Expert Word Juggler.

The German proprietor of a Brooklyn delicatessen store has got far enough along to pun in English. A writer in the New York Sun reports the fact.

Hanging in the window of the little shop is this advertisement: "The Best You can do is buy our Worst."—Youths Companion.

Caustic Reply.

"Had a puncture, my friend." The chauffeur looked up and swallowed his feelings with a huge gulp. "No, sir," he replied, "I'm just changing the air in the tires. The other lot's worn out, you know!"—Idea.

The Shattuck and Lindsay baseball team will play with Pleasant Home at that place on next Sunday at 2:30 p. m.

B. W. Emery is constructing a cement walk along his residence property on Hood avenue.

Harry Wood is enlarging his house on Third street.

Dr. Belt was on board of one of the cars which collided on Madison street bridge Monday, being thrown against the end of the car in such a manner as to break three of his ribs. He is able to be around but cannot ride in a buggy or auto without suffering considerable pain.

Gibbs Bros. are building a small addition to Ed. Smith's house.

Rails are laid on the Mt. Hood road from about a mile east of Montavilla to within a mile of the Sandy river bridge. The work is progressing rapidly. A large force has been put on the transmission work erecting poles east and west of Gresham. It is intimated that in a few weeks service will be begun between and Portland.

Carrol Smith is having some difficulty in finding a suitable name for their Pleasant Home tract. The name Pleasant Home Gardens was found to conflict with other plats.

GRESHAM

Chas. Cleveland has begun the erection of a pretty bungalow on the extension of Hood avenue. This is one of several which will be built in Cleveland addition this summer. Mr. Cleveland will gravel Hood avenue north of Division street. His plan is to drain this section thoroughly, build several cottages in addition to those to be built on property that has been sold, and make this one of the best residence districts of the town.

Two new cases were filed the first of the week in Justice Rollins court. That of S. T. Walker vs. J. W. Oster and wife and Aaron Fox vs. W. F. Cummins.

The case of T. Howitt vs. Victor Halter has gone by default, the defendant failing to make answer within the specified time gives the plaintiff right to take judgment.

While the Mt. Hood crew were unloading rails near the O. W. P. crossing last Monday night several men had their feet and legs badly bruised. It seems that in the absence of the regular overseer, one end of a rail was dropped before the men on the other end were ready and the jar caused them to lose their hold, the rail falling on their feet and badly crushing them.

Joe Hamlin has the contract for putting in cement walk along a block or more of property on the north side of Powell street from the Culy property to that of Jake Metzger.

A cement walk is being built along the Culy property on Powell street. This with the making over and enlarging of the house, which is being done by David Culy, will greatly improve this valuable piece of property.

John Roberts, Frank Hodge and Viola Dinger went to Welches yesterday. Mr. Roberts will remain some time but Mr. Hodge expects to return with his wife who has been spending a fortnight in the mountains.

John Burbo, while driving a steer on the H. E. Davis farm met with a serious accident. He was caught by an overhanging wire under the chin and thrown backwards with great violence struck on a stone in such a manner as to break his shoulder.

Emory Roberts writes from near Shaniko that the camp of surveyors with which he has been working on the Harriman line has been ordered to Echo. He says the rattlers were getting very thick near Shaniko, one even coming into his tent.

Miss Maud Cleveland arrived in Portland Tuesday, May 23, coming upon the Bear from San Francisco. This was her twenty-third trip by boat between Portland and San Francisco and was one of the stormiest she has experienced. She comes from Leland Stanford University where she has been teaching during the past year.

The following services at the Baptist church next Sunday: Sabbath school as usual, Roy Shumaker superintendent. There will be no preaching services in the morning as our congregation will attend the baccalaureate services at the M. E. church. Evening sermon by the pastor, Rev. F. M. Burch. Topic, "The Light of the World."

Geo. Kupper, agent for A. C. Kern & Co., of Portland, publishers of the Deutsche Zeitung, was a caller at the Outlook office yesterday. Mr. Kupper is looking over the country adjacent to Portland with a view to giving the different localities a special write up in the paper he represents.
