Powell Valley

These care busy days in the Powell Valley school. Through sickness there has been a number of absentees, but the teachers hope for better attendance the following month: Those on the roll of honor in Miss Harvey's room are as follows: Eva Rugg, Richard Satterstrom, Mildred Johnson, Arvid Peterson, Henry Kane, May Nelson, Sigrid Johnson, Clarence Shuholm. Those receiving 100 per cent in application are, Emma Johnson, Carl Johnson, Eva Rugg, Elsa Salquist, Arvid Peterson, Reuben Peterson, Lenard Pitts, Jennie Wood, Mildred Johnson.

The children are working hard to get their names on the roll of honor and get 100 per cent in application, and the teachers feel like giving every encouragement they can, and wish for the co-operation of the parents. The parents can do this by visiting the school and getting acquainted with the teachers and their work. Do not let the teachers stand alone, but help them.

The Hallowe'en social was pronounced a great success. They cleared $30. Miss Harvey purchased the basket ball Saturday and will organize the girl's and boys' team this week so they can commence practicing immediately.

Nettle Nelson is improving in health and is able to be around.

Mildred Johnson is quite ill, but her friends and teacher hope to see her well in a few days.

Our plumbing is not cheap. It is the best of workmanship, material and "Standard" fixtures installed at a reasonable price.

As a sample of two diverging opinions on what should be the cost of living we are minded to cite the cases of two clergymen required in the news columns during the past week. A Baptist minister in Boston advances the assertion that a family of two can be maintained decently on $15 a week in a large city. There are many who will agree with him because there are numerous families much larger who live on that amount in comparative comfort and meet all expenses of living. The other case is that of an Episcopal minister in a New York town who has just resigned because his salary of $1000 a year was too small. He could not stay there and pay his bills, so resigned. Who shall say which one is right? As the Evening Telegram aptly puts it, "thrift and frugality and simple living combine to make a sterling family virtue; but it is not best for the leaders of thought to name a minimum as a standard of contentment, which may serve as an apology for persistent greed while it is intended to embody the doctrine of contentment."

Cherryville

The Cherryville school won the first, second and third prizes in the contest of the Clackamas county schools last year amounting in all to $210. This speaks well for the Cherryvillians and their teacher. However, there seems to be some trouble as the company offering the prizes last year has dissolved and unless Mr. Schulz makes good the school may not get the money.

J. S. Friel is driving the stage on the Sandy Welch route again.

The box social and dance given by the Commercial club at Hotel Cherryville was not a success on account of the inclement weather. However, it was a social success and all the neighbors who gathered had a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutchison of Beaverton, who are to take charge of the Howard place near Welch's stopped at Cherryville on their way up. They had a load of household goods. Mr. Hutchinson will return to Beaverton after his stock.

On account of an error in the bond Mr. Averill's postoffice bond was returned one day last week. However, there was a new bond made with hopes that it will be correct this time and the office will soon be re-established.

Dr. O. F. Botkins is suffering extremely from a carbuncle on the back of his neck.

Miss Viola Friel celebrated her fourteenth birthday Saturday, Nov. 9th. Dancing and other games were indulged in. A light luncheon was served at midnight when after everyone went their way home rejoicing over their good time, wishing the little hostess many happy returns of the day.

It is rumored that Frank Rhodes shingle and saw mill is closed indefinitely.

Mrs. Frank Clark is recovering from her suffering from a large carbuncle on the back of her head. She has been unable to lie down for three weeks and the only rest she got day or night during that time was reclining in a chair. Her friends are heartily glad to hear that she is recovering.

Mr. Pomeroy of Sandy was a caller in this vicinity one day the past week.

"There could be no better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My children were all sick with whooping cough. One of them was in bed, had a high fever and was coughing up blood. Our doctor gave them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the first dose eased them, and three bottles cured them," says Mrs. R. A. Donaldson, of Lexington, Miss. Wisconsin defeated equal suffrage by a majority of 75,000. It was the old Oregon story over again, and all because the people of Wisconsin were really voting on the prohibition question instead of women's right. As in this state several years ago, the women made threats of what they would do if their cause won, and their threats were resented, even as they were in Oregon. The women of Wisconsin should take a few lessons from Mrs. Dunway and her lieutenants. They got wise and won.

Boring

BORING, Nov. 14—A most pleasant party was given on last Saturday evening, by Art Jonsrud, Bud Kimbley and Claud Danielson. Various games and dancing were among the pleasant features of the evening.

At a meeting of the taxpayers of Boring, last Saturday, the question of the Waterbury system of heating and ventilating was discussed pro and con. When the question came to a vote as to whether or not the district should install the system, it was lost by a vote of 12 nos, 8 yeas.

The Wright Dramatic company go to Orient, on Saturday, Nov. 16, with the play, "Wanted a Wife." This play given in the Live Wire theatre on Nov. 2, is said to be one of the best they have ever given in Boring. They are now preparing one of the best ever for Thanksgiving night with an orchestra for the dance to follow.

Clarence Siefert, Carl Gregson, E. E. Wright, Ruth Gregson and Patricia Wright went to the L. A. U. dance given in Fairview last Saturday night.

L. C. Fisher and family are contemplating moving to Baxter, Oregon.

Our genial neighbor Elmer Hickey is now slowly finishing what will be when done, one of the finest homes in Boring. The house covers a ground space of 30x32 and will be modern and up-to-date in every respect. The house will have on the ground floor seven rooms including the following, parlor 16x14, dining room 14x16, kitchen 12x14 and this room is large and roomy and will be furnished according to Mrs. Hickey's plans. The other rooms are pantry, modern bath room, bed room. On the second floor are four large commodious bed rooms. Mr. Hickey has done all the carpenter work on the house during his "rest spells" the past summer and fall and is now doing the inside work by lamp light, after his regular day's work is done. The house when finished will be one any living in Boring would be proud to own and our friend Elmer informs us that he hopes to eat Christmas dinner in the new home.

It is strange but true, that some of the Boring boys, we are not mentioning any names, seem to have a great liking for Fairview. We do not know whether it is the climate, the town, the scenery or something else that is the magnet that attracts. Any how there are some mighty nice people living over in our neighboring town and—oh what's the use.

J. C. Taylor, one of the charter members of the L. A. U. leaves for Grants Pass, Ore., the latter part of the week.

Ed. Siefert, supervisor of road district 52, has this last fall finished about one mile and a half of crushed rock road and has about one quarter of a mile yet to finish. Though he has laid off his crew for the present, either till the rain stops or gets worse.

Russellville

Russellville grange celebrated the winning of the first prize at the county fair, Wednesday evening by their annual dinner and literary program. Just how long Russellville grange will continue to celebrate winning of first prize by giving an annual dinner depends on the efforts put forth by the other granges.

Shipment of trees from the various nurseries in and around Russellville is in full swing. The tree trade is not as brisk this fall as it was in 1908, 1909 and 1910, but if any trees are being bought the nurseries of Russellville are selling some. The loose gravelly character of the soil causes the development of the very best kind of root system by the young trees, and such trees grow when set out on any kind of soil and in most any climate.

Mrs. Mary Jorgensen who has been poorly for many moons is slowly recovering.

Chas. Dillabough, the champion honeyman of Russellville, reports that although white clover and other honey bearing plants bloomed until frost, yet, owing to excessive rains in summer and cool weather it was an unusually poor honey season, however, he wants to buy more bees.

Wilson, Lane and Word lead all other candidates in Russellville precinct in the late elections, although normally, this is a strong republican precinct.

The graduated tax and the single tax lost out heavily in this precinct, but since the Portland Railway, Light and Power Co., has raised the rate on hauling cordwood 35 cents per cord a good many who voted 365 are now wishing they had voted 364 and helped cause said company to pay taxes on its franchise and right of way, and reduced their own taxes, for the net earnings are far out of proportion to the net earnings of any person living in this precinct, and yet they raise the rate on cordwood, thus causing all of us to pay 50 cents more per cord for the wood we buy.

The county road from the Russellville schoolhouse north to the Sandy road at Park Rose is now completed, and is a first class road all the way.

Gradually the Japs are dropping out of Russellville and in some instances white families move in where they move out. In view of the diminution of the number of children in school here it is apparent that the increase of white families is a consummation devoutly to be wished for. We have one of the biggest and best country school houses in the county and one of the smallest schools.

SIMPLE MIXTURE HELPS GRESHAM PEOPLE.

That simple remedies are best has again been proven. Johnson Drug Co., reports that many of Gresham people are receiving QUICK benefit from simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-I-ka, the German appendicitis remedy. A SINGLE DOSE helps sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation INSTANTLY because this simple mixture antiseptically sterilizes the digestive organs and draws off the impurities.

No more the bald head row at the theaters since a California scientist has discovered the remedy for bare skulls. He has found the little animal that eats the hair out and has found an application that kills it. Wig makers and hair restorers will go out of business.
