

SCHOOL BEGINS NEXT MONDAY

The Gresham school opens Monday, September 11, with the best equipment in the history of the school. The elementary grades are in the hands of highly efficient and successful teachers, Misses Parmely, Hope Anderson, Frances Helmick, and Eva Campbell. The place made vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Wallace has not yet been filled.

In the high school many changes have been made. Two new teachers have been added to the corps and arrangements for manual training class with the necessary equipment have been made.

Mrs. C. B. Woodard returns and will teach the following subjects: Algebra, physical geography, physics, botany and chemistry. History and Latin will be taught by Miss Gertrude Holmes and Miss Beatrice Butler will teach English and German. Mr. G. R. Robinson, in addition to his work as principal and supervisor, will teach geometry, bookkeeping and will have charge of the manual training work.

Some changes have been necessitated with the increased attendance and the larger teaching corps.

The assembly hall has been seated in which the high school will be seated. Two rooms upstairs will be fitted up for high school recitation rooms and one on the first floor will be used for the same purpose. A portion of the basement is being partitioned off for the use of the manual training class.

Both the physics and chemistry laboratory are well equipped and up-to-date. Under such favorable circumstances and with so able a staff of teachers the Gresham school ought to make a record second to none of its size.

STOVE DEMONSTRATION ATTRACTS HOUSEKEEPERS

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. McMillan of Seattle, Washington, are conducting a very interesting demonstration this week at Sterling & Johnston's Hardware store in the new cement block. Mr. McMillan is one of the Seattle managers of the Arch Stove company of Detroit, Michigan, and Mrs. McMillan has taken charge of the cooking at this demonstration for the first time. She is doing this because no local woman could be found to do it. She came here with some misgivings in regard to her ability to make good as a demonstrator, but she is certainly doing fine as the many who have enjoyed her coffee and biscuits can testify.

Mr. McMillan is giving away to callers a free ticket which entitles the holder to a chance on a Laurel range to be given away at Sterling & Johnston's store Saturday at 3 p. m. This scheme ought to bring a crowd out Saturday as everyone will want to see who gets the range.

STUDENTS SEEK MORE LEARNING

In the percentage of students graduating from high school who go on to institutions of higher learning, Gresham is not to be beaten. Since the first class was graduated from the Gresham high school there has been some member or members to represent it each year in some college or university.

Out of a class of five graduating in 1908 three entered universities, John Shattuck and George Schantin going to the university of Oregon and Harley Turner of Pacific university. Each has made a splendid record. This year Mr. Schantin is to be instructor of the physics class in the academy at Eugene, beside finishing his last year of college work.

Mark Emery, Hope Myers, and Charles McColl are also attending Oregon university. Roy Johnson, Wilbur Thompson and Herbert Ryan of the class of 1911 will enter the same institution this fall. Earl Thompson returns to California to complete his work in the department of electrical engineering. Stella Roper begins her second year of work at Willamette university. Mave Lovelace and Mary Hansen will enter Willamette this fall.

Two Gresham students begin work at the Oregon Agricultural college, Lottie Davis and Loyl Schram. Several Gresham young people have attended the Oregon Agricultural college after having partly completed work in the local high school.

Gresham is not only making a good showing in the number of students doing collegiate work but also in the number of successful teachers sent out. Among those who will enter the teaching profession this fall are Maude Michel, Marian Robertson, Lillian Fredolph, May Kesterson and Gladys Richey all of whom graduated last June. Beside these are Florence Fieldhouse, Besse Osborne, Irene Knapp, Mary Harvey, Ethel Calkins and Hope Anderson, who are making good records as efficient teachers.

Gresham has a school of which she may be proud. The patrons have kept well abreast of the times and have voted all needed improvements which with their hearty co-operation with the teachers, without which no school can succeed, have helped to make Gresham high school an indispensable factor of our town.

GET NEXT TO THE MAN WHO HAS THE "DOUGH"

There is one man in Gresham whom the people of this city will do well to think of often. Some do now and some do not, but he who provides daily bread for all emergencies and is ready at all times to supply the empty larder of the housewife with good cooking or replenish the hotel and restaurant pantries when a rush comes on should not be despised by any one.

Paul Hoetzel, the baker man, on Main street, came here about a year and a half ago from Denver, Colorado, where he ran a restaurant and bakery for eight years. Mr. Hoetzel owns his own building here, is conducting a nice, clean and growing business, is a member of the Commercial club and takes an interest in public affairs.

His is a business which every city and town needs and we can safely say that he is worthy of the patronage of his fellow townsmen.

GRESHAM FAIR DATES NEAR

The P. R. L. & P. Co. has notified Secretary Kardell that it will make the same reduced rates as last year from all points to Gresham during the fair. This will mean about half the regular fare. An hourly service will be given and the late cars including the midnight car will run through to Portland.

Portland Rose City Camp Drill Team of the Modern Woodmen of America will compete in drills on "Fraternal Day"—Friday. Other teams are being lined up for the contest and the prospects are Friday will be a great day at the fair.

Concession privileges both in the pavillion and on the grounds are being taken up rapidly. Among those already signed up are a popcorn stand, peanut roaster, shooting gallery, merry-go-round and hamburger stand. Local parties are planning to have refreshment stands.

About ten days remain till the Fair opens. Are you getting ready to exhibit? Of course, you'll be there, and no exhibit will interest you quite so much as your own.

The Fair directors met last Tuesday and completed arrangements for many features of the fair. Those present were, Shattuck, Gill, Lewis, Townsend, Roberts, Howitt, Kardell.

Several Gresham business people will have exhibits. The Outlook will have a display. The Empire Cream Separator will have a Swiss milk maid show its goods.

E. L. Thorpe will be engaged by the Fair Association to superintend the dancing pavillion.

T. R. Howitt expects to attend the "Round-up" at Pendleton and secure some of the big attractions at that big show.

The Oak Grove Girls Band has been secured for Sunday, all day. They are very fine.

Governor West has been asked to speak either Saturday or Sunday.

Contract was made with M. C. Glover for a Merry-go-round.

Electric wiring is being done on the grounds.

WORKERS HOLD GOOD CONVENTION

The workers convention and Sunday school picnic held at Pleasant Home last Wednesday by the members of Rev. A. B. Calder's congregations at Hiff, Pleasant Home and Boring was fairly well attended, about 75 being present. On account of the recent rains the dinner and exercises were held in the Orient Grange hall instead of Kelley's grove as planned.

The program was carried out practically as planned except the address by C. P. Tollman, who was unable to be present on account of sickness in his family. The program seemed to be thoroughly enjoyed by those present and much interest was manifested in the thoughts and ideas presented by the different speakers. The address on Graded Sunday School work by Mr. Boring, Mrs. Bachmeyer's talk on the seeds of Our Own Land, was full of interest and afforded much for future thought and the matter of Systematic Giving was well handled by G. F. Bickford.

The convention closed by a well rendered selection by the Northrup family which was much appreciated. The dinner which the Outlook correspondent missed, much to his regret, was something bountiful.

It is the plan of Rev. Calder and his people to have one of these gatherings every three months and there is no doubt but that much good can be accomplished in this way.

HORSES FOR SALE—Eight head first-class work horses. Aaron Knight, Gresham.

GOOD PASTURE for rent at Anderson station. Ed. Osburn, phone 691.

FRUIT BANQUET COMES NEXT

A very enthusiastic meeting of the Gresham District Commercial club was held last Wednesday night. The attendance was not large but reports showed the club affairs in good shape. Plans were proposed for this winter's activities. Mr. Shattuck made some timely suggestions which will bear fruit in the future.

The club desires to build up a permanent exhibit of fruits and vegetables and steps will be taken to secure the best products from the fair.

The entertainment committee has arranged for a series of entertainments this fall and winter. There will be made popular and will be a great help.

The next meeting of the club will occur Wednesday night before the fair opens. It will be a "Fruit Banquet." All members are expected to be present.

BOYS ENGAGE IN GOVERNMENT WORK

Lonner and Russell Pugh, Wallace Wilkinson and Harold Kern returned early this week from their work at the north of Mt. Hood. They were in a party of about 25 surveying and clearing a trail through the timber. Their work was preliminary to a road which will connect portions now constructed from Portland and Hood River and eventually make one main thoroughfare between Portland and Hood River by way of the northern slope of Mt. Hood. Others will continue the work until snow stops it.

A part of the crew was called off about a week ago and put to fighting forest fires. Heavy rains occurred last Sunday and Monday which put out the fires.

The summer's work made a good outing for the boys and they have returned hale and hearty for the opening of school.

The road work will be taken up again next spring.

This is a good time to send in your name for a live, twice-a-week newspaper. Splendid combination offers of you want a city daily or weekly. The Outlook.

Don't forget to be on hand Saturday at 3 p. m. when the stove will be given away at Sterling & Johnston's.
