GRESHAM

Sunday's services of the Free Methodist church will be as follows: Sunday school at 10 a. m., preaching at 11. A young peoples' prayer meeting will be held this evening at J. J. Robertson's, led by Rev. W. Hight, the pastor.

Mrs. Dr. Geo. Cathey and Mrs. Cole of Portland were guests one day this week of Mrs. S. C. Jones.

Come to the Methodist church Sunday next for the Sunday school at 9:45 a. m., and the other services. The pastor will preach at 11 a. m., and 8 p. m. Topics, "Building Material," and "So Easy to Forget." All invited and welcome.

Miss Addie I. Cook is visiting her sister, Mrs. Edwin W. Hight, for a few days. From here she will go to Seattle, Wash., where she has accepted a position as instructor in the Seattle Seminary.

D. C. Ross returned yesterday from Rockaway Beach where he has purchased lots and built a cottage. He says the facilities for reaching the beaches are excellent over the new Southern Pacific line into Tillamook.

Evangelist Dewey, of Lents, well known here, having held meetings in the Free Methodist church, called on friends here yesterday.

Miss Mary Jane O'Reilly is spending several days this week visiting with Mrs. B. W. Emery.

The Gresham library will be closed all day Monday, Sept. 2, on account of Labor day.

Mrs. E. T. Preston and Mrs. Eli Misner of Springdale were visitors yesterday at the home of Mrs. Roy Winters.

Rev. and Mrs. Edwin Hight returned early this week from St. Johns where they camped while in attendance at the Free Methodist camp meeting. There was a large encampment of people from Portland and vicinity and some from as far as The Dalles and Salem. Evangelist Rev. J. H. Flower of the Light House Mission, St. Louis, took the principal part in the evangelistic work. F. L. Rugg and Rev. J. A. Hopper and families were also campers. The influence of the meeting is widely felt.

ITS HANDY TO HAVE AROUND

A Remedy for Many Uses That is Guaranteed by Gresham Drug Co. Something that should be in the medicine closet of every house and in the grip of every traveler is Rexall Mentholine Balm.

We seldom hear of a remedy that can fill so many emergency needs. This is because it is designed especially for relieving pain and as an antiseptic. Menthol, known generally as a reliable antiseptic and anodyne, or pain reliever, is one of the chief ingredients.

If you have Rexall Mentholine Balm in the house you will find it handy in dozens of cases—neuralgia and headache resulting from neuralgia, toothache, chilblains, bruises, insect bites, itching, piles, nasal catarrh, hay fever, asthma of nasal origin, sciatica, to relieve irritation caused by the wind or sun, for use after shaving.

Rexall Mentholine Balm is very soothing and grateful to any sore, inflamed or tender skin or the membranes of the mouth, nose or throat. It is cooling in effect, and penetrating, helping to quiet the irritated nerves and restore comfort. It is guaranteed to give satisfaction—or money back. Price, 25 cents. Sold in this community only at our store. The Rexall Store.

Last night S. W. Grathwell of Berea college, Kentucky, spoke upon the question of prohibition in the Shelley hall. The address was forceful and brilliant. It was given with an earnestness that carries conviction. The address was filled with sparkling wit and humor and the audience was held spell bound for nearly two hours. It was like a tonic to Sandy.

An article in the Oregon Journal announced that the board of directors of the Portland Railway and Power company, had passed a resolution on July 25th, to build a branch line to Sandy, crossing the Mt. Hood line at Ruby station. This is good news for Sandy. Everyone expects the railroad to come, but nobody expects it to get here. When Sandy gets a railroad, would make an interesting subject for a
