

FAIR TIME IS NEARING

The Grange Fair directors held an other meeting last Monday at which many matters which were not completely settled were attended to. The fair's hand elsewhere referred to in this paper was definitely engaged. The directors were decided on for Fraternal Fair which will go on Friday and Saturday. The fair will be held at the fair grounds and other attractions were engaged. Further arrangements were made for sending out the 3000 copies of the premium list which has been completed and many copies of which have already been circulated. The matter of advertising was taken up and orders have been placed for advertising matter which will be circulated and posted will do much toward distributing information concerning the fair at Gresham. Anyone who wants a premium list can get one by writing to F. G. Kardell, secretary, at the Bank of Gresham. A. F. Miller of Sellwood has taken up the work of soliciting exhibits and looking after arrangements. He will devote much of his time from this on toward making this fair the best one ever held in this section. He is now up to the growers of farm produce and the people in general to do their part. Substantial premiums have been offered for exhibits in all lines. Many new features have been added especially in the line of commercial packed products. The time is at hand when every exhibitor should begin to make selection of products and articles to be entered. Many fruits and garden products as well as grain can be selected now and if properly stored will easily keep in good condition until the fair which is less than four weeks ahead of us.

Better facilities for the display of all products will be provided and the barns and sheds for stock placement will be improved. Two water systems are to be in operation and good water free will be piped to all parts of the grounds. Feed will be provided at cost and with the substantial premiums offered they should be no hesitancy to the breeders of good stock to bring on their animals and make as big a show as possible. Out side of any premium obtained the advertising will be well worth the trouble as the races and other attractions will certainly bring thousands of people to visit the fair every day. The county has made its appropriation to this fair for the first time, the amusement club has put in a large amount of money on the race track and grandstand, the management has worked hard. Mr. Miller will give his utmost attention to details and we are bound to have a fair that will attract the attention of many visitors and the people of many distant parts to this section of the country. Let everybody talk fair, boost for the fair and come to the fair and bring something to show at the fair then we will have a fair that is a fair.

MISSIONARY TELLS OF EXPERIENCES

Miss Nellie Whiffin, a returned missionary from the Dominican Republic, W. I., gave a very interesting talk in the Free Methodist church Tuesday evening. She dwelt particularly on the customs and needs of her people. She and Rev. Mills and Miss Clark are the only missionaries in the central part of the island of San Domingo.

After giving a graphic description of the island, she told of the many revolutions, due to the mongrel class of people with a mixture of Spanish, Indian and native blood. Eighteen presidents had been chosen and elected since 44. There had been three presidents in one day. Some presidents have been very despotic in their rule, one in particular, she said was a veritable Nero. Have had four hundred men put to death because they opposed him. Because of unjust rule and ill treatment the people are restless and revolutionary. There is about 150 miles of railroad but no wagon road at all, nothing but muddy trails, at it was very interesting to listen to some tales of her travels in the isolated island.

The natives are poor and shiftless and ignorant and live in shacks with little to make life happy and comfortable, but the people are polished in their manners and shrewd in a trade.

She told how the people had been neglected and been imposed upon by the state church and because of this many had lost faith in religion.

The American government is turning their attention to this island because it is in direct line between the Panama canal and the old country and this island has a very important port which could be used as base of supply and coaling station for the United States.

SPECIAL ELECTION ON SEPTEMBER 18

The Gresham council met in special session last Tuesday night. Waldemar Seton, city attorney, was present and outlined the program for a new bond issue. There is considerable red tape to the procedure but it was through slight feature in this regard that the last issue was rejected.

The plan is to call a special election for Monday, September 18th. It is probable the citizens will be asked to vote on an issue of $20,000 for water.

No doubt seems to exist as to the outcome when all the conditions are fully met. If the bond issue is authorized by the voters on September 18th, the contracts can be let in a short time and the system put in the fall.

STRONG MAN RESISTS ARREST

The little town of Pleasant Home was the scene of considerable excitement Thursday evening and the excitement was of such a character that it was extended far into the night. It seems that one, Tony Moore by name, who is a boss on the Mt. Hood railroad and receives a handsome salary on account of his ability to handle the roughest of men, had been taking a lay-off and instead of providing as bountifully as he should for his family at Pleasant Home had been imbibing until his ugly nature in him had gotten the better of him and on his arrival home he proceeded to abuse his wife and family and threatened them with all manner of evil. His wife fled from the house and in his search for her he broke in the door of neighbor and seized and tore the clothing of another woman. After creating considerable disturbance he went to bed in an upper room and went to sleep. His wife put the children to bed and then consulted with some of the townspeople as to what should be done. It was decided to have him arrested and accordingly Justice Rollins was called upon by phone for a warrant and an officer. The warrant was issued and placed in the hands of Elick Gullickson who hastened to the scene of the trouble and with the aid of four assistants coolly went to the chamber, awakened the man, and informed him of the nature of the midnight visit.

Moore, who is a very large, strong and active man decided that he did not need to go and proceeded at once to clean out the house, knocking and pitching the aforesaid gentlemen down the stairs, smashing the railway and throwing an alarm clock at a man who had entered later to rescue the children. The clock struck the would-be rescuer in the face and inflicted a bad wound on the nose.

The officer and his men then with drew for a council of war, decided to send for the sheriff but in less than an hour it was found that the cause of all the excitement had gotten his clothes and taken his departure barefooted. Up to the present time he has not been located and what the outcome of the affair will be can only be conjectured. It is safe to say, however, that Pleasant Home will be watching for something to happen most any time.

NEW QUARTERS FOR NEWSPAPER

Gresham has developed unusual activity along newspaper and printing lines during the past week. The Beaver State Herald, a weekly journal and formerly "the leading newspaper in Eastern Multnomah county" has been moved with its entire printing outfit to Lents.

Lents is a much more populous center than Gresham and with his fine new building and the advantages of living near to his business there is little doubt but that the owner and publisher of that organ will be able to make good from every standpoint.

The new twice-a-week Gresham Outlook, which has been published regularly up to last Friday for nearly 6 months in three little rooms on the second floor of the Metzger building, has outgrown its cramped quarters and will now be found on the ground floor, Main street, in the north half of the Regner building. The work of moving so much heavy machinery and resetting the same made it absolutely necessary to omit last Tuesday's paper and our paper today is delayed somewhat on account of failure to get connections with the power lines until this morning. But things are on the move again.

The Grange Fair premium list is nearly all out of the way and the job work, which has been delayed somewhat, will soon be caught up with so that orders can receive prompt attention. It is expected that the paper will appear regularly on Tuesday and Friday hereafter.

The public are most cordially invited to call at the new Outlook office and your subscription, printing and advertising are respectfully solicited.

The Outlook force consists at present of H. L. St. Clair, editor and publisher; A. R. Lyman, business manager; Miss Emma Johnson, linotype operator, and Chase St. Clair, apprentice. The phone number is 701 and whether you call in person or use the phone, your call will be appreciated. The Outlook as in the past will endeavor to keep abreast with the times, to give the public, news while it is news. To help on every worthy enterprise calculated to build up the netire county from Portland to the mountains. In the effort that is being made to further all laudable purposes. The aid of everybody interested is sought for. Mutual helpfulness is the spirit in which all should live together and while the Gresham Outlook is looking for prosperity it desires to see others prosper also.
