

ANDREW B. GIBBS CALLED BY DEATH

The death of A. B. Gibbs occurred at his home south of Gresham Tuesday night at 12 o'clock. Death resulted from pneumonia from which he suffered for little more than a week. His children were all present at the time of his death except one daughter and he passed away very peacefully.

Andrew B. Gibbs was a pioneer in this locality coming here 33 years ago. He was 81 years old and was born in New York state. He spent most of his life at Morrison, Illinois, before coming to Oregon in 1878. He took up a homestead where he has since resided. He married his second wife, Sarah Hulet, in 1850. To them were born two sons and six daughters. The wife died about 20 years ago and one daughter, Mrs. Lena Heiney, died about two years ago.

Those left to mourn the departure of a kind father are R. W. Gibbs, Frank E. Gibbs, Mrs. Lulu White and Mrs. Katie Robinson, of Gresham; Mrs. G. R. Dixon and Mrs. Adie Dunn, of Portland; Mrs. Nettie Schwabel, of Tacoma. A daughter, Mrs. Mina Stoessiger, lives at Glen Ellyn, Illinois.

Mr. Gibbs was well known in this locality. He was a kind hearted neighbor and a friend to everyone. Of a cheerful disposition, he always had a good word for everyone. He had traveled much during his last years and was always pleasant to meet. He will be missed by all who knew him. All join in true sympathy with the children who mourn his departure.

The funeral was held at the undertaking chapel of R. R. Carlson on Thursday at 2 p. m. Rev. David Cathey, an old neighbor of the deceased, delivered the sermon. Burial was at Gresham.

Armoek-Stockton Nuptials.

A pretty wedding was performed Wednesday evening, November 29, 1911, at the Methodist Episcopal parsonage when Frank Armoek of Hillsboro, Oregon, and Miss Dora Stockton of Rockwood, Oregon, were united in marriage. The beautiful ring ceremony was used by Rev. Geo. F. Hopkins, who officiated. The happy young couple will live at Camas, Washington.

Estacada Saloonmen in Trouble.

The Estacada Progress in referring to the arrest of the Estacada saloonmen says that the license each paid was $1500. They are not charged with violating any city ordinance. The whole question is one determining the city's authority to legally license saloons in what is claimed to be dry territory. The proprietors, Yanke, Kuhrasch and Courtemarsh will appear before the grand jury at Oregon City on Monday, December 4.

Outlook Free till January 1st

During the next two months or until December 31, 1911, we have decided to offer the Outlook FREE, ABSOLUTELY FREE, until January 1st, 1912, to all new subscribers who send us $1.50, one year's subscription, paid in advance.

To present subscribers who are in arrears, if you also send us the money for your subscription to date and $1.50 extra we will send you the Outlook until Jan. 1, 1913, and to all others who have already paid a subscription we will send on receipt of $1.50 additional the Outlook for 14 months from the date now on your label.

We make this exceptional offer in face of the fact that we are receiving new subscriptions every day, but we are anxious to double our list of subscribers and we feel that this will give those who are in the habit of making their subscriptions expire Jan. 1st an opportunity to get the Outlook during the coming winter without altering any of their arrangements. Thanking those who have given their earnest support to this new twice-a-week home paper thus far we earnestly solicit your continued good will and patronage and trust that you will spread the news of this excellent opportunity to get started on a clean new way and all home print, up-to-date paper.

The usual combinations will be continued with this offer.

Revival Meetings Begin Sunday

Rev. Alexander Beers, president of Seattle seminary, will begin a series of revival meetings Sunday, December 3, at 11 a. m., at the Free Methodist church. Mr. Beers was converted at Gresham over thirty years ago and begun preaching at once. He is largely a selfmade man and has been very successful in the ministry. He is a strong and interesting speaker and stands well in the fore front in the church to which he belongs. Mr. Beers has the work, which he represents, at heart and it will be a privilege to meet him again and enjoy his ministrations. Everybody is cordially invited to attend these services and enjoy a feast of good things.

Farmers! remember the meetings of the Farmers' Society of Equity, Saturday, December 2 at Gresham; Wednesday, December 6 at Boring and Corbett, and Wednesday, December 13 at Orient. Delegates will be elected at these meetings for a county convention.

When a medicine must be given to young children it should be pleasant to take. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is made from loaf sugar, and the roots used in its preparation give it a flavor similar to maple syrup, making it pleasant to take. It has no superior for colds, croup and whooping cough. For sale by Gresham Drug Company and all Dealers.

MANY NEW HOUSES BUILT DURING YEAR

The past year has been an active one in building in Gresham. New houses are seen in all sections of the city. Some new additions, recently laid out, are dotted with pretty bungalows and they have been occupied as soon as ready. Contractors and carpenters from neighboring towns have supplemented the large force of resident contractors and builders and the sound of hammers and saw has made welcome music for all.

About 40 dwellings and ten business buildings are the result of the year's activity in this line. The new houses are mostly within the town limits.

Among those outside the limits are several houses south of Gresham. One is now being built by Dan Metzger and will be occupied by Emil Oswald. It is a six-room bungalow, modern in style.

Almost opposite this is the new bungalow occupied by L. C. Metzger and built by him. This is a six-room dwelling with full basement and every convenience of a modern residence, including hot and cold water, hot water heating, electric lights and bath room. Mr. Metzger has done much of the work. The house has an attractive exterior finish of board sawed siding and the interior finish in natural fir is one of the prettiest to be seen anywhere.

A little farther south is the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Bratzel, which was built by their son, Fred Bratzel, who is an architect and builder. The plans for this home were furnished by Rev. F. H. Freund. It is a story and a half bungalow of very attractive design and has every appearance of being a comfortable home. It is equipped with all modern conveniences.

In the Tia Juana tract, which was laid out about a year ago, three new homes have been built. The one built by Jas. Robinson, and occupied by him, is a very substantial $1200 residence. Allen Hallaway and Mrs. Parker have each built attractive thousand dollar bungalows.

As one approaches town from the south he is impressed with the rapid growth in that direction and the many new houses on every hand.

One of the finest residences built in Gresham is that of Dr. S. P. Bittner on the west side of south Roberts avenue. This is a ten-room bungalow built by F. D. Axtell. The inside finish is of the very latest style, including beam finish overhead in the spacious dining room. This is separated from the larger reception room by an archway with pillar effects. Many large windows give ample light. The exterior is finished in rough bevel siding and stained. The combined veranda and porch of generous proportion gives the dwelling an unusually attractive appearance.

Next to Dr. Bittner's, M. D. Kern, the lumber man, is building a modern bungalow. It will be a story and a half, 30x36 foot frame.

Across the street, E. W. Aylsworth is having a fine residence built. There will be a large porch in front with posts on concrete base. No detail will be omitted to make this six-room bungalow a fine modern residence strictly in keeping with those surrounding it.

Other houses built in Lawrence's addition are, a neat cottage for T. H. Dodge and one for F. E. Todd.

In Thompson's addition A. H. Gould has built and occupies a pretty bungalow; C. C. Cone built a house last summer, and W. A. Proctor built a 5-room cottage for H. H. Gentry. Dr. A. Thompson has put up a good house in Whitehead's addition; W. H. Karr doing the work.

Three other residences have been built in this section of town. Chas. McCarter built a cottage on property purchased of S. B. Johnson. Mr. McCord is erecting a cottage on Powell street next to his store building. "Dad" Hockinson has built him a cozy dwelling place back of Blake's livery barn on Roberts avenue.

On south Main street near the O. W. P. depot an up-to-date cottage has been built by the company as a residence for its agent. It is an inviting cottage on the hillside, with steps leading up to the broad veranda.

Two other dwelling places have been constructed on this part of Main street during the past summer. One is occupied by A. Leland and the other by F. Lambert.

When a carpenter of large experience, undertakes to plan and build a residence for himself he is likely to get a good one. This is the case with J. G. Metzger who has one of the finest residences in town. It is built on the most approved modern plan and has every convenience that could be desired. He has been building and finishing it at odd times. It is finished in natural wood throughout. This is a ten-room house and the rooms are large and well lighted. A full sized basement is under it, containing heating plant and washing conveniences. Mr. Metzger, with his brother Harve, has helped build many a fine house in Gresham and new has one of the best to enjoy as his own.

Next to Metzger's is Mrs. Osborn's pretty bungalow now occupied and next to it is Will Hockenson's which is well under way.

On Main street some of Gresham's prettiest homes have been built during the past summer. Among them are the residences of Dr. Will Ott and Dr. H. H. Ott, both modern bungalows. John Brown's new residence, near the Mt. Hood line is now nearly completed. These are entirely modern and of attractive design. They are a decided addition to the main thoroughfare of the city.

In Regner's addition two other houses have been added to the long list. A. M. Wilkinson's was built last spring and Fred Fieldhouse's is now being completed.

In Mt. Hood addition, W. K. Hamilton has been building a bungalow on Fifth street for Mrs. Bradford. It will soon be ready to live in. Earlier in the summer E. C. Lindsey built a cottage for Frank Heiney, near Third street.

A year ago there was not a house in the Zenith addition. Now there are five dwellings and one more being started. The finest of these is being built by Emmet Kelly for himself. It is a story and a half bungalow entirely modern and will be one of the most costly bungalows in town.

Carroll S. Smith has a showy and commodious bungalow, fronting on Main street at the corner of Fourth. W. E. Wood has built a very neat cottage on Kelly avenue. Other dwellings built in this addition: the past summer are Claude Smith's W. W. Wood's and Roy Wood's.

In Cleveland's addition five dwellings have sprung up during the summer. These were mostly built by E. T. Jones & Co., for Chas. Cleveland. Mr. Jones, senior, and Etzel T. have built residences for themselves. The others have been built for sale or rent.

Mr. Hall, on Fifth street, completed a house last spring, and Mr. Cooley has a handsome new bungalow near the end of Third street. D. C. Ross last spring made over an old building into a large rooming house now occupied by Walkers.

Several homes have been started in the Gedamke addition, one by A. R. Lyman on his five-acre tract. G. H. Sunday has built a five-room house and Mrs. Aton an eight-room house and A. W. Cook a small house, all in this part of town.

Nearly ten other houses are just being started or will be begun this winter and the prospect now is that next year's building activity will eclipse this year's.

In this summary of the house-building during the past ten or twelve months no mention has been made of several residences that have been moved and nearly made new.

The new residences number about forty.

A conservative estimate puts the cost of these new dwellings at about fifty thousand dollars. Many of them range between $2,000 and $3,000.

In addition to the dwellings, nearly ten business buildings have been erected during the summer at a cost of approximately $40,000.

G. N. Bell Has Narrow Escape.

G. N. Bell is improving as fast as could be expected from a bad skull fracture sustained last Saturday night. Mr. Bell fell upon alighting from the rig, striking his head a hard blow. The skull is fractured from his ear to the nasal bone and the cords of his neck are swollen and he suffers much pain. Dr. Belt, who is attending him, says the danger is passed, but that Mr. Bell had a very narrow escape from instant death.

FUNERAL OF SCOTT ATON

The funeral of Scott Aton, who died Monday at 9 a. m. was held Wednesday at 11 o'clock in the Gresham M. E. church. Rev. W. H. Hampden of Linton M. E. church, Portland, an old time friend and pastor of the deceased officiated. He was assisted by the pastor, Rev. G. F. Hopkins, and Rev. F. M. Burtch pastor of the Bethel Baptist church.

Mr. Aton had been a resident of Gresham only a few months, but the funeral was attended by a large number of friends and acquaintances of the family, both from Gresham and Boring. Among the number were many old Kansas acquaintances who came to pay their last respects to a departed friend and neighbor.

Rev. Hampden spoke from the words of Paul, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course". His address was full of comfort and encouragement for those who live right and die as Mr. Aton died, in the faith of Jesus Christ. He characterized the departed as a man of honesty and integrity and one who was not only loved by his neighbors in Kansas, but greatly missed when he moved away. He spoke of his unwavering faith in God and his assurance of salvation as strong points in his character.

Rev. Hopkins and Rev. Burtch each in a few words bore testimony to the faith of Mr. Aton and they who mourn have that strong consolation that comes to those who know that death has only opened the door to the mansions above.

Interment was made in the Gresham cemetery.

This is the third member of the families of Mrs. Aton and Mr. J. F. Wilmarth, Mrs. Aton's brother, whom these families have buried within the last eight months. First was Walter Wilmarth, son of J. F. Wilmarth, second, Mrs. Clarence Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aton, and lastly, Mr. W. S. Aton. This series of circumstances makes this last all the harder for the loved ones to bear.

Winfield Scott Aton was born August 29, 1852, in Alleghany county, Pennsylvania. When a small child he moved with his parents to Illinois, where they lived five years and then removed to Missouri where he and Ella Wilmarth, who in later years became his wife, grew to manhood and womanhood in the same neighborhood, and were playmates together. They were united in marriage February 19, 1882, in Macon county, Missouri. They made their home in Lancaster county, Nebraska, where they lived four years when they moved to Colby, Kansas, and two years ago, they came to Portland, Oregon. Last December they purchased a home near Gresham where they have since lived.

Mr. Aton died at 9:15 Monday evening, November 27, 1911. The deceased had been in poor health for twelve years and for several years has been unable to work.

He was converted and became a member of the M. E. church about 29 years ago and was still a member at the time of his death.

To Mr. and Mrs. Aton was born one daughter, who grew to womanhood, was married to Clarence Hill and died at her home in Gresham July 18, 1911, leaving two small children, grandchildren of Mr. Aton, who with his beloved wife, four sisters, one of whom was with him at his bedside, and a brother, still survive him.

Schwidling-Russell Marriage

A quiet wedding occurred Wednesday afternoon at the residence of A. J. Stout, near Hogan station. The contracting parties were Joe Schwidling, one of the head men at the Columbia Brick Works and Jennie Russell of Portland, but recently of California. Justice Rollins read the ceremony in the presence of a few invited guests including Mrs. Merrill of Portland. The happy couple took the first car for Portland but will return the first of the week to take up their residence in Mr. Stout's new house. Mr. Stout having rented his place preparatory to going to California.
