THOUGHT FAIRVIEW MAN MARRIED, BUT--

FAIRVIEW, March 29.—A good joke has leaked out on some ambitious but hasty Fairview citizens. Last Saturday it was rumored around town that one of our townsmen had gone to Portland to be married. On arriving home in the evening in an auto fully proved to the minds of those interested that such was a fact. Phones became busy at once and about 8 o'clock a jolly crowd of thirty assembled and began to make hilarious demonstrations. After thirty minutes and no response, they repaired to Edwin Burlingame's where it was renewed with greater vigor. In order to save the neighbors further embarrassment the supposed groom lighted his lights and fired several shots to draw the crowd. On their return, the captains demanded to be introduced to the bride after some parlying they were invited in and introduced to a gentleman who was spending the night with the Fairview citizen and whom they had spied through the window earlier in the evening. Now, who pays for the drinks? The aforesaid citizen thinks the treats will be coming his way for about three months.

J. H. Stapleton of Portland was out Sunday looking after his property here. He has purchased a lovely home on E. 51st. While here he rented his lots to J. H. Schram, who will cultivate them this summer and may run a truck wagon during the summer.

Many Fairview citizens are one the move. G. W. Wilcox moves to his newly acquired home at Woodstock, Geo. Bills moved to Portland, Rev. Robinson moves into the Snow property, Mrs. N. N. Hall will return to Fairview and occupy her property here now occupied by Rev. Robinson and Mrs. Cree to be in the swim, has moved his stable across his lots fronting on the east.

A very pleasant evening was spent by the members of the Y. P. S. C. E. with their friends at a St. Patrick's social last Friday night. An Irish supper was served, after which a program composed of the following numbers was rendered: Piano duet, McGinties' First Love, Misses Ruth Shaw and Laura Dolph solo and chorus, McManary's Band, Rev. Thos. Robinson; recitation, Pat Flynn's Bondsman, Miss Nancy Anderson; vocal solo, Miss Laura Dolph; drill, Dance of the June Bugs, eight little girls, Mrs. J. Armond, director; chorus, Dublin Bay, recitation, St. Patrick's Birthday, Esther Shaw; chorus, Molly Malone, dialogue, Pat Dolan's Wedding, Misses Frances and Gladys Bliss, Ada Robinson, C. H. Stone, W. E. Tegart; chorus, That Sweet Bunch of Shamrock; reading, The Retort Dis. Corneous, Ivy Cornett; chorus, Anybody Here Seen Kelly. Pig in the parlor and other games wound up the evening's pleasure.

Dr. J. A. Best of Pendleton was a guest at the home of G. H. Shaw on Sunday.

Mrs. L. H. Moore of Newberg, visited old friends here last week.

Mrs. A. L. Stone of Beaumont visited her many friends here last Thursday and Friday.

G. W. Wilcox and family moved last week to their home at Woodstock.

Mr. Morrison will not take possession until January 1, 1913, having leased the Jackson property for the year. Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar who are pioneer residents of Fairview, do not plan to leave the town, but expect to buy a place with a smaller house.

Miles Lewis of Maryville, Ore., was a Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Townsend.
