IN GRESHAM AND VICINITY

Next Sunday morning at the Free Methodist church Rev. S. F. Pitts will preach. The service will be at 11 a. m., with the usual Sunday school at 10 a. m. There will be no service in the evening.

Frank Heiney has bought the property of Miss Lena Rembold on Roberts avenue and Fourth street. He will continue to rent the place.

Rev. and Mrs. Edwin W. Hight are attending the annual conference of the Free Methodist church at Salem.

A laundry has been established at Rockwood which is employing five persons for a starter and which is beginning to establish a good business. A recent article in the Outlook was the stimulant, but it is regrettable that the laundry was not put in operation in Gresham instead of Rockwood. However, it deserves to succeed.

Rapid rise of water on the lowlands of Columbia slough has caused the removal of stock from many places to higher pastures. Upland feeding grounds are in demand just now but after a few weeks the bottom lands will be better than ever as the water recedes. An extra high stage of water is predicted for next month.

A new bridge has just been finished by Road Superintendent Kenney across the gulch at the Section Line road and Cleveland avenue. With the control of the water passing through the big culvert there and the improved appearance of the property the surroundings look somewhat different than they did a year ago.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Simms Thursday morning, a baby boy.

Mrs. Kohonen and Mrs. Else, mother and sister of Mrs. W. F. Honey, have gone by boat to Hood River for a few days' visit.

The public library will not be opened on Friday, Memorial day. After June 1 the library will open at 1 p. m. instead of 12.

Mr. and Mrs. George Leslie went to Seaside Wednesday where they may remain for several weeks before returning home. They will put their cottage in good condition during their stay and rent it out for the summer before coming back.

Mrs. W. F. Honey started Thursday for Menominee, Wisconsin to attend the graduation of her daughter Miss Florence Honey from Stout's Institute. While away she will visit in Minneapolis and Chicago.

E. S. Ellerman, representing the Mount Scott Park Cemetery Co., was in Gresham on Wednesday in the interests of the association.

Father Dewey will celebrate his 83rd birthday anniversary next Sunday with a family reunion at the White Crow hotel.

William Childers has a three-day vacation from service on his rural route and is improving the time by moving his family into Dan Murphy's house on Burr avenue. His route is being delivered by Earl Stanley.

Roy Woods, well known in Gresham has located at Marshfield, in the barbering business. His family will leave here next Sunday to join him there.

Billy Neill and family, the specialty musicians and vaudeville actors, will make their home in Gresham, occupying the house just being vacated by Roy Woods' family.

For the first time in its history the "Federal" building in Gresham flies the American standard. A beautiful flag furnished by the postoffice department was unfurled over the postoffice on Tuesday and will hereafter serve to locate that establishment to everyone.

Memorial Day and the Outlook's Friday appearance coming together at this time is the reason why the paper went to press one day ahead of schedule for this issue.

Mrs. Minnie Dauffenbach left today for Portland where she will visit for a few days before returning to her home in the East.

Kodak Kontest Kiosks.

Next Saturday, May 31, will be the last day of the Eastman Kodak contest which is being conducted by W. R. Burke, the jeweler.

MONITOR'S LOG PRESERVED.

It Was Given to Navy Department by Captain Stodder.

The original log book of the famous Monitor, covering the period of her engagement with the Confederate ironclad Merrimac in Hampton Roads on March 9, 1862, is preserved among the historic records of the navy department.

The restoration of the log to the department was due to Captain Louis Stodder of the United States revenue cutter service and an officer on the Monitor during her entire service. For years he treasured the log among his most valuable possessions, but as the infirmities of age increased he desired to see it placed where its preservation might be assured. Hence it was that he forwarded it to the library of the navy department.

The entries cover dates from Feb. 26 to the end of 1862 and tell of the little "cheese box on a raft" foundering off Cape Hatteras on Dec. 31, 1862, when Stodder was acting master, and of her engagements with the Confederate batteries at Sewall's Point, Hampton Roads, and at Fort Darling, in the James river. But by far the most interesting concern the fight with the Merrimac. Among the entries on Sunday, March 9, 1862, are the following:

4 to 8 p. m.—Fine weather and calm. At sunrise saw three steamers lying under Sewall's Point. Made one out to be the rebel steamer Merrimac. At 7:20 got under way and stood toward her and piped all hands to quarters. J. WEBER.

From 8 to meridian.—Fine, clear weather. The rebel steamers advancing and opened fire on the Merrimac. 8:20 opened fire on the Merrimac. From that time until 12 constantly engaged with the Merrimac. LOUIS STODDER.

From meridian to 4 p. m.—Clear weather. At 12:30 rebel shell struck the pilot-house, severely injuring Commander Worden. 1 p. m., the Merrimac hauled off in a disabled condition. Stood toward the Merrimac and received on board Assistant Secretary Fox of the navy. 2 p. m., Captain Worden left for Fort Monroe in charge of Surgeon Logue. GEORGE FREDERICKSON.

An Incident of the War.

The pickets of the Second Massachusetts and Third Wisconsin made arrangements with the "rebs" one hot afternoon to cease hostilities for two hours. Things went along charmingly for more than an hour, when a young officer appeared on the Confederate line and ordered the men to go to firing.

"We can't do it, sir," said the sergeant. "We have agreed with the Yankees to quit shooting for two hours. The time is only half up."

"Sergeant, order the picket to begin firing at once."

"I can't break my word with the Yankees, sir."

"Then I will begin firing, every man of you."

Not a man touched his gun or started for the pits.

The young officer seized a gun and shot at the Union pickets. That was the signal for our line to open fire. The balance of that day the Confederate pickets in front of those two regiments didn't shoot to kill. Those who didn't shoot in the air separated the chunk of lead from their cartridges—blanked them.

That night a dozen or more of the pickets left their pits and crept into the Union lines, giving as their excuse the conduct of the young officer. Their haversacks were filled the next morning by the Massachusetts and Wisconsin boys as they started on their journey north.—Chicago Times-Herald.

GRADUATIONS AT ESTACADA

Many Graduates Given Diplomas, Flowers, and Best Wishes.

Estacada high school graduating exercises took place at the Estacada Methodist church on Wednesday evening, the church being filled to overflowing and with flowers in great profusion.

The program was appropriate consisting of an invocation by Rev. W. Givens, and an address to the class by President Fletcher Homan of Willamette University, interspersed with music and followed by the presentation of the diplomas.

Class colors were represented in Maroon and gold. Red carnation was the class flower and the class motto adopted was "Be sharp, be natural, but never be flat."

Following is the class roll of graduates for 1913: Doris Lovell, Charles H. Kandle, Rachel M. Reed, Milton D. Evans, George G. Keith, Harry E. Morgan, Nina E. Taylor, Malcolm G. Woodie, Myrtle V. Woodie.

Promotion exercises for the 8th grade of the Estacada school were held in the assembly hall on Tuesday evening with the following graduates:

Philip Adams, Mary Barr, Hattie Belfills, Dora Currin, Grace Denney, Josie Harkenrider, Nelly Hayes, Dorothy Miller, Gladys Townsend, Nettie Woodie, Samuel Barr, Joseph Demoy, Clyde Denney, Atle Erickson, Paul Frazier, George Hicks, George Matthews, Russel Reed, Elmer Sutterfield, Emmitt Sutterfield. Class motto: "We have crossed the bay, the ocean lies beyond." Class colors: Purple and gold.

A splendid program was rendered by the pupils, the hall being crowded with an appreciative audience. Flowers were numerous and congratulations were showered upon every side by those who appreciated the splendid efforts of the class to attain their high proficiency.

ESTACADA, May 28—The Estacada school had one of the best entertainments last Tuesday, May 27, the graduating close of the eighth grade of Estacada. It surely was enjoyed by every one who had the privilege of hearing it. Our school, we think, second to none in the state and the citizens of Estacada are very proud of it and the children that took part in the exercises and especially the teachers who have helped to fit them for their future. Mr. Guthrie and Principal Ford made very interesting addresses to the class before presenting the diplomas and we must not forget Mrs. Altman, whose class it was, for she is a great worker in school and out, and the people are all of one opinion, that there are none better than Mrs. Altman. The house was decorated in class colors, purple and yellow, and a great many cut flowers. The seventh grade band surely made a hit by the way they performed and had to return again. There were several piano solos which goes to show there is some very good musical talent in Estacada.

Miss Helen Bartlett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Bartlett, of Estacada, returned from college at Palo Alto, Cal., yesterday and was at the school entertainment at Estacada Tuesday night. The Bartlett's are building a very nice residence in Estacada. Helen will spend her vacation at home with her parents until she returns to college again next fall.

B. O. Boswell, who was a caller at the Outlook office last Wednesday, referring to the report of his chickens in a recent issue has the following to say:

We are getting fine eggs from the pullets that were hatched the second day of January, the 27th. We got five eggs, two were soft shells, so you see they are very busy in the egg producing line now if any one doubts the truth of this statement, come to Orchard home and Mrs. Boswell will prove to the doubters that all the statements are true about the weight of the one butchered last week, and we do not know the breed they are just a common chicken, black with a little yellow in them. Now if any one can beat it, we would like to hear from them.

Now is the time to get rid of your rheumatism. You can do it by applying Chamberlain's Liniment and massaging the parts freely at each application. For sale by Gresham Drug Co., and Dealers everywhere.
