

$1500 AN ACRE FROM STRAWBERRIES

Geo. Metzger presented the Outlook office yesterday with a box full of Magoon strawberry containing just 18 berries. He states that one hill in his field has grown 687 berries, and on a patch exactly four rods square he had picked each of two successive seasons, thirty crates of twenty-four boxes each and the same patch promises as good a yield this season. This shows what can be done with proper care and attention.

If Mr. Metzger had one acre of berries as good as his four square rods he would get 1200 crates of berries which would bring him at the low price of $1.25 per crate the sum of $1500. This would be much more than the average annual income of each family in the United States.

Late last evening Clackamas and Multnomah county officials passed through Gresham with a man found on the Barton road near Cottrell in a starving condition. He gave his name as Dave Green and refused to state more than that he was a laborer and came to Oregon twenty years ago. He is suspected of being connected with the Hill murder between Ardenwald and Milwaukie. He is the man who for several days has been making inquiry as to the Barlow trail to Eastern Oregon.

While Fish Jennings, who is in the employ of A. Leland at the Transfer barn, was returning from a trip to Sandy with a driving team late last Tuesday evening, the team became frightened at the Mt. Hood engine near P. H. Rook's place. Jennings lost control of them and was thrown violently out of the rig striking on his head and shoulders and otherwise brushing him considerably. The team ran on into Gresham, passed by the barn and took the O. W. P. track around the depot. They kept on up the track to the trestle south of the depot, where something caught in the trackage and the whole outfit was piled up in a heap. The buggy injured somewhat.

In 1901 the combined capital of the First National, United States National, Lumbermen's National and Merchants National of Portland, was $1,500,000. Now the grand total is $4,000,000. It is remarkable that during the past two years each of these banks has at least doubled its capital. The Lumbermen's has quadrupled, the First National has tripled its capital stock. No other city can show such an increase.

The Dominion of Canadian immigration authorities will adopt restrictive measures against the immigration into that country of the American negro on the ground that he could not become adapted to the rigorous Northern climate, and consequently might become a public charge.—Selected.

The Campaign Is Now On

The Outlook will begin today a special subscription campaign. We already have a large list of appreciative readers but we want everybody between Portland and the mountains to get in line and read the Outlook. July 17 has been named as a special date when something will happen. We still say that we have important things to announce for that date and we want everybody to be in line to hear what we have to say. Every day we are improving our facilities for gathering news and we shall soon be able to publish frequently items of local interest to each community. We aim to make the Outlook the people's paper and a medium of service to all.

Few people remain in this section who have not seen at least one copy of the Outlook.

When our special agent, Miss Irene Douglass, calls on you give her your name for at least one year for the Outlook. Our slogan is "From Portland to the mountains, look out for the Outlook."

SUMMER SESSION WILL OPEN MONDAY

The seventh annual summer session of the University of Oregon will open Monday, June 26, 1911. The session lasts six weeks, and closes Friday, August 4, 1911.

The purpose of the University in offering this six weeks' summer term is to extend to those who are otherwise engaged during the school year the advantages which the University offers for instruction, together with the aid afforded by the library, laboratories, and other facilities for study connected with the University. Special effort is made in all departments to make the work of real, practical benefit to those who are actually engaged in teaching. The greater number of summer school students are teachers. An excellent opportunity is given superintendents, principals, and teachers to meet those from other parts of the state to their mutual benefit. High school teachers are enabled to make special study in lines in which they are most interested and to meet and work with others doing university research along similar lines. The summer session offers a means of keeping abreast of the latest developments in their subjects.

The opportunity for practical laboratory work is also a valuable adjunct to the summer session. Every opportunity is offered for instruction in laboratory methods, and the matter of practical high school equipment is given special attention.

There is also an increasing number of college students who each year take advantage of the summer session. It enables them to take work for which they do not have time during the regular session and to make up work which for any reason they have missed or in which they have deficiencies.

Students who are preparing to enter the freshman class in the fall will find this an excellent opportunity to become acquainted with the methods pursued at the University. Credits to satisfy entrance requirements may be substituted in a number of summer school subjects.

The fee for the summer session, irrespective of the number of courses taken, will be ten (10) dollars. The fees in laboratory courses will cover only the cost of materials used.

BIG ATTRACTIONS FOR FOURTH AT GRESHAM

Big Parade at 9:30, Opening New Race Track, Trotting and Pacing Races, Auto Race and Push Ball.

Plans for the biggest Fourth of July celebration ever held in Gresham are now well under way and are complete enough so that very definite announcement can be made of some of the leading features.

First will be the industrial and comic parade which will form on Powell street near the school house and start promptly at 9:30 o'clock. The line of march will be long, passing over our well oiled dustless streets, then to the fair grounds where a circuit will be made of the race track where it is probable the judging will be done. Six valuable prizes, three firsts and three seconds in different classes will be given. Everyone should plan to take part in this first great feature of the day. C. S. Smith has been detailed to look after arrangements.

Following the parade will be brief exercises in the grove. Instead of an orator, an elocutionist will be engaged to recite several rousing patriotic pieces while a large chorus will sing patriotic songs. Thus a new and interesting program will be arranged. It is probable a float will be arranged for the singers which will be a feature of the parade.

The band music for the parade and for the day will be furnished by the Gresham Concert Band. The band will be in fine trim for this occasion. Strong bids have been received for Gresham's band at other points but the fact that they will play here will insure first class music by a large uniformed band.

A ball game will be played in the forenoon on the grounds between a Gresham team and an outside team. Several teams are bidding for the place and the committee will be ready to announce the selected teams soon.

The people will enjoy good old-fashioned picnic dinners in one of the finest groves in the country or may feast on the best of the land at the annex of the Gresham hotel which will be on the grounds in the Pavillion. All kinds of refreshments will be served on the grounds and at first class eating places in town.

The afternoon program of races will begin early and will be the most exciting ever produced in eastern Multnomah. There will be two trotting races and one pacing race by some of Multnomah county's best horses under the auspices of the Gresham-Riverside Amusement club on their new half-mile race track.

An automobile race is being arranged for and practicing has already begun.

The committee is trying to secure a push ball and is determined to get one if it is to be had in the country. This is a game played with horses. The ball is about six feet in diameter. Other athletic sports will complete the afternoon's features.

Cash prizes are hung up for the races and other events amounting to about $1,000.

Work is now in progress on the large grandstand which will accommodate the many who desire a comfortable seat.

During the afternoon there will be dancing at the pavilion with good orchestra music.

In the evening a grand ball will be given in the Commercial club hall.

The Mt. Hood Railway will run special excursion from Montavilla to Gresham and promises to carry all who want to come.

On the O. W. P. cars will run hourly in both directions.

Fairview Happenings Told in Brief

The city council passed the ordinance of grading Curve and Depot streets. First street has been completed, finishing touches are being put on Second and work will be rushed on Curve and Depot streets. Other petitions are being circulated for the grading of Harrison and Sixth streets. The council has established a rockpile, bought harness, and instructed Marshal Hunter to put all hobs to work breaking rock and they will surely do time if our marshal gets hold of them.

Mrs. Ashwander, living on the Hamilton place Columbia Slough, had her house robbed last week of several hundred dollars' worth of jewelry. A locket, large gold nugget, three rings, neck chain, made of small gold hearts, also some valuable pictures, three pairs of silk stockings and other clothing and eggs, cheese, butter, bread and wine.

The sheriff has been hunting on a case for several days and two or three are suspected which will cause a surprise if arrested. A goodly sum is offered as a reward.

After an unsuccessful attempt to dig for water, M. Albright, of Lone Oak farm, has a gasoline well drill at work and is determined to strike water or oil.

Wm. Butler was duly elected and qualified as councilman to fill vacancy caused by Councilman Vaughn moving to Mitchell, Oregon, where he is engaged in the hotel business.

Osborn Bros. are improving their park and will open the avenue from Barr road to Sandy after which they will donate it to the county.

A carload of furniture was unloaded here last week and transferred to Gresham by team as it was found that to ship the car from Seattle to Gresham would cost more than to ship to Fairview and haul the goods by team. Queer coincidence, is it not?

Maurice Schram, whose mind was affected by a spell of fever, seems to be regaining his reasoning faculties and will not have to be taken away for treatment.

Mr. Duger has returned to Fairview from Mt. Hood reservoir, where he has been working. The contract has been sublet to a company from California who has brought 75 mule teams and Mexican drivers with him, throwing all of those who have been engaged at work out of employment.

Haying will be in early this season in spite of the cool, rainy spring. Several are already making hay which is of a good quantity as well as quality. The hay crop will be heavy this season. Grain is looking well. Potatoes not so well, fruit an average crop with good prospects for grapes at vineyards near Russellville.

At the school election Monday Miss Ivy Cornell was elected clerk to succeed A. Kronenberg, who has served in that capacity for years. Wm. Butler was elected director to succeed J. W. Townsend.

BANNER BALL GAME HERE NEXT SUNDAY

What promises to be the banner game of baseball in this section of the country will be played on the Gresham diamond Sunday afternoon between the fast Costing team of Portland and the famous Gresham Giants. Manager Rupert, who is no stranger here has gotten together one of the best baseball aggregations seen in the city of Portland, outside of the Coast League.

Lodell and Turk, both California League stars, will be seen in the Costing lineup.

The Giants need no introduction as they have been playing good ball all season and are at present biting the pill hard. A good game is assured.

About seventy linemen on the Mt. Hood Railway & Power company charged the company with being unfair and not living up to its agreement. The matters between the men and the company are still unsettled and probably will be for a week or two until Mr. Smith returns from the East. The strike only affects the stringing of wires on the Peninsula and in Portland. The work along the line here of setting poles is progressing rapidly and all will be ready for the wires in the near future.

Last Tuesday four arrests were made in connection with the strike of the electric linemen on the Mt. Hood railway. They were Sam B. Breeding, Harry L. Nye, Dan O'Connell and Harry Peters, all linemen and they were arranged under the billposting ordinance for posting up stickers denouncing the railway company as unfair. No acts of violence have yet been reported to the police, but many requests for protection have been made by people along the line of construction in the northeast part of Portland.

The library is offering unusual inducements to people to take books and improve their vacation hours with good reading. You can receive a vacation card, if you are going on an outing, which will entitle you to ten books, six non-fiction and four fiction, which you can take with you and use without renewal from now till October 1. Under certain conditions you can return the first set and get another.

This is intended primarily for those going away on a vacation trip, to the mountains or seaside. It should be taken advantage of by a great many.

It is reported that a naked man was seen several times yesterday on Bald Butte near Russellville. There seems to be a few more crazy people than common roaming around. Some boys who went to the slough for a swim the other day were warned by a deputy sheriff to look out for a crazy man in the neighborhood.

Edwin Russ has a strawberry plant on his place west of Brownsville that on March 6, 1911, had 170 buds and blossoms on it. It is a year-old plant. Another planted last June had 120 buds and blossoms.

Lookout for the Outlook!

The lookout for the Gresham Outlook, looks up every time we look out the window. Everywhere we go now people look out for the Outlook man and if they look up or look down and forget to look out he gets their little one fifty for the Outlook. The Outlook, looks out for the news and if people don't be good they have to look out for the Outlook for the Outlook is on the look out for them. But if people are good and push as they should the Outlook will look out for them and look them up to say a word that will make people look up to them.

Then friends, one and all, look out for the Outlook for the Outlook comes twice every week. You scarcely look at one ere the other one comes and you have to look out for the Outlook or the Outlook will look out for you. Then the Outlook for you will be more than the outlook for the Outlook which we think can't look out for itself if it don't look out for you. Then read the Outlook twice a week if you can and look out for the ads. in the Outlook for we look out for them and they look out for you every time we publish the Outlook.

"From Portland to the mountain, look out for the Outlook."
