

FOR COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL

Probably the most important measure on the ballot for next Tuesday's election is the one that should most interest the people of Multnomah county.

"To establish County High School Fund, thereby giving country boys and girls opportunity to attend high school without paying tuition and requiring country property to bear its proportion of tax for that purpose."

Vote 380 X Yes.

This is a measure proposed by initiative petition and it means more than it tells in the title. It means that one or more agricultural high schools will be established in different parts of Multnomah county with probably one at Gresham, one at St. Johns, one at Troutdale, one beyond the Sandy river, and at other points if needed.

There is nothing in the bill that favors any particular locality, but a rational view of the matter would suggest those centers most easy of access, such as have been mentioned above.

Vote 380 X Yes.

Question of Morals.

A moral question which more directly concerns the people of Gresham than any of the political issues to be decided next Tuesday is the question of the saloon.

There will be a complete rally of the friends of the saloon. Everyone will cast his vote for the retention of the business in Gresham and if they are in the majority the town will continue the spectacle of at least the two present saloons on the principal corners most frequented by the traveling public and the children who are attending the public school.

The people here now have the opportunity to let the world know how they stand on this question. The local idea is different from the prohibition idea, for a person might not be inclined to vote to entirely prohibit the sale of liquors, but he might be induced to vote for the elimination of the traffic in his own home.

Remember that to defeat Single Tax you must vote 365 X No and 308 X Yes.

ELOPEMENT AND SUICIDE

A report from Portland this morning brought the news of the suicide of John Underwood, of Boring, at an apartment house on the east side. A few weeks ago some domestic turmoils in the family resulted in the elopement of Mrs. Underwood with J. M. Ghrist; also another elopement by D. J. Hite and Mrs. Ghrist. Mr. Underwood seemed to be the innocent victim of all the trouble and finally in locating the culprits with the result that Hite and Mrs. Ghrist were put in jail and Mrs. Underwood returned to her husband. Last night they met in Portland but what passed between them is not yet known.

WEBB CHERRY FARM RENTED

The far-famed Webb-Cherry farm has been leased for a term of years, and its present proprietors, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Smith, will leave in a few months for a new home in Washington, near Seattle. Mr. Smith has bought a farm near the town of Preston, about 20 miles east of Seattle along the roadway of the Northern Pacific.

Both of these ventures are sure money makers if properly handled and Mr. Smith is optimistic in his ability to make the most of an opportunity that is now open in these two lines.

Mr. Smith believes that Seattle is a better market for all produce than Portland, and there are all the advantages of transportation by rail as well as some of the most excellent roads in the northwest. The distance from Seattle is not very much greater than the distance from here to Portland and other advantages are superior, he thinks, hence he sees no reason why he should not make a success in his new ventures which are to be supplemented by general farming on a large scale.

In the raising of Indian Runner ducks, Mr. Smith will hatch the eggs under Plymouth Rock hens. To that end he has recently bought a large flock which he will take with him. His flock of ducks is already for business as soon as circumstances will permit.

The people of Eastern Multnomah will regret to have Mr. Smith and his family go from here, but are hoping that they are making a profitable move for themselves. As one of the prominent families of this section their absence will be felt. The Webb-Cherry farm will remain in good hands and continue to be one of the attractive farms of Eastern Multnomah, as its reputation is already made and its products will continue to go to the most important markets of the country.

NEW ORIENTAL ENTERPRISE

A coming feature of farming in Eastern Multnomah will be the establishment of Japanese nurseries by experienced horticulturists from the flowery empire. Negotiations are under way for such a nursery near Gresham, the stock to be entirely of Oriental varieties.

There is only one regrettable feature in such an enterprise. It should have been in the hands of white men, as it would then have been more of a source of pride to our own people. But perhaps our native nurserymen didn't think of such a thing as Japanese plants and trees in connection with their business, or they would have made a success of it, as the Japanese will do, because of ignorance of the growth of Oriental shrubbery.

LAND SHOW FUNDS RAISED

Carrol S. Smith is almost ready for his departure for Minneapolis with the Multnomah produce display he has been gathering together during the past month. He will leave here next Tuesday evening and in addition to his own display will have in charge the general displays from Oregon.

The booklet will consist of eight pages, one half of which will be a panoramic view of Gresham and vicinity taken from Gresham butte. It shows all the country northward as far as the eye can reach, as far north as mountain skyline of Washington, St. Helena and Mount Hood and gives a general idea of the whole territory it covers.

The text of the booklet will consist of three pages descriptive of Gresham, Pleasant Home and the other features, including a mention of our railway systems, good roads and farming advantages in general. The cost of the booklet and Mr. Smith's expenses will be paid from a fund of about $175 raised by subscription, of which the P. R. L. & P. gave $25; the people of Pleasant Home subscribed about $50; Umbdenstock & Larson gave $10 and the balance was raised in Gresham by voluntary contributions.

This enterprise on the part of Mr. Smith, the Gresham Commercial club and others generally should help to advertise our section in a way that will bring good results in the near future. It is our first effort away from home, but other communities have made good on such propositions, so why not ours, as well?

Funeral of Gustaff Stone.

He was a member of the Powell Valley Swedish church. He leaves a widow and three grown children and 14 grandchildren. At the ceremony yesterday there was a large gathering of sincere mourners, while the floral tributes were numerous and varied. Mr. Stone was an estimable citizen and leaves many sincere friends to regret his departure.

Progressives Hold Rally

A Progressive rally at the Commercial hall on Tuesday evening was the most enthusiastic of all. Hon. Alfred E. Clark, Progressive candidate for United States senator, was the principal speaker, who argued that in the present campaign the people were more concerned with principles than with candidates and that it was said the present agitation was called forth to gratify the personal ambition of one man or for purposes of revenge. He disclaimed all these ideas and made a more stirring appeal for Theodore Roosevelt than he did for his own candidacy.

The other speakers were B. Elmer Kennedy, candidate for secretary of state; Geo. Arthur Brown, Robert Service, Dr. Fowler and Mr. Parsons. They made earnest appeals for support of all Progressive candidates.
