Boring

J. W. Roots, supervisor of the Boring road district, has gotten in several more carloads of gravel that he is putting on the Boring-Gresham road and when this is done there will be less than one mile of dirt road between Boring and Gresham and as soon as this part of a mile is done and hard surfaced there will be an excellent road from Boring to Portland.

Winner of the Turkey.

Mrs. Harve Metzger drew the prize turkey last Wednesday night at the picture show Mrs. Kelly drew the sack of flour. It appears there was some dissatisfaction in regard to the drawing of the turkey. After the first drawing and after some of the people had left the theater it was found that the lady who answered to the number had lost her coupon, so there was nothing to do but to draw again. It also appears that there was another person who had a number that was called at first but the management knew nothing of it until next day. Anyone holding a number hereafter that is called out should make it known in a vigorous tone of voice or by kicking over a row of seats. Make yourself heard if you are a winner. The public will have a chance at another turkey in the near future. Remember this little tip.

Books at Gresham Library

The following new books have been added to the shelves of the Gresham sub-branch library:

Harper, M. W.—Manual of Farm Animals. Feeding, care and management and diseases of horses, cattle, sheep, swine are taken up separately. The book is a manual and considers the common practical matters in detail. The writer has tried to discuss the daily handling of farm stock in the light of such knowledge as is at present accepted and most capable of application.

Dodd, Helen—(A farmer's wife.) Wealthy Farm House. This book is written for the average farmer's wife, from the point of view of one who does all her own cooking, dishwashing, sweeping, etc., and yet runs a lawn mower, cares for the flowerbeds and works in the vegetable garden. The woman who needs it most is the one who, without hired help is responsible for the health and happiness of her farmer husband, her children and herself.

Haskin, Frederic—American Government. As Mr. Haskin states the book tells about the work of the U. S. government, what is required of the different officers from the president down, and how they perform their duties. It is an effort to tell in plain, everyday language what the government does and how it does it.

Kent, Chas. F.—History of the Jewish People. Prof. Kent gives a history of the Jewish people during the Babylonian, Persian and Greek periods. The importance of the four centuries which followed the destruction of Jerusalem in 586 B. C., is brought out clearly.

Other books on similar and different subjects were received.

A semi-weekly delivery increases the collection as well as supplying the library with special requests from the main library. Bulletins on current events and reminders for November gardening have been posted.

A large map of Oregon is on hand for those interested in such material.
