Official paper of the Town of Gresham, Oregon.
Official paper of the Town of Fairview, Oregon.

Entered as second-class matter March 3, 1911, at the postoffice at Gresham, Oregon, under the act of March 3, 1879.

SHOWING PARTIALITY.

While the Outlook is not in accord with the methods of saloon-keeping and card playing in cigar stores it believes in the eternal fitness of things that allows fair play. Sheriff Word may be conscientious in his crusade against law breakers but his recent performances in Gresham and in connection with an episode at Troutdale have led many to believe that he is making a grandstand play that has no connection with law enforcement.

Playing to the galleries is sometimes an effective method of gaining an object, but the game should be played to a finish. There should be no condonement of an offense until a higher authority has sat in judgment. If Mayor Edmundson was really guilty of selling liquor to a minor he should be punished and not let off with the penalty of being enforced to resign his office. As he was let off without other punishment is not Sheriff Word guilty of condoning an offense? It is broadly hinted in Troutdale that the mayor's arrest was made for the very purpose encompassed, and that the whole matter was a "frame-up" to that end. Indications point that way and it would be pertinent for Sheriff Word to explain why he let the matter drop in the way he did.

Several weeks ago the sheriff notified one cigar dealer in Gresham to discontinue card playing and said that all the other places here would be notified likewise. Up to yesterday he had not done so and only one man is forced to "be good" by order of the sheriff. There is latent suspicion where the sheriff's information emanates from, and a further suspicion that the sheriff is not only showing partiality but is lending his influence to favorites and condoning an offense that is not denied.

Card playing for anything of value is not approved by this paper, nor does it believe that Sheriff Word should make fish of one and flesh of another. While one place has been compelled to discontinue games for treats several others, the worst ones, are still allowed to continue.

The Outlook, in common with many others, does not believe that a saloon keeper should be mayor of a city neither does it approve of Sheriff Word's methods of deposing one who is mayor.

SUSTAIN THE APPROPRIATION.

The University referendum, threatened by some who are always ready to foster discontent and breed dissension, is probably the most ill-advised thing that anyone can attempt in Oregon politics at this time. The amount of money involved is $175,000, and the cost of a special election will be more than half that sum. The university should have the new buildings for which the money was appropriated and the sum set aside for it is not excessive.

The referendum is being called by H. J. Parkinson, of Portland, a professional agitator and formerly editor of the Labor Press. Farmers, and in fact everybody, would do well to ignore the petition and vote to sustain the appropriation if it comes to an election. Of course it will mean nearly a hundred thousand dollars lost to gain the appropriation for the university and there is no way to make Parkinson and his crowd pay it back, but then it is sometimes worth that much to "set down" on such fellows.

SHOULD SMELT BE PROTECTED

The great run of smelt in the Sandy river again this year brings up the question whether there should be a closed season for them or not, the same as for other fish. A recent writer claims that they are the natural food for young salmon and the growing scarcity of the latter is caused by the lack of smelt to feed on. That his reasoning is a fallacy is evident when one stops to think that smelt have been more plentiful this spring than for many years previous, which shows that they are not decreasing. Another reason is that the smelt if not caught will never go back to the ocean. They die in the Columbia and its tributaries.

But aside from these reasons it should be remembered that there are no salmon going back to the ocean at this time of the year to meet the smelt and eat them. The young salmon went back last fall after being hatched, and marked salmon show that they are four years old before returning. Then, too, the salmon that enters fresh water never eats, but goes on and on as far inland as possible and then dies from starvation and exhaustion.

These reasons are enough to convince anyone that the smelt is not the food for salmon and that it needs no protection. If not caught neither fish will ever go back to salt water alive.

Salmon should be protected because it comes into the rivers to spawn and a closed period is necessary for their preservation, but there is no evidence that the smelt ever spawns in fresh water. They go in vast schools, following the first opening that attracts them and then they die, sink to the bottom and finally float back with the current.

Since last August not a hog has been imported into this state. This is the encouraging news made public the past week by C. C. Colt, head of the Union Meat Co., Portland, who says Oregon farmers are going extensively into the business of livestock raising. During 1911, more than half the total number of hogs received at the Portland market came from Nebraska. Last year, this number decreased to a remarkable extent and now it appears that Oregon will not need to import any more pork in order to feed its own people. On the other hand, we may soon be in position to make substantial shipments outside the state.

Mr. Colt submitted figures showing that the livestock industry in Oregon is five times greater than fruit growing and greater than wheat and dairy products combined.

The program is being made up for the conference on Human Life, its Waste and Conservation, at Reed College, May 9-10-11. It includes speakers and scientists of note. Many exhibits will be installed by societies co-operating in the work of the conference and other states will send many delegates as well as their best authorities on the subject of human welfare.

Additional prizes are being offered for the children's industrial contests to be held in connection with the State Fair. Sums of money formerly offered are being augmented by attractive premiums that will no doubt induce many added exhibits. A list of prizes will soon be issued and circulated by the office of Superintendent Alderman, of the Department of Public Instruction.

Dates for the Pendleton Roundup have been fixed definitely for September 11-13. The former successes of this typically western show are expected to be repeated, or even outdone, since greater preparations are being made for the coming event than ever before.

From Independence comes the report of big profits in loganberries. One grower states that he received $206 from one-half an acre last season. While a new industry, Polk county people are going into the business of growing loganberries extensively.

The Grant's Pass Courier is urging the establishment of a public market, now that a co-operative creamery is assured for that place. "The creamery, the cannery and the public market belong in the same category," it says.

National Master Wilson of the Patrons of Husbandry will come to Oregon to attend the meetings of the state grange in May. He will probably visit the other Northwest states on his trip to the coast.

You will look a good while before you find a better medicine for coughs and colds than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only gives relief—it cures. Try it when you have a cough or cold, and you are certain to be pleased with the prompt cure which it will effect. For sale by Gresham Drug Co., and Dealers everywhere.

Coughs and Consumption.

Coughs and colds, when neglected, always lead to serious trouble of the lungs. The wisest thing to do when you have a cold that troubles you is to get a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. You will get relief from the first dose, and finally the cough will disappear. O. H. Brown, of Muscadine, Ala., writes: "My wife was down in bed with an obstinate cough, and I honestly believe had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, she would not be living today." Known for forty-three years as the best remedy for coughs and colds. Price 50c and $1.00. Recommended by all Druggists.

List of Letters.

The following list of letters remain uncalled for in the Gresham postoffice for the week ending April 13th, 1913.

McCOLL, P. M.
