C. E. Cree and Miss E. Wilcox, representing the Fairview Push club, were in Gresham yesterday negotiating with the officials of the Gresham Equity Market for the location of the proposed cannery. They offer an exceptionally fine site in Fairview and make a strong pull for the enterprise.

Miss Edna Vogel is again at her place in the postoffice after a month's vacation, most of which time she spent at the beach.

Frank Olbrich, secretary of the Columbia Brick Works, left last week on a trip to various points in Nebraska and Kansas.

The stork brought another boy to Gresham last night, this time to the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Albertson.

Mrs. Clarence Cathey has been entertaining for the past week, her aunt, Mrs. Andre of Mexico, and her mother Mrs. Spain of Portland.

Frank Escobar certainly knows how to make flowers grow. His little yard on First street is a bower of beauty. Frank specializes on sweet peas, roses and carnations.

He grows only the best varieties and takes the best of care of them. His porch is completely screened by sweet peas in profuse bloom, and some have actually reached the roof. The roses and carnations are in the parking strip along the walk, and one rose bush is higher than a man can reach.

Mrs. Reine Stoner of Cottrell has the lumber on the ground for a modern 5-room bungalow, which will be erected at once on her lot on Wallula Heights. C. O. Westland of Portland is the contractor. Mrs. Stoner, who is a trained nurse, will make this her future home.

Mr. Tilford is making quite extensive improvements on his property on Cathey avenue, southwest of town. He is having a well drilled, and is building a two story garage and living rooms combined.

Mrs. Inez Miller is quite ill at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. McLean.

Oscar Gregory of Salem, formerly engineer on the Mt. Hood road, was renewing acquaintances in Gresham Tuesday.

Ray P. McClung of Pomeroy, Wash., was a caller at the home of Mrs. J. M. Shoemaker last Tuesday. Mr. McClung is a reporter on the staff of the East Washingtonian and the Spokesman Review.

Mrs. John Hamlin and children, Georgina and Ernest, have gone to their old home in Minnesota for a visit. They will be away until about October 1.

Dr. W. C. Belt spent a day or two this week with his family at Cannon Beach.

D. S. Johnson had the misfortune to lose his fine Jersey cow, which died early this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Shoemaker entertained at dinner last Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Arnold of Portland. Mrs. Arnold is Mrs. Shoemaker's sister.

Billie Sharp of Gresham and three friends from Corbett, spent a part of the week near Bonneville, hunting for deer.

Miss Maud Michel and Miss Besie Osborne returned Saturday from Seaside where they had been for a week or two.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Gould entertained a happy company early this week. They were their daughters, Mrs. Eva Layton of LaGrande, Mrs. Violet Thornton of McMinnville, Mrs. Della Look of Lents, Mrs. Lillie Pullen of Montavilla and Mrs. Myrtle Ball of Anderson.

Harry Crenshaw and family have moved into A. H. Gould's new house in Thompsons' addition.

Mrs. A. E. Probst of Portland is spending the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Burke.

Dr. S. J. Miller and wife, and little son Vernon of Caldwell, Idaho, were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Kern on Thursday.

M. D. Kern made a business trip to Portland today.

Creamer & Douglas, successors to McLean & Creamer, perhaps the best known veterinary surgeons of Portland, have opened a hospital at Leland's barn in Gresham, with Ed. Smith as assistant. This will give local people the best and quickest service in up to date veterinary work.

Guy Jones has been developing his muscles on his grandmother's wood pile this week.

Mrs. Maxwell Schneider returned today from her Damascus home, where she has been resting for some time. She is looking fine, but finds her strength not quite up to the normal, and intends to keep very quiet until she is fully recovered.

No doubt some acreage of the "Delate Ilihee" tract still remains unsold, in spite of the great demand caused by the advertisement of the First State Bank in the last Outlook. Be sure to read the ad. in this issue and take advantage of these splendid offerings. The price is not $1.50 an acre as was erroneously published, but is low at $150 an acre.

New signs adorn the windows and door of Bert Lindsey's men's and ladies' furnishing store. Fred E. Todd was the artist, and did as neat a job as can be done anywhere.

Mrs. Percy Glese and mother, Mrs. Culy, were recent callers at Mrs. Jessie Cathey.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Thoren have returned from a two weeks' visit at Stafford, Oregon.

Miss Lela Gibbs is spending a short vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gibbs. Miss Gibbs is taking the nurses' training course in St. Luke's hospital in Boise, Idaho.

Miss Arlie Gibbs is at Seaside, Oregon, for a brief sojourn.

Every person is sure of a welcome at the Methodist church to all the services. The Sunday school is at 9:45 a. m., the preaching services are at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. The pastor will preach. The topics of sermons are, "Inconsistency," and "Ever Learning." The Epworth League meets in the class room at 7 p. m.

W. L. Stockton, who has been in the harvest fields in Grass Valley, was at home with his family over Sunday.

W. P. Wagon of Portland, special agent for the Mutual Fire Co. was in town yesterday in the interests of his company. He is a brother of H. D. Wagon, Democratic nominee for county assessor, and like him is a single-taxer. He travels all over the state and is hopeful for both political reform and material prosperity.

F. E. Dano, of The Dalles, a linotypist, on the Daily Chronicle, was a Gresham visitor yesterday. He is looking up property interests here.

We wish we could call it a typographical error, but no one in the office will stand for that. It was all the fault of a young lady who looked so much like another young lady, that the reporter was completely fooled. It was Miss Tilda Walker, and not Mrs. A. Leland who has spent some time at Chelan, Washington, and is now at home.

Echo Jones entertained Miss Florence Fieldhouse at dinner last Sunday.

More Lights for Gresham.
B. O. Boswell closed the deal for seven additional street lights in Gresham on the Powell Valley road as far out as W. W. Cotton's place west, and out to near Davidson's addition east. This will surely be an improvement along the Powell Valley entering Gresham. Lights will be installed very soon in the Regner addition across the Mt. Hood railroad, and Mr. Boswell reports a good many new customers. Gresham is the best place in his territory for business. There are very few cut outs and there are always new customers who want lights, so you may know Gresham is surely on the map.
