

The Christmas Plum Pudding.
How to make a Christmas plum pudding is told by Miss Keren Davis of Portland, a senior in the domestic science department at the Oregon Agricultural College, in an article on "Christmas Cakes and Plum Puddings" in the December Oregon Countryman. The ingredients, which are to be combined in the order given and steamed four hours, are as follows: Three eggs, 3 cups flour, 1 cup chopped suet, one-half cup candied lemon, 1 cup each of molasses and sweet milk, 1 cup of citron, one-third teaspoon spices, 1 cup raisins, 2 teaspoons cream tartar, 1 cup currants, 1 cup brown sugar.

The Outlook is making a specialty of Butter Wrappers. We use the best quality of paper, large size, neatly printed. Prices, 1000, $3.00; 500, $1.75; 250, $1.35; 100, $1.00.

"The Linotype Way is the Way that Wins."

Entered as second-class matter March 3, 1911, at the post office at Gresham, Oregon, under the act of March 3, 1879.

THE TALKING HABIT.

We Americans especially are great talkers. And no wonder, we have a great deal to talk about. Our newspapers simply boil down and preserve the many things being talked about. They are not originators but disseminators of information.

The talking habit is seen in the extensive use of the telephone. A vast amount of business is done by phone in all parts of this country and in Europe. It is quicker and as indispensable in the business life of today as are the railroads.

The phone is taking the place of the telegraph in a great many instances. Train despatching is done by phone on many of the large railroads and most of the smaller ones. Business communications and newspaper reports are phoned from city to city. The systems have spread until there is scarcely a country community without its local system with long distance connections.

It is interesting to note that the American Telephone and Telegraph company announces that within a year it will make it possible to talk from New York to San Francisco.

In England all the telephones of that country will pass over to the government beginning the first of the year. The government will open a line with Berlin as it now has with Paris. Many improvements are being planned and it is expected to make the telephone a very popular utility. How the government ownership will work will be carefully watched. All employees become public servants.

Nor may we overlook the rapid development of the wireless system, which will in time doubtless supersede the present cumbersome system, advantageous as it may be.

Recently in New York the inventor of a new wireless telephone instrument was placed with his machine in the vault of a commercial house. Between him and the outside were nine inches of steel, nine inches of brick and six feet of concrete. Yet so sensitive were his instruments that the ticking of a watch could be heard through all the barriers.

It is our firm belief that wireless telegraphy with the use of a code alphabet will in time be outdone by the talking system.

Quite a number of Terry's young people were planning on attending the Christmas entertainment at the Cedar school house, but were disappointed on account of the rain. They were, the Misses Gladys Holgate, Frances Bliss, Gladys Bliss, Susie Stanley and Rosa Coons, Messrs Earl Stanley, Wilbur Stanley, Ernest Brugger, Ralph Stanley and Louis Calkins.

Chas. Harris had the misfortune to break his little finger on Christmas day when he was trying to stop his horse from running away.

Mrs. J. T. Friel, Jr., gave an entertainment and supper last Monday evening at which some twenty-five or thirty persons were present and a very pleasant evening was passed. Dancing and singing was enjoyed and three natives of Syria danced and sang after the manner of their country.

A party of thirteen of the late Mrs. Friel's children, grandchildren and friends visited her grave in Cherryville cemetery Christmas afternoon and decorated it with flowers.
