until he had but $600 left. Then he began the poultry business. He went in for Plymouth Rocks and Wyandottes and he keeps just two breeds yet. He has given the poultry business his best thought and has succeeded because he has been a hard worker and a good business man. Today he is rated by the commercial agencies as being worth $50,000.

The point of keeping the cows clean has been proven to be a saving in feed as well as an increase in milk.

The Outlook will visit a relative or friend for you 104 times during the year, brim full of news. Isn't that worth something to you?
