Foresters Will Start Court

The Foresters of America's meeting last night was attended in the Commercial club hall by the officers of the grand court. There was the Grand Secretary James Bais, Grand Treasurer Henry Meister, S. Kafka and C. A. Elwell of the executive council.

The object of the meeting was to explain the advantages and benefits given to members of this fraternal and benevolent order. A canvas will now be made by the state organizer, C. A. Boland, and a Court of the order will be started in Gresham within a very short time. The order also has the companions of the Forest, this branch of the order is managed entirely by the ladies. There is another branch which is for the benefit of boys from that is known as the Junior Court, 12 to 18 years old. This branch of the order gives boys a splendid start to become good men and citizens as its teachings establishes a proper character at a time in life when it will do the most good.

The Order of Foresters was established in 1790 and there is no order in this country today that stands higher in the estimation of the American people. The Court now being organized here is for men between the ages of 18 to 50 of good moral character and in good physical health. The dues are $1.00 per month and the benefits are, free doctor, medicine and $7.50 per week for twenty-six weeks—the most liberal of any other fraternal and benevolent order. Mr. Boland will be in Gresham for a week or two and can be seen or addressed here, care General Delivery, Gresham.

Geo. Calvin Buried at Pleasant Home.

Geo. Calvin was born in Pleasant Home Nov. 26, 1890, and lived in this vicinity the greater part of his life. For the last two years he held a position with the Giles Wholesale Grocery House in Portland, where he was loved and respected as a trusty employe and faithful friend. He was an exemplary son and brother, and won the esteem of all who knew him. He was a member of the M. E. church at Pleasant Home, from which church the funeral was conducted by Rev. J. H. Wood and Rev. A. B. Calder. A large concourse of friends joined in this last token of respect.

Only a month ago George was spending his vacation with his brother here, but he fell a victim to typhoid fever, and though he had the best of care, he passed away. To the friends who remain, this seems an untimely death, and yet his life work is finished, and he did it well. His memory will remain as an inspiration to all who knew him.

New Correspondence.

Corbett appears as a new name among our list of correspondence. The items were sent in with the request that they be published. We are very glad to do this, and expect to hear from Corbett regularly. There are other communities, as yet unrepresented, from which we would be glad to hear.

Fire of Spontaneous Origin

In Tuesday's Outlook the theory was expressed, as suggested by several persons, that the fire in Shattuck's store started from the electric wiring. This theory it was stated seemed to be disproved by the fact that no fuse plugs were burned out.

When Mr. Shattuck arrived from Portland he investigated the origin of the fire and came to the conclusion that it was spontaneous combustion. This is the most feasible explanation.

It was certainly not the electric wiring. Mr. Boswell who has examined the store since the threatened fire gives positive evidence on this point. He found the wiring in the oil room to be all right and the switch boards and fuse plugs in perfect order. The lights burned perfectly though the insulation was burned off the wires. Mr. Boswell said further that he was glad it was found to be no fault of the lighting company or of the wiring. "It was one of those fires," said he, "that nobody can tell how it got started, but we are very glad it was discovered in time to save the store. If it had gained headway and destroyed the store it would have been a severe blow to Gresham and also to the light company, for if the store had burned Gresham would have been without light and power for some time. It was fortunate that it was no worse."

Few, if any, medicines, have met with the uniform success that has attended the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The remarkable cures of colic and diarrhoea which it has effected in almost every neighborhood have given it a wide reputation. For sale by Gresham Drug Co., and all Dealers everywhere.
