"The Linotype
Way is the Way that Wins."

Gresham, Oregon, under the act of March 3, 1879.

COMMERCIALISM.

There is an evident tendency to commercialize almost everything in the world today. Nothing is too sacred or revered to be degraded into an advertisement for somebody's wares. Everything is turned to business account.

A store is not satisfied with emblazoning everything with pictures of Santa Claus but a real live Santa is made into a sandwich man and parades the streets placarding and ringing a bell—just for advertising purposes!

Some people think Santa is out of date, but this is evidently Santa up-to-date.

Enterprising stores used the fact that Gipsy Smith was a successful evangelist as means of leading gain.
It is not uncommon to see a noted person a part of a pair of a pair of glasses or a set of false teeth and then advertise it as a paraphrase and a big recommendation.
Bah! on all such foolishness.
Why not keep advertising within its legitimate channels and not com-mercialize everything in sight?
There are other things besides the flag that should be exempted from such use.

Governor West, who has been absent from the state nearly a month returned Wednesday to Salem. He speaks very enthusiastically of his trip through the East on the Governor's special, and says there should have been eight or ten exhibit cars in the train. Over 100,000 people visited the cars and millions were reached through the press as the newspapers fairly "ate" it up. The governor finds Eastern capital much interested in the West and the great advantages to be derived by bringing these interests together was made much of. The completion of the Panama canal and its influence in bringing these two sections nearer together is much appreciated throughout the East.

CHRISTMAS REMINDERS

Don't forget to use the Red Cross Christmas stamps on your Christmas packages. The proceeds of the sale go to aid in the care of tubercular sufferers. The proceeds of their sale in Portland and Gresham will be used for local work. Don't forget that the Christmas gift that will bring you greatest joy and satisfaction is that made to someone in need, someone likely to be overlooked, someone from whom you have no reason to expect any more than a sincere "Thank you."

Don't forget that Gresham is a good place to do your Christmas shopping. There are still many good and useful as well as really beautiful presents to be selected. If you have to go to the great glittering city, do so. See the sights, but spend your money at home where it is needed. Ten to one it will pay you from every standpoint.

Don't forget to send the children to the Sunday school Christmas exercises. The Baptist Sunday school will hold its exercises at the Baptist church tomorrow (Saturday) night and the Methodist Sunday school at the same time at the Methodist church.

Don't forget while you enjoy your happy Christmas, giving and receiving presents, that the real spirit of Christmas is LOVE. That the worth of a gift is not its cost but the love that prompted it.

Nathan Harvey, who lives near the scene of the Hill tragedy, last summer, has been placed in the Clackamas county jail to await the action of the grand jury. He is suspected of having committed the crime. Mr. Harvey is well known in this section and it is to be hoped that he can prove his innocence.
Not that the perpetrator of such a deed should not be brought to justice and suffer the full penalty, whoever he may be, but it is greatly regretted that a man of Mr. Harvey's standing should be implicated in such an affair.

Boys who smoke cigarettes can no longer hold a messenger job with the Western Union, Portland. Those who indulge after a warning will be dismissed. Business men are coming more to realize that cigarette smoking is both obnoxious and expensive, not only to the user but to those who employ him, expensive because it decreases his efficiency and trust worthiness. It will not be long before the cigarette nuisance and use of tobacco by minors will be taken up by the progressive people of this state as it is being in many eastern states.

In a recent special message to congress President Taft advocates a reduction in wool tariffs but he adheres to the policy that this revision should be based upon the comparative cost of production at home and abroad. Some of the wool schedules in force are declared prohibitive and defects in ad valorem duties are discussed showing that such a duty involves hardship on the producer at a time when he needs relief and benefits him only when he needs it the least.

It will be good mental exercise and will improve the moral tone of your Christmas enjoyment if you will try to think how much better off you are now than you were a year ago, how much better off you are than the great majority of your fellow human beings and how much better off you may possibly be one year from now.

Our good friends notice and sometimes mention the errors that slip into the Outlook. Newspaper work is often done in a great hurry without the opportunity to read and revise. Even the morning Oregonian of Wednesday had in its date line on the front page January 20, 1911, instead of December 20.

We are nearing the time of good resolutions. Perhaps the best preparation for the event is to look back and think of the broken resolves and try to find out why they were broken. A good resolution may help but it should be backed up with at least a probability of being kept.

Those who are getting very anxious for rain are urged to wait patiently a little longer.

Love Song of the Angels

It came upon the midnight clear, That glorious song of old,
From angels bending near the earth,
To touch their harps of gold.
Peace to the earth, good will to men, From heaven's all gracious king,
The world in solemn stillness lay,
To hear the angels sing.

Still through the cloven skies they come
With peaceful wings unfurled, And still their heavenly music floats O'er all the weary world.
Above its sad and lowly plain, They bend on heavenly wing And ever o'er its babel sounds The blessed angels sing.

Yet with the wiles of sin and strife
The world has suffered long, And ye! beneath life's crushing load Beneath the angel train have rolled Two thousand years of wrong, And men at war with men, hear not The love song which they bring, Oh, hush the noise ye men of strife,
And hear the angels sing.

Whose forms are bending low, Who toil along the climbing way With painful steps and slow, Look now! for glad and golden hours Come swiftly on the wing.
Oh, rest beside the weary road
And hear the angels sing.

For lo! the days are hastening on,
By prophet bards fore told,
When with the ever circling years Comes round the age of gold, When peace shall over all the earth Its ancient splendors fling, And the whole world send back the song Which now the angels sing.

Studying Canker.

Whether bark canker is a primary or secondary disease is to be determined by experiments now being carried on by H. L. Reese of the plant pathology department at the Oregon Agricultural College. He has inoculated the bark of some pear and apple trees for this purpose, over 40 being treated.

Native black marble in great quantities has been discovered in Wallowa county. This promises to be a valuable asset of that section of the state. Present supplies of black marble come from Belgium and Alaska and the new find will undoubtedly supplant the product of these two places, since freight is big item in the handling of this heavy stone.

There is a good deal of common sense in the flaying of Governor West in the Oregonian on his policy of announcing to the criminals of the world that they are immune from the death sentence in Oregon.
Some of the suspects which the officers now have in jail if they are found guilty certainly deserve nothing better than the gallows. To announce before hand that punishment will be abrogated is only to encourage lawlessness and it would seem that the governor of our commonwealth could at least be content to deal with each case on its merits, rather than grant beforehand wholesale commutation.

Portland will be called upon to entertain 60,000 visitors at the time of the Elk's convention next July.
It is estimated. Advances received from several hundred lodges throughout the country indicate that the railroads will be required to provide parking space for fully 1,000 Pullman sleepers during that week.
More than 100 special trains are already being arranged to bring delegates and visitors.

Watch the Outlook for the news.

that worth something to you?

The first course in highway chemistry that has ever been offered in any college in the world has just been announced at the Oregon Agricultural College. Prof. John Falton of the chemistry department has taken this step as a result of the increased demand for good roads.
The course includes both physical and chemical tests of tars, bituminous products, asphalt, and all mixtures such as sands, gravels, rocks, and other ingredients of the modern highway. Concrete testing and tests of the chemical changes in all these substances by exposure and weather will form an important part of the work, as will also the chemical study of surface protection, such as viscous oils.

Profits in Poultry Raising

The profits are there, and the profits are great; but to get them you must apply right methods.
You cannot learn from a book. Rule-of-thumb methods take time and often end disastrously.
The right way is to be guided by poultry experts who have already "made good." That is the kind of instruction the International Correspondence Schools offer in their course of 21 home lessons in poultry raising. The course covers everything on poultry raising, from eggs to profits.
You start with, how few or how many birds it doesn't matter how few or how many birds and make it pay from the word "Go." The value of this course to you is beyond estimation. You soon get the price back, and more.
In increased profits, and the knowledge that will keep those profits coming your way. Start poultry raising right this way, then there'll be no failure—no halfway success—but the greatest success. For free descriptive circular, write the

A gigantic water system to supply Willamette Valley cities from Clear Lake, in the Cascade Mountains, has been outlined to the state Board of Health. If the scheme is adopted, the water will be brought from the lake, almost at the summit of the Cascades, and distributed to the valley towns from Springfield to Salem. A committee will investigate the proposition.
