It is understood that the local fire department will open the pavilion with a ball.

Eyes tested and glasses fitted. Office over First State Bank. Dr. Geo. Inglis.

GRESHAM LOCALS

Arthur Fieldhouse went last Wednesday to Manzanita Beach where he will assist his brother, F. W. Fieldhouse for a short time. He expects to return soon to Gresham.

L. D. Howard moved to Portland on Tuesday and is now located with his family at 623 Jefferson street. He will begin service as rural carrier No. 2 from the main office on the 16th, his route extending westward over into Washington county.

H. A. Dunbar, formerly with the Bridal Veil Lumber company, has removed to Troutdale. He was a caller in Gresham on Wednesday.

The dropping of a line of reading matter wouldn't seem to make much difference one way or other, but it certainly caused quite a mix-up in one story of our last issue. People are wondering who is the bride to be, and who really got the fine china after all. The sentence in question should have read, "The recipient of this shower was Miss Grace Lawrence, for whom Miss Anderson entertained," etc.

E. C. Lindsey left yesterday morning for Manzanita Beach where he will do some carpenter work.

A. L. Keenan, of the street contracting firm of Keenan Bros., was in Gresham on Thursday. He is preparing to make a bid on the grading of Lawrence avenue where H. Whitehead, owner of the addition through which it passes is arranging to build an expensive residence as soon as the street work is finished.

It is planned to have the lawn graded and seeded this spring and a trellis made along the eastern and a part of the northern boundary which will be planted to some rapid growing vine. An effort is being made to get good surface soil donated. Several parties are submitting figures on the work and the contract will be let Monday.

Reports from Good Samaritan hospital this morning tell of the improvement in the condition of J. N. Paris, who was operated on last Monday. He is in a fair way to a complete recovery but will remain in the hospital several weeks yet before returning out again.

Last Monday night at the Moving Picture theater was one of considerable enjoyment to a packed house which greeted the Neils in their musical specialties. Neil is a wonder on many instruments and with his wife as accompanist rendered a repertoire of unusual excellence. The extravaganza upon "Niobe," by the Wrights and the Neils was simply good, and brought out their full capacities as entertainers in light comedy.

A Gresham party consisting of Lewis Shattuck and wife, John Conley and wife, O. A. Eastman and wife and D. M. LAMENTATIONS.

Oh curses on such weather
With shifting winds and rain,
With flying mud and drift-wood;
'Twill drive us all in-sane.

'Tis due we're having spring-time,
That we may sow our grain
But, oh! this juicy weather!
With shifting winds and rain.

'Tis true that morning's sun-beams
May bask on every spire,
But stormy evening finds us
Drenched with muck and mire.

We wade the torrent tip-toed,
Then praying for a boat,
We lurch most madly forward,
And going up, we float.

But when the scorching sun-shine
In summer gives us pain,
We'll pray with earnest pleading
For shifting winds and rain.

—J. F. JONES.
