Boring

BORING, Dec. 2.—The Lincoln Annuity Union will have another open meeting next Wednesday, the 4th of December when all friends of the order are invited. A good time is promised to all.

Oscar McClung, who has charge of Mr. Palmer's interests in Boring is now using ten wood cutters and reports a scarcity of cars.

Uncle Morgan, who handles the ties loaded in Boring reports good business and plenty of ties, but short on cars.

The entertainment on last Saturday, the 30th, was in every respect one of the best if not the best the Wrights have ever put on in the Live Wire theater. The play was the drama "Forgiveness." Of course Mr. and Mrs. Wright are always good, though we think that special mention should be made of the work of Mrs. Wright as Annie Dennison. Mrs. Wright heretofore having appeared only in comedy parts, and those of a lighter nature, many thought such her line of work. But the part of Annie called for comedy, pathos and tragedy and in these one and all Mrs. Wright fully sustained the character, first as the girl in love with the gambler Jack Diamond, then as the wronged wife and last as the lone woman protecting her child and shielding her own honor. Ruth Gregson as Cordelia, the maiden aunt, a hater of man as a man, was good all the time and as ancient maidens will, gracefully, gave all her heart to the right man in the end. Carl Gregson as the bad man was not only good in all his acting, but looked so unlike our genial Carl in everyday life, that many remarked "that's not like our Carl at all." Clarence Siefert as Denver Dan, the big, good natured, warm hearted gambler, was as we expected he would be, not only good, but right at his best in the part, sustaining the comedy all through the play.

Leonard Goheen on the stage for the first time, surprised his many friends in his work, having the difficult part of Popham, the wronged man and social outcast.

Mildred Telford, as big Leonie, was the young childlike girl of Jack and Annie's. This was Mildred's second time on the stage with the company and the little lady showed a marked improvement in her work and acted the youngest girl Leonie in a perfect manner.

Last but by no means least only in size and years was baby Norine Wright, the little two year old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Wright. This little tot was on the stage most of the time during the second act. She had three lines to say and said them well. As the baby actress she was the center of attraction while on the stage and "as sweet as honey and bright as the morning dew." The Elsworths and their daughter, Myrtle Anderson furnished the music for the dance following the play and gave the best music Boring has had for some time.

E. E. and Flora Wright have begun the organization of a Lincoln fraternal insurance order in Damascus.

Hans S. Holte, wife and sister, Lloyd Axtell and Otto Stoulev of Fairview were in attendance at the play and dance last Saturday.

They gently compel right action of stomach, liver and bowels, and restore your health and all good feelings. 25c at all Druggists.

Bill Before Legislature. "The State Beekeepers' association of Oregon is preparing a bill to present to the legislature, providing for the appointment of a state bee inspector," says Prof. H. F. Wilson of the Oregon Agricultural College, who is secretary of the association. The purpose of the bill is to check the advance of the dread disease, foul brood, which has wiped out the bee industry in some sections of the country.

"Foul brood, the worst disease to which bees are subject, is a bacterial trouble," says Prof. Wilson. "It attacks the larvae and destroys them so that they never mature. In California it has destroyed entire apiaries of 500 or more colonies. Oregon is thus afflicted in some districts, and it is necessary to provide for its control before it becomes the menace to the bee industry that California has found it."

You will find that druggists everywhere speak well of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. They know from long experience in the sale of it that in cases of coughs and colds it can always be depended upon, and that it is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Gresham Drug Co., and Dealers everywhere.
