GOOD ADVICE

Here is some sound advice for old and young, in the exact words it came from the lips of five of the South's greatest men:

"When to the intelligence of Southern men we have added the wholesale instinct of saving money, no race will equal us."—Robert E. Lee.

"The lesson we must learn is the value of money and the value of saving money. Economy makes strong, industrious, successful men. I cannot state this too emphatically."—Jefferson Davis.

"Save your money and thrive or pay the price in poverty and disgrace."—Andrew Jackson.

"Save and teach all you are interested in to save; thus pave the way for moral and material success."—Thomas Jefferson.

"Men of the South—save. You must learn this lesson or that economy which so stiffens the North and inspires and stimulates its industry, will overwhelm you."—Henry Clay.

SAVE is The Word

That is what this bank has done. Instead of paying its earnings out in dividends it has kept them in the bank and invested them in such a way as to benefit the town and community. Your own money in the bank works a benefit to the town and thereby benefits you.

Council Wants Money

A special meeting of the council was held last night to consider the plans for building a city hall. The plans and specifications have been in the hands of the public property committee for about a week. The plans have been favorably acted upon but the call for bids is held up until the regular meeting next Tuesday on account of uncertainty about raising the funds. It was decided to find out more definitely who would take up the town warrants so as to be sure they would not go begging. Warrants will be issued in $100 amounts drawing seven per cent interest, to be held until the town has funds with which to meet them.

It is hoped the committee can report more definitely on this next Tuesday night. Any persons desiring to buy up the town warrants should communicate with E. G. Kardell.

Useful Life's Peaceful Close

Mrs. Louise Wilkie of Gresham passed away on Aug. 20, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. Muenders of Oregon City, where she was visiting.

Her last days were calm and happy and the sunshine she expressed during her life remained with her to the last. Her five daughters were with her during her last illness, doing all that could be done for her comfort. Her sons Charles, William and Gottlieb, could not be here as they are living at a distance. Charles and his family from Kansas City had visited her last summer and William the year before.

Louise Strubig was born in the year 1834 in Hanover, Germany, where she received her education and spent her girlhood days. In 1852 she came to America where she joined her sisters and a brother and other friends in Chicago. A year after she was united in marriage to Gottlieb H. Wilkie. They moved to Wisconsin on a ranch near Lancaster where they remained about 20 years, then purchased a mill property at Annaton, Wisconsin, where they spent ten happy and successful years. The next move was to Platteville, Wisconsin, a college town where some of their children obtained their education. They had a pleasant home here, but Mr. Wilkie was advised to seek a warmer climate and they moved to Guthrie, Okla., where after four years the home was again broken up by the passing away of Mr. Wilkie. Miss Emma was with them at the time. They soon after returned to the old home state.

About four years ago Mrs. Wilkie came to Gresham, where she made her home for a few months with her daughter Mrs. F. W. Fieldhouse, and afterwards built her home in Regner's addition. She was surrounded by her daughters who made her last days happy by their constant care and thoughtfulness.

The funeral services were conducted in Zion Evangelical church, Gresham, by Rev. F. H. Freund of Portland, until recently pastor of the church, assisted by the present pastor.

Mrs. Wilkie was a lifelong member of the German Evangelical church and always loyal and true.

The Outlook will visit a relative or friend for you 104 times during the year, brim full of news.

Flying Men Fall

victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles just like other people, with like results in loss of appetite, backache, nervousness, headache, and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that as T. D. Peebles, Henry, Tenn. proved. "Six bottles of Electric Bitters" he writes, "did more to give me new strength and good appetite than all other stomach remedies I used." So they help everybody. Its folly to suffer when this great remedy will help you from the first dose. Try it. Only 50 cents at all Druggists.
