Support the manufacturers of your home city first, last and all the time, and you will help yourself to prosperity. But if your local factories cannot supply your wants, insist that the merchant carries "Made in Oregon" goods from other Oregon sources to supply your needs.

The people of this city should buy "Made in Oregon" goods from the local merchants whenever the price and quality are equal to Eastern made goods.

SECTION LINE
 Mr. Benson is building a barn.
 Chris. Gesme had a series of accidents while in Portland with berries the other morning. While driving near the market place his horse slipped and fell breaking the shafts of the wagon. Later on the west side, a wheel of his wagon was caught in a curve of a car track in at last procured another wagon to such a way that the axle broke. He delivers his berries on.
 Hay is about over now. Most of it is in the barns or is stacked awaiting a baler. Grains are ripening fast. Raspberries are about all picked and blackberries are commencing to ripen.

The mail order houses of the East would not be so prosperous if people of this community would insist on having "Made in Oregon" goods from the local merchants. The business of this community would be better conserved if the public and the merchants would help along the "Made in Oregon" idea.

All property values depend upon the prosperity of the community. If our manufacturers are prospering, and the merchant likewise, the farmer will prosper, too. The persistent demand for goods "Made in Oregon" will help bring greater prosperity to the people of Oregon.

Home prosperity depends upon home industry, and state-wide prosperity will be greater if factories selling "Made in Oregon" goods are patronized by the local merchants.
