"The Linotype Way is the Way that Wins."

Official paper of the Town of Gresham, Oregon.
Official paper of the Town of Fairview, Oregon.

Entered as second-class matter March 4, 1911, at the post office at Gresham, Oregon, under the act of March 3, 1879.

THE WAY TO WIN.

It takes a little courage
And a little self control,
And some grim determination
If you want to reach a goal.
It takes a deal of striving
And a firm and stern-set chin
No matter what the battle
If you are really out to win.

There's no easy path to glory
There's no easy road to fame;
Life, however, we may view it
Is no simple parlor game,
But its prizes call for fighting
For endurance and for grit,
For a rugged disposition
And a don't-know-when-to-quit.

You must take a blow or give one,
You must risk and you must lose,
And expect that in the struggle
You will suffer from a bruise,
But you mustn't wince or falter
If a fight you should begin
Be a man and face the battle
That's the only way to win.

The world admires the man who possesses and shows the spirit of cheerful determination indicated in the above poem. Some of our political candidates are showing it right now. Let us hope it is not for selfish advantage but for public welfare that they are seeking office. In choosing those who are to represent us in executive legislative and judicial positions, let us put honesty and sincerity in the man first, and along with it capability. Partisanship should come last.

RIGHT OF FREE SPEECH.

The Weekly News Letter, a pamphlet published in Portland by the Employers' association, is opposing the right of free speech by advocating the passage of a proposed measure to prevent the use of street corners in cities of 5000 and upward. Among other argument it says:

"If anyone has any notion that the venom that is daily uttered by the orators of the soap-box variety on our public streets and thoroughfares is something that may be used with perfect right where the public can hear it, this on the basis of the right of free speech, it may be expected that somebody will rise up and advocate blasphemy on the street corner or public instruction of young children in dishonesty on the same basis. It strikes us that anarchy is lawlessness and, hence, treason, and that, therefore, the people of the state of Oregon have a perfect right to regulate the use of anarchistic speech on the streets and public thoroughfares.

Of course, it is plain to all, the above extract is in accord with the proposed law which is primarily aimed at the soap box orators on the streets of Portland. That they are in frequent evidence is apparent and their utterances are often anarchistic in their tendencies, but isn't the News Letter going it just a little bit too strong when it infers that the privilege may lead to the advocacy of blasphemy or lawlessness among the young? While the right of free speech is permissible, if moderate, and is guaranteed by our constitution, yet there are limits which the law will not overlook; and there are effective laws in existence which can be invoked to curb just such tendencies as the News Letter seems to fear. With such laws in force why should there be more especially when it is apparent that the proposed measure would be unconstitutional?

To create a new law would only be inviting a long legal wrangle in the courts. Let existing laws be enforced.

WHICH WILL SWALLOW THE OTHER?

Somewhere in the Good Book it is said that their "number is known by their polls." In modern days the prohibitionists are also known by their polls, for it is their wailing cry that they have never won a victory of any importance, but that they are always ready to stand up to be counted. Heretofore the count has been miserably small when it should have been larger for the prohibition principle is all for good morals. However, the day seems to be at hand when the lion will lie down with the lamb, politically speaking, for the present prohibition leader is going contrary to all prohibition precedents in his zeal for the cause.

Eugene W. Chafin, in a signed article published in the Vindicator, the national organ of the prohibitionists says:

"We want to let the people know that Wilson's election is a practical certainty; that so far as the choice of the next president is concerned the campaign is already a closed incident."

Now, what do you think of that? Isn't that, in effect, telling the voters of his party to vote the democratic ticket? We had thought better of him, for the principle at stake is for nothing else. If Mr. Chafin believes the democratic party to be the best morally, and the one that will do the most to wipe out the liquor traffic, why don't he go over to it boldly and be a democrat?

It is a fact that the other political parties are not in favor of prohibition, although the republican party has been its best friend. So it is amazing to know that Mr. Chafin is trying to swallow the democratic party by predicting its victory. It will be still more amazing if the democratic party doesn't swallow Mr. Chafin, prohibition party and all. The next great puzzle for the curious to solve will be "which will swallow the other?"

Attention is called to the claims of our near neighbors in Clackamas county for recognition at the polls. Vote 318, Yes, and assist them in creating Cascade county. The new county would have a population of 6500 with an assessed valuation of $7,000,000. The division would leave 24,000 in Clackamas and property valued at $18,000,000. Give the new county a chance.

Governor West was one of the first men appointed on our State Railway Commission, and it was his splendid record while serving on that Commission that had much to do with his election to his present high office. While a Commissioner he saw that all public utilities corporations doing business in the state ought to be under control of that Commission, and he had much to do with framing the Malarkey bill, which was passed by almost a unanimous vote at the last session of the Legislature. The Governor promptly and cheerfully signed it, but the interests applied the referendum. Now it is on the November ballot for rejection or approval. It should pass. All public utilities corporations should be in charge of our Railway Commission. We need no new boards, no new commissioners for this work. The Railway Commissions of 20 states have such control. Oregon is behind the times in taking control of such concerns. Vote 314 X Yes. It will be almost a crime for the voters to defeat this excellent measure.

As President of the United States Roosevelt approved these among other important measures—

Protecting the lives of employes in Mines in territories by regulating the amount of ventilation and providing that entries, etc., shall be kept well dampened with water to cause coal dust to settle.

Creating the Department of Commerce and Labor and making its head a Cabinet Officer—

Improving the Act relating to safety appliances on railroad trains. Making wages preferred claims.

For the inspection of boilers. Granting to injured employes on the Panama Canal absence, with pay for time necessarily lost as a result of injuries.

Securing the wages of employes on public works.

For a more thorough inspection of steam vessels.

It took courage to do some of the things that Roosevelt has done.

Eat at least one apple on Apple Day, Nov. 18. Governors of four states will be asked to issue proclamations setting aside this date as a time for eating Oregon's famous fruit. It is said that Oregon people eat fewer apples than Easterners, although they live in the state most favorable for apple production.

Here is a woman who speaks from personal knowledge and long experience, viz., Mrs. P. H. Brogan, of Wilson, Pa., who says, "I know from experience that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is far superior to any other. For croup there is nothing that exceeds it."
