MAN DESTROYING HIMSELF.

The vaunted intelligence of human beings seems to be inferior to the instincts of birds and animals.

A spirit of bravado in many instances takes the place of reason; thoughtlessness permeates the brain and the slow march to destruction is begun.

The foundations of a house built upon the sand cannot remain; a castle on the ocean beach would be overwhelmed by the tide.

Great earthquakes and marine disasters have taught those lessons before. The Johnstown and Heppner floods taught them again.

The lesson now before the world in the plight of Dayton will not be heeded. Other towns are built in hollows that may be submerged in an hour.

Man will never learn the lesson, but will go on building for his own destruction.

The boys and girls of Gresham and vicinity have been coming to the Outlook office for sweet pea seeds in goodly numbers.

Roseburg has settled on May 20-24 for its annual Strawberry Carnival. The outlook is excellent for a record crop of the luscious fruit.

E. C. Chemistry Degree. The degree of master of science in physiological chemistry at the University of California has just been granted R. H. Robinson of the experiment station staff at the Oregon Agricultural College for a thesis which he worked out in the O. A. C. laboratories.

Dr. J. R. N. Bell told of agricultural conditions in Egypt as he saw them on a recent trip abroad.

The O. A. C. sophomore basketball five defeated the juniors in both games, and the seniors as well.

Commandant P. J. Hennessey of the O. A. C. cadets has made a new rule that promotions shall be by examination in theory and practice.

A Carnival of Nations is to be held at the Oregon Agricultural College April 4.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

If the men who vote for saloons had to furnish the boys to fill them, every town would go "dry."

The great curse of the laboring man is intemperance.—Cardinal Gibbons.

If an open saloon is bad on election day, it is bad on any day.

A gin-mill cannot run without boys—have you one to spare.

Rich people keep the saloons away from their homes with money; poor people can do it with votes.

Where the saloons flourish the homes wither.

Turn all the grain of the world into whiskey and you could not feed a child with it.

Joy-juice does not go well with gasoline, even when one is in the driver and the other in the tank.

Some men think that the only way to preserve their youthful vigor is to keep it pickled in alcohol.

Saloons are the lungs of the liquor traffic—also its eyes and ears.

In a license town, the merchant gets only what is left after the saloon keeper gets what he can.

The wettest "dry" town is drier than the driest "wet" town.

Any law looks blue to the man who wants to break it.

The consumer pays the license—and more.

A sunstroke is often a beer-stroke. For every dollar spent for education, America spends $6 for drink.

A man who violates the law is neither a republican or a democrat, but a criminal.

A finger of whisky may point the way straight to drunkenness.

The Shadow of the Bottle has partially eclipsed the Son of Righteousness, and Society feels the chill.

Potato Cake.

Two cups sugar, 1 cup butter, 4 eggs, (yolk and whites beaten separately), 1 cup mashed potatoes (free from salt or milk), 3 cups flour, 2 teaspoonful baking powder, 1/4 cup milk, 4 cup nuts (minced) half cup chocolate, half teaspoonful cinnamon, half teaspoonful cloves, half teaspoonful nutmeg or allspice.—Jennie Ruegg.

A good lowly idea is sometimes better than a high ideal.

A tornado or cyclone is a thing of quick manufacture; it is never officially forecast.

Now the congressmen's garden seeds are arriving; possibly some of them might grow.

Thousands of sacks of potatoes can't be sold, but pork is high. Seems like this should be a hint to farmers.

Perhaps Bryan can't break himself of the traveling and talking habits, and perhaps he doesn't think it necessary.

Dr. Elliot and Mr. Olney are wise old men; why should they assume ambassadorial cares and expenses at their age?
