Tells of Trip to Latourelle.

Rev. J. F. Dunlop took all of his Sunday school class that could go to Latourelle Falls last Friday. Besides Herbert Dunlop, there were Everette Downing, Keith Lyman and myself.
 We took the car at Gresham for Linneman at 7:30 a. m., and changed cars at Linneman and went to Troutdale. At Troutdale we took the O. W. R. & N. and went to Latourelle. We saw and we passed them, Castle Rock and Rooster Rock. When we got to Latourelle we went up to the falls.

Latourelle Falls is 300 feet high, flowing from a cliff. There is a sort of a cave back of the Falls. The top of this cave looks like a lot of pillars of stone. We ate our lunch under the Falls. The water in the stream was cold. After we had eaten our lunch, we got on the main road and went a little way up a sort of butte. We drank of several different springs on our way up. The road was dusty, but we wanted to get where we could see the Columbia river and see the boats on it.
 About 1 o'clock we went down to the Columbia Slough. There we went in swimming until half past three, then we dressed and ate our lunch. By that time it was almost time for our train to come. We went up to the depot and waited until the train came.

While we were in swimming we saw an engine that held nine thousand gallons of water. It had four drive wheels on each side.
 We went back the same way we came arrived at Gresham at about 6 o'clock, tired but not hungry.
 HAROLD LYMAN, Age 10.

SOMETHING TO TIE TO

How are you Mr. Rancher? These unusual hot days ripens your grain quicker. The Deering binder will do your cutting well and the Deering well spun twine will bind your grain to stay bound until it is threshed. A good and well-paying combination to tie to is a Deering binder with Deering twine. Call at Hessel's Gresham, Oregon.

KELSO

The forest fire here Monday created some excitement. Some fences were burned, otherwise no damage was done.

Miss Hilma Angstrom of New York City is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Nelson, and other relatives.

An auto party of relatives and friends from Portland gave the Nelson family a pleasant surprise last Sunday.

Miss Nettie Lagerborg and Miss Anna Nystrom of Portland were guests of Mrs. Robert Jonsrud.

POWELL VALLEY

Gust Nelson is having a new barn built.

Miss Carrie Stafanson came out from town Wednesday evening to spend the remainder of the week with her home folks.

J. A. Stafanson has made quite an improvement on his place by putting up a new frontyard fence.

Faithfulness is What Counts.

The man who is always doing things with a view of making a reputation succeeds only in obtaining notoriety; while he who never thinks of anything but duty secures a reputation without being aware of it. A young man who shunned publicity and who did his work as he thought, out of sight of the world, recently passed away. In his last illness he was surprised to learn of crowds who came to express their sympathy—many of them people of whom he had never heard. They had quietly watched his quiet work and knew him not by his efforts to make himself known, but by his efforts to be faithful.—Exchange.

ATTENTION!

MT. HOOD NOTES

Ely Coalman is running the hotel at Government Camp and, with Lyman Davis, acts as guide to parties climbing the mountain.
 The travel is good to the mountains for this time of year. Welches and Rhododendron are the favorite resorts.
 The new Mt. Hood road is a very fine auto road from Cherryville to Rhododendron. It is wide and well graded, bridges have been rebuilt and it is an inviting trip by auto or team.
