 "The Linotype Way is the Way that Wins."

Entered as second-class matter March 3, 1911, at the post office at Gresham, Oregon, under the act of March 3, 1879.

Men of Action Needed.

The Catholic Sentinel of Portland speaks in a clear and emphatic way regarding the candidacy of Ben Selling for United States senator. The Sentinel's statement of the situation should put every business man and voter on the right track. The article says: "The time is passing—or past—when oratory is the one essential for statesmanship. More and more the country recognizes the need of the business man in politics and the value of business men in office."

The substantial advancement of the nation has been made very largely by business men. And it is safe to say that there would have been fewer haltings in the progress of the republic if the fervid policies of men who scorned commercial pursuits had been tempered more with the calm judgment and the shrewd foresight of business men.

Oregon needs business men in its councils. Oratory is a fine thing, and there is a joyous thrill in brilliant pictures of imaginative statesmen. But states and nations have to deal with conditions, and act altogether with theories.

Ben Selling is a successful business man. For fifty years he has been profitably engaged in commercial pursuits. Personal interests have not engrossed all his time, and he has devoted much of his life to activities which make for the betterment of his fellow citizens the advancement of the community. Never once has public enterprise or private friend lost by following his advice. He has been safe and sane in everything.

Development costs money, and the price of public improvements must be paid in cash—whether it is the Panama canal, or the forestry preserves in Oregon. And every dollar of the mighty expenditure comes from the pockets of the people. The citizens provide the means after all. Therefore, it is in the interests of the general public, of the average American, that the selection of a business man for the United States senate is urged. Therefore, it is in the cause of every class that Ben Selling's election to the United States senate is advocated by his friends.

His long residence in Oregon makes certain his acquaintance with the need of the people of this state. His wide experience in commercial and social and business affairs makes sure that he is perfectly equipped to secure the measures that are needed for the general good. And every act of his life, both public and private, given guaranty of good faith.

At no time, and in no conceivable circumstances could the public service of business men be so necessary or prove so valuable.

Oregon's contribution to the history of the nation is glorious. The prosperity of the state and the permanence of her institutions can best be preserved by the counsel of Ben Selling, a practical man.

"I am not much of a mathematician," said the Cigarette, "but I can add to a man's nervous troubles, I can subtract from his physical energy, I can multiply his aches and pains, I can divide his mental powers, I take interest from his work, and discount his chances for success."

At the annual meeting of the Oregon Conservation association held in Portland on March 18, the delegates favored a change in the date of the opening of the season for hunting big game from August 1 to September 1. It also endorsed the United States Senate bill providing for an appropriation of $50,000 to be used for propagating salmon in waters controlled by the government.

 Thanks to the county commissioners in listening to our prayers and in return we can assure them we won't forget them for this and other favors we will ask them for. We will help those who help us and time will tell this.

Mr. Schiller, who was recently injured by falling off a load of hay near Kelly's Butte, is getting along nicely. He was well enough last week to sit up and take notice. Mrs. Schiller is a champion when it comes to nursing and a genius at that. Mr. Schiller was unable to sit up without pain. Her genius was displayed when she laced one of her corsets upon her husband and thereby enabled him to sit up and rest himself and meet his friends. Now if any of our brethren in this neck of the woods should fall off the water wagon, we will send for Mrs. Schiller.

Denton Catterline, the official photographer of the Jenne Station Improvement association, was busy Sunday taking views of the various farms and residences in and about here for the purpose of giving Jenne Station more publicity. Dent believes the public's eye should be directed immediately upon Jenne Station. He says they have more to eat in this section than any other place in Multnomah county—and we know he's right.

Chesterfield Stipe, the man who claims to have put the salt in the Pacific ocean, made a trip to Jenne Station last Sunday for his health.

Mr. Misha Pelz and Sen. A. J. Detrogin were at Jenne Station practicing at targets Sunday with their rifles.

Walter Metzler, superintendent of the Spring Hill farm, was the entertainer for a large circle of his friends Sunday. Walter enjoys having his friend call as he has a very cute way of inducing them for the sake of their health to help clear brush and stumps by virtue of their visit.

LET US RAISE YOUR SALARY

Every man takes two steps that have, perhaps, greater bearing on his life than any others he may take from childhood to old age. The first is when he decides on what vocation he is going to follow. That is a very important step, but, it is not even half so important as the step he takes when he decides HOW he is going to prepare himself to follow that vocation.

Clackamas County

 proud of their day's work and everyone who saw the smoke thought the city must be on fire. Not so. It was only the annual cleanup day for Estacada, the beautiful city on the Clackamas.

An enthusiastic meeting of Estacada citizens was held last Friday evening in the interest of county division. About a hundred and twenty-five persons were present, among them Mr. Buchanan, Mr. Wurline and Robt. Townsend representing the P. Ry. L. & P. Co. These gentlemen made splendid speeches in favor of a new county with Estacada as county seat. Mr. Gibson of Barton in a nice talk expressed himself as greatly in favor of a new county, and said that all around Barton are of the same opinion. Several farmers of the Garfield county were heard and all were in favor of county division. A plan was outlined for holding meetings in all places and getting the feeling of all the people concerned, and then to get to business if all are boosters for the new county.
