MAYOR EDMUNDSON
TRIES TO RESIGN OFFICE

recognition, and spoke of an engagement which I had that day with the gun club at Troutdale.

The foregoing in substance are the details of my experience, which I presume in a general way the members of the council are quite familiar with. No charge has been made against me in any court for violating of any law and the sheriff acted in this instance as sheriff, judge and jury. I want the council to know that I had no intention of violating any law; that I took the precaution that any one would take under the circumstances in inquiring about the age of the alleged minor, and I feel that I have been unjustly treated and grossly insulted, humiliated and abused by the sheriff in this instance. I have been advised that the sheriff has no authority to compel me to resign my office but I am doing so that I may protect myself and family from future humiliation and insult and my business from malicious and unwarranted interference on the part of this public officer. I trust my resignation will be accepted.

Yours very truly,
S. A. EDMUNDSON.

TROUTDALE, May 15—The Troutdale Lumber Co. is getting busy and putting in the boom across the Sandy River to catch the ties that are being put in the river at their mill this side of Bull Run.

his resignation as demanded by the sheriff. He stated his reasons for doing so and the council refused to accept it. F. E. Harlow also resigned as treasurer of the town of Troutdale and W. T. Serviss was elected to the office.

G. Bates, who has bought the Troutdale livery barn, took possession this morning.

You can have one of these boxes and in it keep your contracts, insurance policies, deeds, stocks and bonds, abstracts and receipts and so on. Business houses can use them for the overflow from their safes, and save buying a new safe. These boxes are kept in a fire-and burglar-proof vault.

Leland & Michel, proprietors of the Transfer livery barn, are engaging in the buying and selling of livestock on an extensive scale. A peep into their field back of the barn will reveal a fine lot of cows and calves for sale. They are buying everything good in sight and find ready sale for every one of them.

The basket social given by the firemen of Gresham on Wednesday evening was a success, socially and financially. The sum of $50.10 was realized and the boys feel highly elated. By virtue of an order from the Gresham common council a number of septic tanks will have to be constructed throughout the city. Some of them are being built, others will be commenced in a few days and there will be several of them in use with more to follow. Roy and Frank Gibbs went Wednesday to Seaside where they will build a cottage for Roy.

The Outlook received by parcel post the other day, what was at first mistaken for a small automobile tire, but which proved on closer inspection to be a huge doughnut. The only card of identification was one which bore the legend "Made in Oregon." The editor however happened to find out that it was also made in Gresham and found it to be of the same high standard of excellence as other bakery goods "made in Gresham" by Mr. and Mrs. Hainline.

Willard Bliss and Mamie Pitts, former students of the Gresham high school, were visitors at the school today.

The price of beef has gone up to 14 cents a pound, wholesale. It wouldn't be fair to insinuate that the opening of a new meat market in Gresham was the cause.

Strawberries, imported, are in the stores at two for a quarter—that is, two full sized boxes. If summer weather ever gets here the local crop will cause a tumble in prices, and the berries will be bigger and better than any seen here so far this season.
