"The Linotype
Way is the Way that Wins."

Official paper of the Town of Gresham, Oregon.
Official paper of the Town of Fairview, Oregon.

Entered as second-class matter March 3, 1911, at the post office at Gresham, Oregon, under the act of March 3, 1879.

Saturday was one of the biggest days Gresham ever saw. People came from every direction by every kind of conveyance except flying machines. It seemed, however, to take three days to get ready for one big day. If the fair could have had another day similar to Saturday in attendance it would have put the fair well on its feet financially and would have saved the concessionaire from loss. On account of the rain on Thursday Portland Day, one of the big days, was practically spoiled. The directors are wise in putting the fair a little earlier for next year and making it five days instead of four.

H. A. Darnall again spits out some uncomplimentary things about the Outlook which rather reflect upon the source than the object intended. He is evidently jealous of the Outlook's interest in the fair and evidently thinks a man's interest in the event should be in proportion to the amount of stock he owns. In that ratio Mr. Darnall's interest should be so he says, seventy-five times that of the Outlook. But is it? Should that make much difference anyway?

But how about the Outlook being responsible for the omission of the fair directors? He sarcastically says the Outlook should have seen to it that the East side Business Men's club was invited to the fair. Again he spoke unwisely. The officers of the club were given special invitations and tickets. The members of the club were invited as were all other business men. Mr. Ray Gill of the directors was appointed to see to the matter, and he did. But whether they were invited or not why does Mr. Darnall jump into the Outlook about it? It's just as cheap and a good deal pleasanter to be fair.

It will be a matter of interest to many of our readers to learn that the State Pamphlet, which is being mailed to every voter by the Secretary of State, contains an independent endorsement of B. Lee Paget, Prohibition candidate for United States senator.

The endorsement is signed by over thirty prominent business men of Portland and other cities. They head their endorsement as follows: "We, the undersigned fellow citizens of Oregon, without regard to party affiliation, hereby join in commending for your favorable consideration and support at the coming election the name of B. Lee Paget of Portland for United States senator. We know him well and cheerfully endorse him as being a man of wide business experience, good ability and unquestioned integrity, and fitted to fill that high office with dignity and credit to the whole state of Oregon.

"He is a Prohibitionist by party affiliation, and represents good, broad, sound principles in all matters pertaining to governmental affairs. He is conducting a vigorous campaign and his chances of securing the nomination seem very good, indeed.

"We believe the good people of Oregon should give him strong support for he is a vigorous and effective man who will do his duty in every emergency."

When you have a bad cold you want the best medicine obtainable so as to cure it with as little delay as possible. Here is a druggist's opinion: "I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for fifteen years," says Enos Lollar of Saratoga, Ind., "and consider it the best on the market." For sale by Gresham Drug Co., and Dealers everywhere.

Here is a woman who speaks from personal knowledge and long experience, viz., Mrs. P. H. Brogan, of Wilson, Pa., who says, "I know from experience that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is far superior to any other. For cough there is nothing that excels it." For sale by Gresham Drug Co., and Dealers everywhere.

"There has never been any rush of women for office. They are never invertebrate office-seekers. They are never avaricious for power like men. The right to vote does not change her feminine characteristics in the least. I have heard it stated, and I believe it is true, that the men are guilty of 99 per cent of the political corruption of the state."
