The Men Who Succeed as heads of large enterprises are men of great energy. Success, today, demands health. To all is to fail, it's utter folly for a man to endure a weak, run down, half alive condition when Electric Bitters will put him right on his feet in short order. "After liver trouble, stomach disorders and years of suffering with rheumatism, deranged kidneys, I am again, thanks to Electric Bitters, sound and well." Try them. Only 50c at all Druggists.

Jenne Station

"Old Jupiter P" has not spared Jenne Station with his sprinkling can with his little sprinkler. He has played havoc around these here diggings. A few of our neighbors have lost considerable grain and some are beginning to complain of the loss of potatoes; however, the last few days the sun has been shining on Jenne station again, and especially last Sunday afternoon a large crowd left the cars at this point to enjoy the picnic grounds.

It is with regret we noted that John P. Wilbur, formerly of Union, Oregon, where he operated a woolen mill for several years has purchased the woolen mills of Stayton, Oregon. The principal reason for mentioning this is that we had expected that Mr. Wilbur would locate at Jenne station. The Jenne Station Improvement association had the matter up with Mr. Wilson. He had gone so far as to approve the location here on Johnson creek, and the site for the mill of four acres was kindly donated by the president of the association, Mr. Eugene S. Jenne, who further showed his good will by agreeing to purchase stock when the mills got under way and running. But as usual we are good losers and wish Mr. Wilbur good luck in his new location and we will keep our ear to the ground for another live one. The association is pleased to learn, however, on testing the water in Johnson creek for woolen mill it was pronounced by several experts by analysis to be the best water in the West for scouring and washing wool.

Dell Regal had his usual large run of automobiles loaded with hungry guests last Sunday for dinner. "Pan Cake Jim" Dyer has "blew" into Jenne station and like the wild geese Jim usually seeks a warm climate during the winter months, and he knows where the sun shines most in Multnomah county.

John M. Mann spent Saturday and Sunday at his country home "The Springhill Farm."

Martin Winch, a Portland millionaire, is locating an experimental farm here in this section. The details of his work he will announce later. You can rest assured, however, that whatever Mr. Winch does he does right.

Henry Kimmel has just finished surveying his farm. The work was done by L. H. Lewis of Portland assisted by his son.

The Portland Railway Light and Power company has been spending considerable money ballasting their track and repairing the bridges in the vicinity of Jenne station.

Harvey O'Brien, the insurance man, has the germ of the "tall uncut". He has been looking over Jenne station with a view of locating a country home. If Harvey comes loose for sufficient money to buy here and become a hay seed he is pledged 75 per cent of the insurance business at Jenne station.

The implicit confidence that many people have in Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is founded on their experience in the use of that remedy and their knowledge of the many remarkable cures of colic, diarrhoea and dysentery that it has effected. ## Melrose

The continued rains are spoiling some grain in shock and stack and some fruit. Here's hoping Pegasus will relent and give time for the fruit and vegetables to ripen.

Mrs. C. E. Fritz, Mrs. Agnes Bacon, Chas. Tallman and family and Mr. Jones went to the state fair. Mr. Tallman's buff orpington chickens and celery took a prize and other prizes were awarded to Carolene Tallman in the children's contest.

W. H. Calder, a brother of Rev. A. B. Calder, is visiting this part of the country. Mr. Calder is a photographer at Vancouver, B. C.

Mrs. Halstead of Oakland, Calif., visited H. W. Cooley recently.

E. R. Cochrane will give singing lessons for young people of Melrose at his home every Friday evening. Now is the time to improve a golden opportunity. The old fashioned singing school should be revived.

Miss Frances Turner began teaching at the Cedar school Monday.

H. W. Cooley is moving into his new house this week. He has a fine poultry ranch. The new chicken houses are equipped with self-feeding devices. It is his purpose to turn water into the buildings.

Mr. Cooley has made a splendid record with the chickens and ducks this year. This branch of industry if carried on scientifically is one of the best, as poultry and eggs always command a good price.

We are pleased to see Mrs. J. H. Wood with us again for worship on Sundays.

A blight has struck the potatoes in many places.

Mr. Strebin and family are moving to their lower farm.

There are some good farms for sale here.

We are proud of our Melrose celery taking the prize at the state fair.

Some of our people expect to hear the Colonel in Portland this week.

Watch Gresham growing!

Few, if any, medicines, have met with the uniform success that has attended the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The remarkable cures of colic and diarrhoea which it has effected in almost every neighborhood have given it a wide reputation. For sale by Gresham Drug Co., and all Dealers everywhere.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hamilton and son Ed. and wife, visited relatives in Portland a couple of days last week. They also enjoyed a visit with old time friends from their old home in Albion, Nebraska. They were Miss Mabel Livsey and her sister Mrs. Blanche Murphy, also Rev. J. B. Leedom whom they had not seen for twenty-two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Davies and family visited friends at Sandy one day last week.

Fay Tombling has purchased a fine team of colts.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Goff of Portland visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Lusted last week.

The blight has struck most of the late potatoes which will cut the crops short. The early ones are out of danger and most of them ready to dig.
