

BIG BUSINESS SOUGHT FOR

The big two-page ad. on the inside of the Gresham Outlook the first of the week came as a surprise and an eye opener to most people. Even the Outlook was delayed several hours on account of the immense and unusual task of setting so large an ad. on short notice.

This is the first time in the history of Gresham that a double page ad. has been put out by any business firm or by any newspaper and therefore marks an epoch in the printing business, as well as the mercantile business of Gresham.

This stock reducing sale will result in benefits to more than just the firm that is putting it on. Such reductions will undoubtedly do much to advertise the town and every business here will benefit thereby.

Shattuck & Lindsey will no doubt move for spot cash a large percentage of their immense stock and fill cash. The general public will benefit. The general public will benefit their treasury with much needed fit because it will be able to turn its ready cash into winter supplies at a great reduction and people will come to Gresham and spend their money here because here it will go the farthest. This sale should be a winner for everybody and convince even the most skeptical that it pays to advertise and also that it pays to trade in Gresham.

The wood sawing contest, a novel feature entered into by Mrs. Ira Brooks, Mrs. Hurst, Mrs. J. H. Schram and Miss Nellie Hunter was the feature of the evening. Sawing a piece of wood 2x4 off, occupied 25 to 35 seconds. Mrs. Brooks won a 5-pound box of bon bons in 25 seconds and aroused tremendous applause with Nellie Hunter a very close second. The saw was a rusty one and had sawed off several spikes before.

It is reported that Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunter will soon open the old Home hotel here, which will fill a long felt want and will be a blessing to the place.

R. W. Wilcox will spend Sunday at Vancouver with his family where his daughter, Miss Alta, is in the hospital.

COUNTY FARM NOW OCCUPIED

TROUTDALE, Nov. 9.—The last of the 211 inmates of the County Home arrived at their new residence at Multnomah Farm last Saturday afternoon. Seventy-five of the patients are confined to their beds and were moved by means of auto trucks to the station of the P. R. L. & P. Co., on East Water street and Hawthorne avenue, where they were placed in three furniture cars, chartered for the purpose. So carefully were the sick and disabled ones handled and so quickly and easily were they transferred to their new home, that only slight discomfort was caused, in fact, the ride was somewhat of a treat to some of these poor shut-ins to whom a change is so welcome. A passenger car, coupled onto the three box cars, bore those of the patients who were able to sit up. A few of the weakest of the tubercular patients were brought out in an auto ambulance. The able bodied charges and the employees came out by way of the electric line early in the week and had everything in readiness for the arrival of the sick ones and they were so quickly and easily placed in their new beds in their new rooms here as they were taken from their old home. Supt. D. D. Jackson, assisted by H. B. Griffin and a corps of nurses and attendants looked after the removal of the patients and Mrs. Jackson very capably managed the work of having them moved from the cars into their new quarters.

About an inch of the beautiful white cover was spread over the ground this morning in this locality and though soon melted by the warm sunshine, gave the boys an opportunity to enjoy a little of the sport of winter. Some will remember that eleven years ago snow came about this time. The first snow flurries more usually come in this locality about Thanksgiving time.

JURY DUTY IS HARD TASK

John Brown is quite like himself again now that his work as clerk of the last Federal grand jury is over. He was on the jury in Judge Bean's court about six weeks and his work was especially arduous as he was chosen clerk. He tried hard to get off on account of building and sickness in the home but was excused, probably because he was the only man from Multnomah county.

During the term about 180 witnesses were called. Forty true bills were returned and about fifteen held on account of insufficient evidence. These were all government cases and kept the lawyers and judge very busy. There were 21 jury men from various parts of eastern Oregon.

ARATA FARM WELL LIGHTED

Arata Brothers have such a complete lighting system established on their farm that by turning on a button in the house the whole place is lighted up. The electricity is supplied by the P. R. L. & P. Co., this company being guaranteed $25 per month for electric power used for lights alone. Not only are these lights installed in the buildings on the place, but they are strung along all the roads leading through the place. Several thousand dollars have been expended in remodeling the residence which has been made into a mansion of the colonial type and is very richly and elegantly furnished.

Funeral services were held from Iliff church at Melrose Wednesday at 11 o'clock, conducted by Rev. J. H. Wood.

The reading room is open Sunday afternoon from 2:30 to 5:30. It is just the place to spend an hour or two looking over the books, magazines and papers. The opening of the reading room Sunday afternoon is thought to be a step in the right direction and the people should make good use of the privilege. A competent person is in charge.

In spite of the rough weather yesterday there was a good attendance at the Missionary meeting at Mrs. W. K. Hamilton's and a splendid meeting was held.

WILL OPEN NEW ADDITION

The purchase by Jas. Elkington and others of the S. S. Thompson tract of 20 acres west of town, referred to in the Outlook a week ago, has been confirmed and it is now definitely stated that this and possibly adjoining tracts will be platted and placed on the market in the near future.

A corporation has been formed to handle this proposition. Among those interested are Jas. Elkington, W. A. Proctor and S. S. Thompson.

This is one of the most slightly residence tracts in Gresham and the company's plans are in keeping with the attractiveness of the location. Building restrictions will be imposed. It is proposed to open Second street through to the Smith road. Part of the tract will be laid off in acres and half acres and part of it in lots.

All this is to be undertaken at once as those back of this project are energetic men and know they have a good thing. All provisions will be made for the most beautiful and modern residence district in or near Gresham.
