

MASONIC BALL GREAT SUCCESS

Beautiful Evening Costumes and Special Features of the Occasion.

When the Masons decide to do things they do 'em. That is the reason why the Masonic ball on Friday evening was such a grand success. It was attended by the elite of the city and vicinity, being a representative gathering of the best people of the community. Mayer's orchestra, from Portland, furnished the music which was of a quality unsurpassed and suitable for any occasion where good music is required.

The hall was comfortably filled as early as half past eight and the dancing began, partners being chosen at random until the hour for the grand march which headed the dainty programs. The march was led by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cleveland, every couple in the house taking a part, although some of them were not dancers. After many beautiful evolutions the dancing promenaders broke into a merry two-step and spread over the floor in a bewildering maze of rhythm and beauty, and the dance was on in all its glory.

Programs were filled early and the mystic revel continued until the chimes of "Home Sweet Home" gave the warning that the Masonic ball was over.

Features of the evening included an old-fashioned quadrille in three changes that served as a pleasing diversion in that popular dance. In these days of round dances the old-time quadrille is frequently lost sight of but it is a welcome innovation to those who remember its popularity years ago.

Many of the ladies appeared in smart evening gowns prepared especially for the occasion. It wouldn't do to particularize in this matter unless every maid and matron could be mentioned, which is impossible. The billowy flounces and rustling skirts formed a picture of beauty and made a soft cadence to the music that is indescribable here. The men were in appropriate costumes.

So perfect were the arrangements that but one floor manager was required and he found his work easy. For the first time, probably, in the history of local dancing there were no ribbons pinned on the lapels of the gentlemen's coats to distinguish them from those who did not pay at the door. This invidious distinction was averted by allowing no one inside the door without invitation and ticket of admission. It worked beautifully and the innovation of "pay as you enter" was fully appreciated.

The Pastime club threw open the doors of its rooms where many of those who cared little for dancing enjoyed themselves at the billiard table or in games of cards. A ten gallon jar of grape juice punch was dispensed as a refreshing beverage to the thirsty revelers, and the dancing went on with joy unconfined until the last strain of music had breathed its farewell on the special waltz that ended the program.

There will be an entertainment and basket social at the Rockwood schoolhouse next Friday evening, given by the Rockwood school. A small admission will be charged and the baskets will be sold, as usual, to the highest bidder.

Two big dances are scheduled for next Saturday night—one here in Gresham by the Foresters, the other in the new city hall at Fairview. Take your choice.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY RECOUNTED

Two services each day at the Free Methodist church. Preaching in the evening at 8 o'clock, opened by a song service at 7:30. Afternoon prayer meeting at 2:30. The public is cordially invited to attend these services. Bring your friends.

Mrs. Ettel Jones has as guests her father A. McCool of Metaline Falls, Washington, and her sister, Mrs. W. C. Erwin and children from Newport, Washington.

Fred Stroup is enjoying a visit from Mr. and Mrs. Douglass and family of North Dakota, who have been spending the winter on the coast. Mrs. Douglass is a sister of Mr. Stroup. They are at the home of their aunt Mrs. B. W. Emery.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Blain from Greenwood, Neb., are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kern who were formerly their neighbors in Nebraska.

Baby Le Roy Kern, who has been seriously ill with the prevailing cold, is much improved.

The home of Rev. E. A. Leonard, just east of town, was burglarized early on Monday morning. Only a few articles are missing. There is no clue to the perpetrators.

Henry Gullickson and Ezra Thomas killed a coyote on the Talbot farm adjoining Gresham, last Sunday. It was run down by Mr. Gullickson's dogs.

Several Gresham taxpayers have been summoned on the circuit court jury to try the case of the city of Portland against Wakefield & Co., wherein the latter are being sued for the penalty of $280,000 for failure to complete the Mt. Tabor reservoir on time. Among those who were called upon from here are W. H. Bond, D. M. Roberts, Newt. Mewhirter and J. H. Metzger.

Mrs. J. I. Hines of Newport, Oregon, has been spending a few days with her sister Mrs. O. W. Tarr. Mrs. Hines has gone to Boring for a week's visit with Mrs. Mary Dolan.

The regular meeting of the Rebekahs was held last Wednesday night at their hall. The meeting was an interesting one. Several visitors were present.

A special communication of Gresham Lodge No. 152 A. F. & A. M., has been called for tomorrow night, by H. Pulfer, secretary.

Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Todd returned Saturday from a seven weeks' trip to California. They visited the principal cities of the state, and while in Los Angeles had a pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Carlson, and incidentally read the Outlook. They report a lower degree of temperature in San Diego than any they have had here this winter, and say they haven't seen any place that suits them better than Gresham.

Frances E. Willard memorial service held last Sunday afternoon under the auspices of the local W. C. T. U., was one of most interesting meetings of the kind ever held in Gresham. The program was carried out in the main, as announced in the last Outlook. Mrs. B. W. Emery presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Shoemaker. Bishop Pearce's address was especially fine. A good offering was received, a part of which goes to the memorial fund, and a part will be used to advance local temperance work. Nearly a score of the members of the Gresham Union marched to the church and were seated in a body for the service.

The Patron-Teachers' meeting next Thursday evening will be given over to a symposium on the subject, The Ideal High School Curriculum for Gresham—What would you have it include? Those who are expected to take part are Mrs. J. N. Faris, Mrs. Woodward, Chas. Cleveland, David Cathey and Theodore Brugger. Miss Lois Else will sing a solo.

Additional locals will be found on page two.

Lumber for Sale Cheap.
Six hundred feet of shiplap, 300 feet 2x4s, and miscellaneous lot of finish lumber, also 500 brick. Everything goes for $10.00. Enquire of Outlook. 102

Gresham Grange Basket Social.
A basket social will be given under the auspices of the grange, on Saturday, Feb. 22, at 8 o'clock at the grange hall. Grangers, invite your friends. Ladies bring baskets with lunch for two. Baskets will be auctioned to men. Good program. Lots of fun. 103

ANOTHER PAPER PUBLISHED HERE

"Multnomah Booster" Official Paper of Camp 77, Woodmen of the World.

The "Multnomah Booster," official paper of Multnomah Camp, No. 77, Woodmen of the World, is now being printed in Gresham. It is published at the Outlook office, the first issue from here having been sent out this week through the Gresham postoffice, where its entry as second class mail matter is pending. The regular edition is 2500 copies, the paper being an eight-page monthly.

Multnomah Camp, No. 77, was organized in East Portland 22 years ago this month, and the current issue is almost wholly devoted to a historical and anniversary review of the growth of the camp from sixteen members to its present size as second in the Pacific Jurisdiction. But six of the charter members are now in the order, four of whom still live in Portland. They are C. E. Miller, E. F. Moldenhauer, R. A. Wilson and W. H. McMonies.

A Woodman camp in San Francisco is the only one that exceeds Multnomah in size, but it will not be for long as the membership of Portland's big camp is growing rapidly and it is sure to be the leader within a few years.

The nine Pacific states are comprised in the jurisdiction, with the head offices at Denver, and with a membership of 112,000. Other jurisdictions cover the whole of North America. Portland has about 6000 Woodmen, many of the most prominent men being members of the order, which ranks with the Masons and Odd Fellows in the character of its membership. Among the members in Oregon may be mentioned Governor West, State Secretary O'cott, State Treasurer Kay, and Senator Chamberlain. Other Woodmen well known in Portland are Judge Morrew, Frank S. Fields, A. L. Barbur and a host of other prominent professional and business men of the city.

Gresham has a good sprinkling of Woodmen, nearly all of whom belong to Multnomah Camp, and they are all proud of their camp and the order which they consider one of the best fraternal societies in existence.

DELEGATES TO COUNTY GRANGE

Rockwood Representatives Selected for Choosing State Grange Representatives.

Rockwood grange held an interesting meeting on Saturday last with Mrs. H. L. Vail, state deputy, and A. H. Black, county deputy present. The other county deputy, F. H. Crane, a member of Rockwood grange, was also present. All of them, especially the first two, made interesting remarks and imparted much good advice to the members of the grange. A good dinner was served and a splendid program was given by the new lecturer, Mrs. Mary Richmond.

Delegates to the county grange convention were named as follows: E. L. Thorpe, J. H. Richmond and George Crane. Their alternates were respectively Hester B. Thorpe, Mrs. May Richmond and F. H. Crane. The county convention will meet with Pomona grange at Lents on the third Wednesday of next month for the purpose of electing representatives to the state grange which will meet at Albany on the second Tuesday in May.

Following the usual custom of allowing representatives to the granges in their regular order the three delegates are to be chosen from four granges this year as follows: Rockwood, Columbia, Lents and Pleasant Valley. Of necessity one of them will have to be dropped, but it will be considered next year along with three of the others. In this manner Columbia grange was slighted last year. As there is to be no election in the state grange this year there will not be any scramble for the election as representative, so that the losing grange will not feel hurt if it can be left over to take its chance next year when the important work of choosing state grange officers will be the greatest feature of the session.

Although but three representatives are to be actually elected there will be six, as the grange laws provide that a married man or woman may take along the wife or husband as a fully accredited delegate.

There will be six alternates chosen at the same time; who will go to the state grange in place of the regulars who may be unable to attend from any cause.

POWELL VALLEY PIONEER PASSES

The death of James S. Royal at his home in Forest Grove was briefly mentioned in the last issue of the Outlook. He was born in Piqua, Ohio, April 13, 1829, and crossed the plains to Oregon in 1852, coming here in an immigrant train of ox teams at the age of 23. He spent several years in Southern Oregon but finally settled in Powell Valley, where the Swedish church now stands, where he lived until 1861.

In 1856 he married Mrs. Jane Pugh who died in 1869. On leaving Powell Valley he moved to what is now East Thirtieth and East Harrison streets where he lived until 1903, when he moved to Forest Grove, where he died Feb. 9, 1913. He was married a second time, Oct. 4, 1871, to Mrs. W. M. Smith, by whom he is survived. He also leaves one son and five daughters as follows: E. O. Royal, of Portland; Mrs. J. J. Hines, of Newport; Mrs. O. W. Tarr, of Gresham; Mrs. C. C. Sellers, of Portland; Mrs. A. J. Douglass and Mrs. F. W. Jones, of Forest Grove.

Mr. Royal was a member of the Oregon Pioneer association and always took a deep interest in politics, being a staunch republican. He was a cousin of the late Dr. Osman Royal, also Jason S. Royal who died recently. Two brothers and two sisters survive. These are C. F. Royal, of Salem; William Royal, of Elma, Wash.; Mrs. Elizabeth Mahan, of Eureka, Kan., and Mrs. Mary Alderson, of Portland. He leaves seven grandchildren.

Mr. Royal was the organizer of the first Sunday school in the Cedar schoolhouse, now replaced by the Cliff M. E. church, and was always a great worker for the uplifting of humanity in every community where his lot was cast. None knew him but to revere him. His funeral was conducted by Rev. H. Gould, assisted by Rev. A. B. Calder, in the M. E. church at Forest Grove, the last obsequies being attended by a large assembly of relatives and friends as a mark of love and esteem for one whom they had learned to revere and honor during a long and useful life.

Held Up and Shot.

J. W. Lingle, son-in-law of Geo. Sunday, was shot and slightly wounded near Lents on Saturday last while on his way home from Portland. He lives about five miles south of Gresham, and was driving along the road when two men asked him for a ride. When in the wagon they held him up for his money at the muzzle of a revolver, and when he resisted he was shot. The bullet struck a suspender buckle and was turned aside, making only a flesh wound which is not considered serious. The sheriff's office has had deputies out here looking for the two men but so far have not been able to catch them.

Social Called Off.

The Washington's birthday social which the Epworth League was planning for Friday will be indefinitely postponed.

To Whom It May Concern.

In the matter of those irons sold by me last summer, I wish to say that I have been greatly distressed over the fact that they did not prove to be as good as represented. I did not intentionally deceive my neighbors as I was fooled myself. I ask your forgiveness, and if any of you feel that I am to blame in the matter call at my house and I will try to satisfy you. F. L. RUGG.

Private Sale at Gresham.

I wish to sell at my residence in the Clananhan house on Main street, the following: Beds, chairs, table, dresser, 1 rocker, cupboard, ironing board, range, folding lounge, lamps, fruit jars, some canned fruit, some dishes, clothes wringer, window shades, pitcher pump and a few other articles. Mrs. Ida Doane. if

The Pacific Fruit association is the latest organization formed to encourage the best methods of fruit growing, packing and marketing. The establishment of uniform grades, distribution of reliable market intelligence and affiliation with central marketing agencies are among the objects aimed at. Fruit growers of western Oregon are interested in the association and its headquarters are at Portland.

Having succeeded in its object of settling the available land about Fort Rock, Klamath county, the Loma Vista homesteaders' association has changed its name to the Loma Vista Development association. Hereafter this organization will give its attention to developing its territory. Two new members of the Oregon Development League that came in during the past week were the Agness Commercial club and the Pleasant Valley Push club.

Work on the Willamette Pacific railroad, the projected line from Eugene to Coos Bay and south along the coast, is being rushed and it is expected that trains will be running from Eugene to Mapleton next fall. It is thought the line to the coast will be completed early next spring. Construction work is being pushed along the Siuslaw westward.

Dates for Oregon fairs next fall were fixed at a recent conference of the North Pacific fair association. Opening days were set as follows: Oregon State fair, September 23; Medford, September 19; Roseburg, September 15.

FOR RENT—New 5-room bungalow, city water, $8.00. Thompson's addition. A. H. Gould.

MODEL FARM NEAR GRESHAM

Demonstration Station with Suitable Buildings for the Project to be Built.

Reference has heretofore been made to the purchase by Martin Winch, of Portland of the John Stiger farm, about two miles south of Gresham. The tract consists of 160 acres which was partially cleared when Mr. Winch took possession last fall and he is now developing a model farm which will be devoted to supplementing the work being done by the Oregon Agricultural college in such work.

The project is to be known as the Northwest Farm Development company and will serve as a demonstration station.

Plans for a group of buildings are being prepared by an architect of Portland. They will all be of model construction and will include a home for the superintendent, a horse barn, cow stable, dairy building, sterilizing plant and several other small buildings required for the work in hand.

The home of the superintendent will be the first to be built. It will be a two story structure with an office attached. Mr. Winch has but recently returned from the East where he visited several model farms, and many of the improved features observed by him will be incorporated in the improvements he now has under way.

The work proposed in agricultural, horticulture and dairying will demonstrate what can be done on land in this vicinity. There is no fear that Mr. Winch will be disappointed in the results, although the outlay will be somewhat excessive, as intelligent endeavor is sure to bring gratifying returns wherever applied in this vicinity.

Big Irrigation Work.

Work on the West Umatilla Irrigation project will, in all probability, be begun before Secretary of the Interior Fisher retires from office on March 4. Government engineers have directed preliminary work so that construction may be commenced within the next few weeks.

This project will irrigate 30,000 acres along the Columbia river in Umatilla and Morrow counties and the Government will expend $2,500,000 on the work. From two to three years will be required to water the land in this unit. More than the required 95 per cent of privately owned land in the project has been pledged to bear the expense of development.

This is the season you need many little things in hardware. Buy them at the exclusive hardware store, Sterling & Kidder.

The Vale Chamber of Commerce is taking care of the boys of the city by allowing them the use of its handsomely appointed club rooms twice each week. This is probably the first city in the state to take the rising generation into partnership in its development work and is a move that is certain to have good results.
