Entered as second-class matter March 3, 1911, at the post office at Gresham, Oregon, under the act of March 3, 1879.

NEED SPEED-LIMIT ORDINANCE.

The Oregon Motor vehicle law which went into effect August 1, 1911, provides that every vehicle shall be run at a rate of speed at no time greater than is reasonable and proper having regard to the safety of the public, the traffic and the use of the street, road or highway then being traveled. The rate of speed on all streets, roads and highways of this state shall be a reasonable speed, up to and not exceeding twenty-five miles an hour but any speed in excess of twenty-five miles an hour upon any road or highway in this state shall be an unreasonable speed and is prohibited by this act; provided, however, that no motor vehicle shall be driven at a rate faster than eight miles an hour upon the country roads or highways of this state when within one hundred yards of any vehicle drawn by horse or horses.

The law also states that in all cases any person in a state of intoxication is deemed conclusively incapable and unable to operate and control the vehicle.

There seems to be no other section of the law or of any other law which pretends to regulate the speed of motor driven vehicles on public streets or highways in this state.

It is possible for incorporated cities to make their own regulations in regard to speed. So far Gresham has not done this. The words on the signs indicating the city limit, "Speed limit, 12 miles per hour," are only a bluff, a mere suggestion. It is up to the council to pass an ordinance limiting the speed on our public streets, often crowded with teams and people, to twelve miles an hour. Then those who carelessly race through town can be arrested and fined.

It looks as if the Portland city council had turned on the P. R. L. & P. Co. Several very drastic ordinances have been passed favoring the public but so unfavorable to the company. One of these is the 3 cent strap-hanger's fare and a 50 cent minimum for light charge. This last is said not to affect any of their present contracts, which are mostly for a year.

Unrequited Love and Two Suicides.
The body of William Toenyes, a drillmaster in the United States army, stationed at Jefferson barracks was found in St. Peter's cemetery, in St. Louis, lying on the grave of July 2 because of unrequited love Pearl Leroy, who killed herself for Frank B. Kehoe, a chauffeur. Toenyes had been an unsuccessful suitor of the girl.

Elephantine Cyclone.
An elephant, crazed, it is said, by its keeper's failure to give it water, burst its chains and escaped from a wild west show in Chicago. Hundreds of persons were terrorized by the maddened beast, which, in its flight, smashed fences, uprooted trees and overturned one or two small buildings.

It pays to advertise. It pays to trade with those who invite your trade.

What Oregon is Doing.

In 1911 the wool clip of Oregon weighed 16,000,000 pounds, was shorn from about 2,000,000 sheep and was sold for about $3,000,000.

During the same period the state produced 600,000 pounds of mohair found nearly as valuable for clearworth $240,000. Goats have been using brush land as for producing mohair.

In 1911 Oregon produced 72,000 bales of hops, worth $4,000,000. The production was only half that of a few years ago, but prices have been extremely good.

In 1911 Oregon produced poultry to the extent of 9,000,000 birds, having a value of $7,000,000.

During the same year the state produced 32,000,000 dozens of eggs, valued at $9,600,000. The poultry business is still an infant industry.

In 1911 the Oregon potato crop was the greatest ever known, very nearly approaching the 6,000,000 bushel mark, with a value, to the growers, of over $4,000,000.

In the same year, onions were grown to the amount of about 175,000 bushels, worth $212,000. The bulk of this crop is produced within a small area, being grown almost exclusively on what is known as "beater dam" land.

In 1911 Oregon produced $3,400,000 worth of butter, but in order to supply the demand, at least three times this amount was shipped into the state from other sections.

In 1911 Oregon dairies produced 17,000,000 gallons of milk and cream, having a value of $4,000,000. The product is said to be the cleanest and most wholesome of that of any state.

In 1911 Oregon produced 5,000,000 pounds of cheese, valued at $758,000. The quality is of the very best. Los Angeles uses more Oregon cheese in feeding its tourists than of all other kinds combined.

The standing timber of Oregon is estimated at 454,000,000,000 feet, worth on the stump $680,000,000, and when manufactured into lumber it will be worth $6,500,000,000. The timber covers approximately 25,000,000 acres. About one-half is in national forests and the balance under private ownership.

In 1911 4,123,000, head of livestock were raised in Oregon, valued at $87,854,000. Among meat animals, the production of hogs has increased faster than that of cattle or sheep, due for the most part to the extremely high prices that have prevailed for the past two years in the coast markets.

The fruit crop in Oregon in 1911 was worth over $4,000,000 in cash. The greater part of this sum was received for apples, this staple commanding the highest prices both at home and abroad, next to apples, peaches are the most important fruit in the state, last year's crop selling for $523,000. Pears were sold to the value of $300,000, being an average of nearly $1.50 per box. Cherries, prunes, loganberries, grapes, strawberries, etc., helped to swell the sum paid to farmers and orchardists during the year. About 300,000 pounds of English walnuts were produced, valued at $45,000.

Flax culture is making progress. Seed has been distributed by the Portland Linsseed Oil company and many favorable replies have been received from farmers who have been successful in growing excellent flax. The plant thrives in this state, producing fine, long fibre and much seed.

STRENGTHEN YOUR KIDNEYS.

This Treatment is Guaranteed by the Gresham Drug Co.

If the kidneys are sluggish in their action, general ill health usually results. Skin affections arise, due to the extra work thrown upon the skin in removing poisonous wastes that should be cared for by the kidneys; heart affections, caused by the pressure of fluids dammed back by the sluggish kidneys; eye diseases, nervousness, chronic headaches and other ailments.

These are often due in great measure to the poisonous action of matter left in the body.

We want you to try Rexall Kidney Treatment if your kidneys are out of order. We don't ask you to take any financial risk. We don't want your money unless Rexall Kidney Treatment helps you. We feel the utmost confidence in this treatment, which is especially designed to strengthen the kidneys, restore their normal functions and help in rebuilding the general health. That confidence is what prompts us in urging you not to overlook this opportunity to try Rexall Kidney Treatment at our risk. For if it does not help you, we will give back your money without argument or hesitation. Rexall Kidney Treatment, in liquid form, costs you 50 cents and $1.00. In pill form, 50 cents. Sold in this community only at our store. The Rexall Store.

Notice of Postponement of County Prohibition Convention.

It was found necessary to postpone the Prohibition nominating convention for Clackamas county from Friday, August 30 to Saturday, September 14.

The convention will be called at 10:30 a. m., and an all-day's rally and council of war will follow. A strong county ticket will be nominated and plans for an aggressive campaign will be laid.

All citizens of Clackamas county who hate "booze" and "hoodle" and who believe that officials should be elected who promise moral, as well as civic reform and all who wish to help in this war against the legalized liquor traffic are invited and urged to meet with us.

B. Lee Paget, Chairman; C. W. Clark, Secretary, Clackamas County Prohibition Committee.

The Trials of a Traveler.

"I am a traveling salesman," writes E. E. Youngs, E. Berkshire, Vt., "and was often troubled with constipation and indigestion till I began to use Dr. King's New Life Pills, which I have found an excellent remedy." For all stomach, liver or kidney troubles there is nothing better. Only 25c at all Drug-gists.

Prosperity Will Follow Crops

Dun's Review for August 17 reports for Portland that while jobbing trade is fair there are prospects of a steady increase throughout the season on account of encouraging agricultural conditions.

Wheat is selling with more freedom as threshing progresses, but prices to the farmers are adversely affected by the steady advance in freights to Europe and the Orient. The barley and oats crops are of normal size and these cereals are firmly held by farmers. Flour shipments to California in July were 30,350 barrels. No flour was exported during the month, but large orders from the Orient are being booked and heavy shipments will be made to that quarter by tramp steamers during the last half of the year.

A record fruit crop from north-western points is now coming on the market and prices promise to be the lowest for several years. The decline in hop prices on the Pacific coast has been checked by the steadier markets in Europe and dealers believe the lowest quotations for the season have been seen, but buyers hold off, awaiting the effect of the present weather on quality. Livestock prices are steadily advancing because of the short supplies. A slow but steady expansion in the lumber trade is noted, with prices now on a firm basis. Lumber shipments by water in July were 22,018,035 feet, being about four million feet more than one year ago.

Lewiston has been the first to suggest a big celebration in 1915 in honor of the opening of the Panama Canal and the completion of the Cello canal. All sections whose interests are affected by the opening of the Columbia and Snake rivers will be invited to join in what will be known as the Lewiston-Cello-Panama celebration. Tentative plans provide for a big river excursion from Portland. The Lewiston Commercial club has the affair in charge.

Buy it now. Now is the time to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed before the summer is over. This remedy has no superior. For sale by Gresham Drug Co., and all Drug-gists.

Clover Growing in Western Oregon.

The counties in western Oregon which are producing the bulk of the clover seed crop, according to Agonomist George R. Hyslop of the Oregon Agricultural College, are Washington, Yamhill, Marion, Polk, Linn, Clackamas and Benton. Counties having the best drained soils are preferable for raising clover seed, he says.

The clover is usually seeded in fall—sown grain early in the spring, preferably in February or in the first weeks of March," Prof. Hyslop says. "About 12 to 15 pounds of the seed are used to the acre. The year following the crop is ready for the seed production, and generally the first growth of this ### second season is clipped between the middle and last of May. The clippings are allowed to fall on the ground, or, in some cases, utilized for green fodder. Sometimes the clover fields are pastured with sheep or other livestock up to about the first of May, but in this case care must be taken to avoid puddling the soil by planting.

"The object in clipping or pasturing is two-fold: First, that the second crop makes a more uniform growth and produces more blossoms at a time when better fertilization of the flowers is secured, producing a larger return; second, that the clipping lessens insect injury to the seed and improves the quality of the product.
