GRANGE STUDIES TREE PLANTING

Russellville grange met at 8 p. m. Saturday, February 3, with Master John Welbes in the chair. It was a raw evening and many of the members stayed at home, but those that attended were glad to be there.

An interesting discussion on pruning and spraying was taken part in by most of the brothers present. W. H. Addis led the discussion on pruning and H. A. Lewis on spraying.

The report of the finance committee was heard and the finances of the year just past proved very satisfactory. When W. H. Addis took the chair a year ago the grange was in debt in the general fund. As Mr. Addis retires there is $55.40 in the general fund, while the special fund has been increased and the building fund is near $100 larger.

There were no contests for membership and it was considered an "off year," but matters might have been worse. Starting the new year in such good condition a more prosperous and profitable year is confidently looked for. It is proposed to have a reunion of all the members, with "eats" to attract the wayward, on the first Saturday evening in March.

Rockwood Grange

The brothers and sisters of Rockwood grange have taken sides in a spirited literary contest for a supper, the losing side to pay for it after a series of entertainments to last several months. The first of the series was given on Wednesday evening of this week by the gentlemen who acquitted themselves in excellent style, but they expect defeat before the contest ends. The program consisted wholly of readings and recitations, the following being the literary feast set before the grange and a large number of visitors: Readings by Martin Multhauf, F. H. Crane, George Crane and E. L. Thorpe; recitations by Theodore Stensland and Thomas Rowan.

After the program there was an hour of dancing which was thoroughly enjoyed by the young people. The next contest to be given by the sisters, will come off on the first Wednesday evening in March.

Pastor is Praised

An ardent supporter of the Methodist church and friend of its pastor, Dr. Geo. F. Hopkins, sends the following letter which expresses the sentiment of many in Gresham and vicinity:

"It is not very often that a small congregation, or small town, is favored with the 'Cream of the Wheat' as the members and friends of the M. E. church feel they are, with their pastor, Dr. Geo. F. Hopkins. Truly there seems no excuse now for the people of the town of Gresham to go to Portland to hear a fine sermon for it would be hard to find 'even in the larger churches of Portland' a more soul-inspiring sermon or one better delivered than may be heard right at home. And while patronizing the home industry and home business, let us patronize the home churches.

Dr. Hopkins has always held the very best of appointments in the East, and has come to the coast for the health of his wife. What is his loss is our gain. Let us all avail ourselves of the opportunity, while we have have the chance, which may not always be ours."

A convention to consider the question of immigration, as it will affect the Pacific Coast following the opening of the Panama Canal, has been called to meet at Tacoma, February 21-22. The governors of California, Oregon, Idaho and Washington, also the lieutenant governor of Canada, have been invited. It is hoped to secure the endorsement of the bill introduced by United States Senator Brown to create a division of information, under the direction of the Department of Commerce and Labor, the function of which shall be to gather, from all available sources, useful information regarding the resources, products and characteristics of each state, publish such information in the different languages and distribute it among the admitted aliens.

He Got the Job

A young man having applied to a wholesale house for a position recently found himself before the manager for examination. "Have you a bank account?" was his first question. "I have," was the reply. "Let me see your bank book," was the next request. After glancing over it and noting the long list of regular, though small deposits, he said: "Young man, you are engaged, and I want to compliment you on your saving ability. I always insist upon employing only men who have the good sense to save their money." We invite every young man in this community to open an account at this bank.
