

LINOTYPE IS A WINNER

"The Linotype way is the way that wins." This motto was adopted by the Outlook eighteen months ago, or when the new twice-a-week all home print newspaper first started. It has proved to be truthful at every turn. The issue of the Outlook of August 16 was a good illustration.

During the past three days many words of surprise and praise have been spoken by friends and have come directly or indirectly to the publisher regarding the eight-page issue with its many attractive ads. of local business people, one of the ads. being a double page, printed in two colors. Many have expressed surprise that such a paper could be printed here.

From the publishers standpoint it is not only possible to do it once in a while, but, so far as the Outlook's equipment is concerned, it could be done regularly once or twice a week with some additional help. In fact, Friday's issue was set up and printed with extra help for about one day in the office and some extra reportorial work. For several of the splendid articles on agricultural and business development in this part of the county, credit must be given to E. L. Thorpe who is an experienced and interesting writer.

The Outlook's linotype machine has a capacity for setting up news matter when in the hands of a faithful operator like Miss E. B. Johnson, that puts a publisher on the easy seat so far as composition is concerned, and that's the main thing in putting up the newspaper, after the writing is done, of course.

There has been no let up during the summer in the amount of job printing turned out by the Outlook office and last week the output was unusually large.

DREAM OF BUCKWHEATS

A fine sample of buckwheat was left at the Outlook office a few days ago by Geo. H. Sunday. It was placed on display in the window where many saw it and wondered at its size and good quality. But it soon mysteriously disappeared. The only explanation is that Mr. Thorpe, who is gathering samples of grains, grasses, fruits and vegetables for the county exhibit at the state fair at Salem, saw it, coveted the prize and took possession in the name of the king or some other high personage. Anyway the prize is gone but the memory lingers.

Mr. Sunday sowed in June about an acre of buckwheat in a corner of his garden. It was in good blossom on July 20 and gave promise of a bountiful crop, but was sacrificed for commercial purposes on August 20, being ruthlessly plowed under to enrich the soil for some future crops. This was of course the object for which it was planted. The stalks displayed by Mr. Sunday measured fully five feet high and that, he said, was a general average. Some of the heads were nearly matured which goes to show that Mr. Sunday could have harvested a winter's crop of pancakes from his fine garden if he desired.

Suffragettes Organize.

As a proof of their interest in the equal suffrage movement, more than a dozen of the representative women of Gresham, braved the storm last Friday afternoon and gathered at the home of Mrs. Chas. Cleveland to plan for active work at this place. Mrs. Albert Ehrigott of Portland, representing the College Women's Equal Suffrage League, was present and spoke very interestingly of the lines touched upon by that organization. A branch of the league was formed here, with Mrs. J. N. Clanan for president, Mrs. O. J. Brown for vice president, and Mrs. D. R. Shoemaker as secretary-treasurer. A meeting will be called for early in September, when some noted speakers will be present, and active campaign work planned.

Mrs. Cleveland made the meeting Friday a delightful social affair. Her rooms were tastefully decorated in yellow, the official colors of the Women's Civic Improvement club, under whose auspices the meeting was called. Mrs. O. J. Brown sang a beautiful solo. Light refreshments were served.

GOOD WORK BY VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPT.

FAIRVIEW, Aug. 22—On Monday afternoon a practical illustration of what a volunteer fire department with only buckets and ladders can do. A fire was started by a spark from a locomotive in the old Snover building, which is occupied by Staub and Baldwin, and was quite a blaze when discovered but was extinguished within a very few minutes. Being in direct line with the store of J. W. Benecke and other buildings together with the strong wind blowing at the time there was grave danger of a bad fire.

S. Pasagomany of Portland, was a Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hughes.

Miss Mabel Jackson was a weekend guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Stewart.

J. Luscher is the latest purchaser of an automobile. It is a Mitchell. The new chemical fire engine, donated by the Columbia Engineer Works, arrived on Wednesday and a demonstration will be made.

Grandma Wetmore was made the guest of honor at a dinner given by Mrs. F. D. Axtell last Wednesday. The affair was a complete surprise to Mrs. Wetmore. The guests were Mrs. Wetmore, Mrs. D. S. Dunbar, Mrs. C. Shepard, Mrs. H. S. Stone, Mrs. J. W. Benecke, Mrs. G. O. Dolph, Mrs. C. E. Cree, Ada, Collin and Loas Cree.

A very enjoyable evening was spent by about sixty persons at the residence of Mrs. Eliza Stone on Wednesday evening. Ice cream and cake were served. The young people enjoyed themselves playing games on the lawn and the older ones in conversation. Roy Stone entertained with the phonograph.

Mrs. E. D. Holgate and Mrs. J. N. Paris left yesterday for Alsea Bay, where they will be the guests of Mrs. Holgate's mother-in-law for a few days.

Alec. Robinson and Reginald Robinson will go to Tillamook for a few days' outing.

Oscar Gustafson spent a few days this week at Springwater and near Damascus. He says everything is looking good in all the sections he has visited.

Anna Gustafson has returned to her home from a two month's visit with her brother and sister on Yaquina Bay near Toledo.

Kitchen Shower on Lottie Davis.

A kitchen shower was given by the young ladies of Gresham in honor of Miss Lottie Davis at her home on Tuesday afternoon. It is said to have rained down in an hour or two tinware and granite ware enough for two young people to start house-keeping with. Lunch was served. About fifteen young ladies were present.

George Calvin is reported to be seriously ill with typhoid fever in a Portland hospital.

WORK ON LIBRARY WILL START SOON

The first sketches of the plans for the Gresham branch library have been approved by Mr. Carnegie, provided the cost of the building does not exceed the stipulated amount. The architects, Messrs. Johnson & Mayer, are now working on the detailed drawings and getting prices on the work required.

The building will be a most attractive example of English village architecture, showing the ornamental timbering and spacious windows that gives such charm to English towns. The reading room will be about 60 feet long by 30 feet wide. On one side will be shelved the reference books and the books for adult readers, while the other end will be furnished with small tables and chairs and devoted to the children.

GUINEA PIGS, NEW INDUSTRY

Maurice Mann, the 13-year-old son of John M. Mann, living at 369 East 10th street, Portland, Oregon, conducts the only guinea pig farm for scientific purposes on the coast and is the youngest breeder of these animals in the world, as far as known. He is making remarkable success of the enterprise. From young Mann's farm the little guinea pig goes all over the United States into the bacteriological laboratories in the interest of human health.

Maurice Mann, aged 13, who Raises Guinea Pigs to Aid Science.

It was just a year and a half ago that Maurice Mann started the breeding of guinea pigs, first in a small way, through the suggestion of Dr. Calvin S. White, Portland, and since that time more than 1200 guinea pigs have been raised and sent all over the country for scientific researches.

Prior to the establishment of the guinea pig farm it was difficult to get the animals when wanted for the laboratory, consequently physicians and investigators are pleased by the success this boy has achieved. In order to procure the animals for laboratory purposes the public parks, where a few were kept, were resorted to, but they were hard to get.

Some were obtained from San Francisco at heavy cost, sometimes physicians paying as high as $10 before they could be secured in Portland, but this boy has brought about a change.

Without the kind attention of Mr. Metzler, Maurice would have some rough riding before him. Walter carefully attends the every wants of the squeally bunch whose chorus you can hear a long ways at meal time. Mr. Metzler is a very kindhearted man and his love for animals is only exceeded by his love for humanity and his keen interest in the development of the science which Maurice and he are associated, the little squealers are treated with the utmost tenderness. I have grown very much attached to some of our guineas, said Mr. Metzler. One little fellow learned several tricks and he seemed to delight over his own performance.

Within the past year Maurice has received orders and made shipments to the number of more than 1000. Recently he sent fifty to Omaha, fifty to Seattle and has sent 100 more to Omaha last Thursday. Unlike the Irish family in the familiar rhyme Maurice does not keep his pigs in the parlor he is much more modern. The principal farm for raising these animals is at the Springhill farm, belonging to his father at Jenne station.

WATER SYSTEM AT VENTURA PARK

A private water system is being installed at Ventura Park, down on the Base Line road, that is intended to supply that new and growing community with water. A deep well was recently sunk just a few feet from the Base Line and its waters were found to be of the very best. A pressure tank system is being installed, which is something new in waterworks, but the tank is a big one—just about ten times as big as anything of the kind seen anywhere else—and it will furnish an unfailing supply of water for a thousand homes. The whole thing is an experiment but there seems to be no doubt but that it will succeed.

Ventura Park is one of the growing suburbs and seems to be the link that will some day connect the city of Portland with Rockwood first and then with Gresham. It is settling fast with desirable families and two stores are being opened which will find a share of the trade necessary for them.

As an instance of the growth of the place within a few months may be mentioned the experience of the Russellville public school: A few years ago it was a flourishing institution with three teachers, and it was found necessary to enlarge the schoolhouse to more than double its former size. With the advent of the Japanese farmers there were several families moved away and the children of those remaining grew out of the eighth grade, so that only enough pupils were left to engage the time and attention of one teacher. Several rooms were vacated to the bats and owls and the school was on a rapid downward course that could only be regretted but not helped. In this condition Ventura Park came to the rescue and a recent census by the school clerk shows a hundred per cent increase over that of last year. New families are moving out from the city, seeking homes of their own, and they are in the Russellville school district. It's a good place for them to come to.

PAUL HOETZEL FEEDS THE MULTITUDE

Among the various enterprises in Gresham which are making good and elicit frequent words of praise is the Gresham bakery. Mr. Hoetzel was asked if he was not going to take a vacation and indicated that the baker, at least, had to be on duty all the time. In fact, during the summer vacation when cooking and baking are a burden to the housewife, when perhaps the cook is at the seashore, is the time good bread, cake, cookies and doughnuts are in special demand.

Mr. Hoetzel bought out the bakery here over two years ago and there is not a more enterprising public spirited citizen in Gresham. He is assisted by Mrs. Hoetzel and Mr. Hammond, who recently came from Denver.

As good bread is the staff of life, no doubt Mr. Hoetzel does as much or more than any one else towards supporting and building up a happy and prosperous community.

KEEP YOUR EYE ON GRESHAM

There are inviting prospects all over the country, especially in the Pacific Northwest, but it is well not to see so many good prospects that no one in particular will be followed up. There is one locality that it will pay you to keep both eyes on and to follow up the good prospects now opening. That locality is Gresham. There will be enough doing during the next six to ten months to keep everyone busy and contented with his or her life.

Among the immediate prospects are the Gresham Soda and Ice company's plant. Lumber for the building is now being unloaded.

In a few days a call will be made for bids for the building of the new city hall which will be a very attractive structure costing about $2700. The plans are now in the hands of the committee and will doubtless be acted on finally early next week.

The plans for the Carnegie $10,000 public library building have been approved and bids are now being sought by the architects from local parties for various parts of the work. Local men will be employed to do all that can be done to advantage.

A machinery hall is yet to be built on the fair grounds and various improvements made.

The school board is planning, it is said, to arrange in the near future for building a gymnasium on the school ground.

The development work being done by the P. R. L. & P. Co., on the upper Sandy is progressing nicely and there is reason to believe the company will be ready to electrify the Mt. Hood road soon.

These are only a few of the things worthy of mention. More are coming. Fall in line if you want to be where things are doing.

THOMPSON WEDS MISSLOTTIE DAVIS

Mountain View farm was the scene last Wednesday evening, Aug. 21, of a charming home wedding, when Miss Lottie, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Davis, became the bride of Earl Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Thompson. The ring ceremony was read by Rev. J. W. Frescoln of Kalama, Wash., cousin of the groom. Miss Florence Fieldhouse played the wedding march. The couple were unattended. The bride was dressed in white and carried a huge bouquet of white carnations, which was caught by Miss Fieldhouse after the ceremony. The house decorations were of dahlias, roses and golden rods. About seventy guests witnessed the ceremony. Refreshments consisting of fruit salads, ice cream and cake were served. A large number of beautiful and useful presents were received. Much amusement was caused by the search for prizes in the bride's cake, Miss Ava Thompson drawing the ring, Miss Laura Davis the thimble and Miss Norma Handley the penny. It is supposed that Guy Fieldhouse got the bachelor's button.

Both the bride and groom are long time residents of Gresham, and their wedding is of especial interest to their large circle of friends who wish them long life and happiness. They will spend the honeymoon in Portland and at Welches. Mr. Thompson, who is an electrician, will take up his work after their return. The location is not yet decided upon.

Women physician of the state will do the scoring at the Eugenics exposition at the Salem State fair. This is really a scientific baby show and physical perfection will determine the winners. Each judge will score certain qualities and the figures will be averaged, so that an absolutely impartial test will be made. Entries from many parts of the state are now being made.

From far Canada comes a call for Pendleton's cowboy band to appear at a Wild West show at Calgary, Alberta, in early September. The fame of this organization has spread and the Pendleton musicians will go to Calgary, taking along two cars of horses and equipment.

J. H. Chalker, a former resident of Gresham, was in town one day this week.
