

SUN DIALS ARE DEFEATED BY UNION MEAT COMPANY

Sunday's ball game on the Fair-view diamond, between the Sun Dials and the Union Meat company was almost a walkover for the meat canners. The home team had been considerably weakened by the substitution of Douglass, of Estacada, for Tom Townsend whose arm had given out, and the score showed the difference. Douglass lacked Townsend's speed, as the strike-outs showed, and the strong support of the field saved what was left to the time pieces. Douglass struck out only three men, while Krause, if the beef cutters put twelve to sleep before they had a chance to try their legs.

Krause walked two men while Douglass also gave first base to two. Heitsman did good work behind the bat for the Sun Dials, never allowing a ball to pass him, while Baller of the meat slicers let two go by, one of which scored a run.

The first three innings showed how the game would eventually go, although neither side scored. The visitors were finding every ball and the Sun Dial field was picking them up in great shape. The first nine visitors went out in that way, none of them reaching first base. With such playing it was only a question of time when the Unions would begin to score, and that time came in the fourth with three runs. The fifth was a repeat and then followed two more like the first three. In the eighth the visitors scored two more and one in the last.

The Sun Dials struggled through six innings without a tally although they had men on the bases frequently, but it seemed to be their luck to die there because they were invariably the best batters and the way or another at just the wrong next to follow were put out in one time.

Heitsman was the first player to make a base. This was in the second and died at the home plate while trying to make it on Douglass' two bagger. He stole third but Smith and Emery struck out and two near runs were never tallied. In the third Stanley went to first on a single, stole second and died there when Heitsman swung his bat in the air three times.

In the sixth the meat company had their worst luck. The first man up went out on a throw to first and the next man got to first, but he was forced to run and a neat double play, Heitsman to Emery, put the two men in the morgue.

Douglass was first to the bat in the seventh inning for the Sun Dials with a two bagger and a steal he got to third and then stole home. What he lacked in pitching he made up in everything else. He made the only other tally with a two-bagger over the left fence, again stole third and made home on Smith's drive. By this time there was only one man left and he ended the game by striking out, leaving Smith stranded on second.

Skarek had the worst luck of all. He made a run that couldn't be counted because of a dead ball. He was sent back to third in the sixth and they left him there.

Every visitor put out by the Sun Dials was due to good fielding except the three strike outs and two men caught napping on second in the seventh inning. Douglass caught the first man after having walked him to first. The third visitor up in the seventh was also walked by Douglass and was put out by Stanley to second.

While the score showed 9 to 2 in favor of the meat company it should have been 8 to 4. The rule that allowed only two bases on a ball over the left fence probably cost the Sun Dials a run, and Skarek's return to third was unfortunate. He was entitled to the run. A ball that rolled under the right field fence gave one of the visitors a home run that was not earned and should never have been allowed. The ground rules need revising.

Following was the line-up:
Sun Dials Position Meat Co.
Stanley s. s. Enerest
Heitsman c. Baller
Skarek c. f. Edwards
Heitsman 2 b. Clark
Douglass p. Krause
Smith r. f. Byrne
Emery 1 b. Crowley
Quisenberry 3 b. Cohn
Thompson l. f. Anderson

The score—
Sun Dials 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 1—2
Union Meat Co. 0 0 0 3 3 0 0 2 1—9
Umpires—Henry Wihlon and Ed. Heslin.

Time of game—One hour and 45 minutes.

Next Sunday's game will be with the Timms-Cress team. Maxmeyer, formerly with McCredie's Beavers, will pitch for the visitors and Townsend expects to be there for the Sun Dials. It was reported that he was saving himself last Sunday in order to meet Maxmeyer in the coming game. With two such pitchers in the box the sport will be worth seeing.

The new club house is nearly finished and is in use. The field has been entirely fenced off from the grandstand and bleachers, and no one can get onto the diamond unless he has business there. Every facility for seeing the game is good and the attendance is increasing each Sunday.

The score on the fourth when the Sun Dials played the Independents, stood 13 to 3 in favor of the home team. Some good ball was played during the game, but some of it was not quite classy enough to be put down as equal to the average.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS TO DO IMPROVEMENTS

At a meeting of the fair directors yesterday it was decided to begin grading the streets through the fair grounds at once. Geo. W. Kenney was given the contract.

It was also decided to have the new stock barns erected within a short time, the plan being to build them along the north and east fences with front openings and a cover over the walks in front. In this way every animal can be seen from the outside. Less space will be taken up than in the old way. Such sheds are in use at Vancouver and are very satisfactory.

Claude Smith was voted a three-year contract for a show building to be erected by himself southeast of the pavilion.

W. C. Burch made a bid for the dancing concession which was accepted. It includes a refreshment stand at night.

A restaurant will be built if any offers are made for the concession at a reasonable figure.

Season tickets were fixed at $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children under 15. Day tickets will be 50 cents, evening tickets, 25c.

The grounds will be platted into lots of five feet front facing the furrow which will probably extend in a semi circle around the south side of the grounds. These lots will be rented for two dollars per front foot each, singly, with each additional lot going for $5 to any single concession.

The publicity committee was authorized to extend invitations to all civic societies of Portland to attend the fair, and was instructed to arrange for a series of slides in the Portland moving picture shows for a week before the fair.

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION SUCCESSFUL IN EVERY MANNER

Gresham's big celebration came and went according to the pre-arranged programs for all events. It was the best from every standpoint that ever took place here and it was different.

Instead of the stereotyped formula of previous celebrations there were no orations, nor parades, nor fireworks, but it was just one high picnic attended by four thousand people from Portland and the surrounding country.

The Caledonians and Clan MacLay came on special trains over the Mt. Hood road. Their Highland costumes and bagpipe band were unusual and attractive features and they were a jolly crowd, bent on enjoying themselves and amusing the people with their national Scottish games. That they succeeded, and did all that was promised was the unanimous verdict.

The racing card put on by the Riverside-Gresham Amusement club was an event that gave the best races ever run on the Gresham track. The shooting match was a feature that started the day's sports and helped to make it interesting. A squad of the best marksmen of the Gresham Gun club shot 50 times each at blue-rocks, making the following scores:

H. Wihlon, 48; D. M. Roberts, 46; H. Matthes, 45; A. Hammar, 43; W. Buck, 37; T. J. Halligan, 36; A. Leland, 35; Lewis Shattuck, 33; George Crowley, 32; T. C. Townsend, 29.

The Races.
Five entries started the 2:25 trot, half-mile, the three winners being Bois D'Arc, first; Hally C., second; Sargo, third—Time, 1:13.

In the 2:20 pace, one half mile, there were six entries. The winners finished as follows: Lightfoot, first; Rubenstein, second; Lilly Hal, third—Time, 1:08.

Five entries were made in the running race, half mile dash. Sally-mint won in 55 seconds.

Scotch Games.
Of the thirty-two features advertised only twenty-four were given because of lack of entries in a few instances and for lack of time. Following are the scores as recorded.

Throwing 16-pound hammer—A. J. McDonald, 94 feet; J. Leslie, 88 feet; Adam Sharp, 82 feet, 4 inches.

Hop, step and leap—J. Leslie, 36 feet, 2 inches; W. E. Jackson, 33 feet 6 1/2 inches; C. S. Laughton, 31 feet, 11 inches.

Putting 16-pound shot—J. Leslie, 37 feet, 9 inches; Adam Sharp, 35 feet, 8 1/2 inches; A. J. McDonald, 34 feet, 9 inches.

Quarter mile race—J. Leslie, L. H. Buller, W. E. Jackson. Best time, 56 1/2 seconds.

Fifty yard race for boys under 16—Albert Buller, first; Lionel Hamlin, second; Russell Gowans, third.

Fifty yard race for girls under ten—Alice Spence, first; Esther Shaw, second; Hazel Schultz, third.

Neatest appearing man in Highland costume—W. C. Graham, first; R. D. Rennie, second.

Sword dance—Margaret Mathew. Bagpipe competition—D. Gray, first; Walter Lock, second.

Best dressed boy or girl in Highland costume—J. S. Smith.

Highland fling for boys or girls—Margaret Mathew, first; Jemima French, second.

Running high jump—J. Leslie, 4 feet, 9 inches.

Tossing the caber—A. J. McDonald, 32 feet, 11 1/2 inches; Tom Barclay, 29 feet, 8 inches; F. Couits, 28 feet, 11 inches.

Throwing 28 pound weight—Jack Leslie, 48 feet; A. J. McDonald, 49 feet, 1/2 inch; A. Green, 49 feet 6 1/2 inches. Green tied with Sharp and won but had to take third prize as his first throw was below that of McDonald.

One hundred yard dash—W. C. Graham, first; L. H. Buller, second; W. E. Jackson, third. Time, 10 1/2 seconds.

Race for men over 40—S. H. Martin, first; W. R. Gould, second; A. Stevenson, third.

One hundred yard race for boys under 16—G. Humason, first; Clyde Grace, second; Arthur Strebin, third.

Fifty yard race for girls under 16—Helen Tierney, first; Jemima French, second; Liza MacLaren, third.

Wheelbarrow race for ladies—Mrs. McCloud, first; Grace Anderson, second; Mrs. Drynan, third.

Single ladies' race—Gladys Bliss, first; Sarah Johnson, second; Stella Bradley, third.

Long jump—J. Leslie, 15 feet, 11 inches.

Three-legged race—Leslie and Wilson.

Tug of war, 10 men on each side—Won by Wilson's team over Thom's best two out of three.

The football teams were composed of all-star players, eleven on each side selected for the occasion under the names of "Mary Hill" and "Program and Rangers." The "Mary Hill" won by the score of 4 to 0.

Dancing in the pavilion was a feature during the afternoon to the music of a good orchestra.

No serious accident was noted, but two young men were slightly injured in the contests. C. S. Laughton, one of the winners in the hop, step and leap was rendered insensible for a few minutes by falling backward, and W. E. Jackson sprained his thigh in the broad jump. Both were able to leave the grounds without assistance.

Commercial Club Dance.

The Commercial club hall was the scene of the closing festivities of the day. The hall was filled to overflowing during the early part of the evening and the dance was continued until 3 o'clock. It was one of the best dances from every standpoint ever given publicly in Gresham. Latourelle's orchestra furnished the music which was superb. Supper was had at the Gresham grill, the two hotels having been eaten out of everything they had before seven o'clock. The net receipts of the dance, turned over to the secretary of the club was $60.10.

The town was remarkably free from disorder during the day and night, City Marshal Gullickson having taken every precaution against any unseemly conduct, and so far no one has been heard of to complain that Gresham did not have the most enjoyable, profitable and successful Fourth of July that ever happened.

The Highland bagpipe band, which attracted so much attention, is known as the Portland Scottish Pipe Band association. It is under the direction of Pipe Major John Smith and includes seven pipes, three snare drums and one base drum. The distinctive dress worn consists of kilts, white tunic and plaid with dangling sporrans. The head dress is Glengarry bonnets, topped with black cocks' tails.

A. R. C. McKenzie, standard bearer of the clan is a member of order known as the Commune Gaid-Lealach. This is an exclusive ancient Scotch society, ranking with the Masonic order in Scotland. Mr. McKenzie is 82 years of age and is one of the only four members of the Commune in the United States, three of whom are living on the Pacific coast.

J. H. McDonald is the champion piper of the Pacific coast. The medals he wears attest his proficiency on the bagpipes.

A. J. McDonald, who won several prizes in the athletic contests is a noted athlete and winner of many medals. He is 61 years of age and can do things that many younger performers would not attempt.

Both the hotels of Gresham were eaten out of everything by 7 o'clock and had to shut up shop. Only the Gresham grill and the firemen's lunch counter kept open after that hour. The grill fed all comers including the dance patrons, and kept open until after 2 o'clock next morning.

Excellent service was maintained on the O. W. P. and Mount Hood lines and there was no complaint except from a few who had to wait for connecting cars at Ruby. No accidents of any kind were reported.

GRESHAM GIRLS' HOSE TEAM TAKES ONE FIRST, TWO SECONDS

When the hose team girls put Gresham on the sporting map by originating something new in sports, the entertaining committees of the coast were quick to invite them to give public exhibitions. Their first call was to the Astoria regatta, from which they have just returned and other cities are bidding for them, including Albany, with its tournament, Seattle with its patch and Pendleton with its roundup.

So popular has the new sport become that there will be girls' hose teams whenever there is a volunteer fire department. Lents followed Gresham and contested with the girls here on June 5th. Then Astoria organized a team to meet them both. That is the way the new sport started and it is gaining in favor to such an extent that it promises to become one of the permanent features of every celebration.

The hose team events at Astoria on the Fourth and fifth were easily the best part of the celebration. Three contests were carried out of which the Gresham girls won a first and two second honors. The Astoria team won two firsts and one second. The Lents team ranked third in all the contests.

Every effort was made to give the visiting girls a good time. They had a share in the land and regatta parades, being given the places of honor in both. Admiral Spencer took them under his special care on his flagship in the aquatic pageant and otherwise provided for their entertainment with a banquet excursions on the bay, auto rides and theater invitations.

Space forbids telling the whole story of the trip and the races, but the following account of the contests from the Astorian is the most important.

The first race was run before a crowd that filled every foot of standing room for a block on Commercial street, and the Astoria girls had the honor of carrying off the palm of victory. Each team ran separately and the local girls made the first run. The time for the 100 yards being 18 .-5 seconds. Gresham made the run in 20 1-5 seconds and Lents in 21 seconds.

The two remaining races were held on Saturday. The Astorian says:

"The dry test was held at 9 o'clock on Bond street. A run of 100 yards was made and the hose coupled onto the hydrant, but the water was not turned on. In this contest Astoria and Lents tied for first place the time being 34 4-5 seconds. Gresham's time was 35 1-5."

The race was given to Astoria because Lents' hose was 32 feet shorter than the others. Gresham was given second.

At four o'clock the third race was run. The test consisted of running a full block, connecting the hose to the hydrant and turning on the water. The Gresham team won this race, the time being 33 2-5 seconds. Astoria girls were second in 41 1-5 seconds; Lents third in 45.

All three teams had a streak of bad luck. Astoria got a kink in the hose in one contest. Lents failed to make connection at the hydrant so that the water burst out when it was turned on, and in the dry test, where Gresham lost by 2-5 of a second, one of the girls dropped the nozzle, thus losing first place.

Speaking of different events of the regatta the Astorian says:

"While all the land sports staged during the first two days of the regatta and Fourth of July celebration were more or less interesting none proved as popular as the hose team races between the young ladies of Gresham, Lents and Astoria."

In a foot race for cash prizes two Astoria girls, two Gresham girls, Olive Merrill and Georgina Hamlin, and a Lents girl were entered for a dash of one block. The two from Astoria were first and second, Georgina Hamlin getting third.

COUNTY EXPENSE LESS FOR FIRST HALF YEAR

County Assessor Reed leads the list of county officials who has run his department at less expense during the first six months of the present year than it was conducted during the same period last year. The figures given in the semi-annual report of County Auditor Martin, which is now ready for the printer, shows that Reed and his assistants drew $21,82.58 from the county treasurer up to June 30, while last year the expenses of the auditor for the same period were $28,284.16. A portion of the saving is accounted for by the fact that the 1913 assessment roll does not contain the assessment of household goods, this item having been eliminated by the initiative bill passed by the people last fall. The number of field deputies thus was cut down for the present year. However, Mr. Reed declares that this does not account for all of the saving. He declares that his deputies have worked long hours and have done effective service, thus cutting down the pay roll. Other officials who are on the "honor roll," include School Superintendent Armstrong, who saved $350, County Surveyor Holbrook, who cut down expenses $400, and County Treasurer Lewis, who saved about the same amount.

Subscriptions to be Solicited.

There have been no developments in the automobile factory proposition for several days, but the matter will be taken up aggressively in a few days. There are about $8000 in sight and more in prospect. There is scarcely any doubt about raising the necessary amount. Solicitors will begin taking subscriptions this week to complete the work.

EUNICE M. DOUGLASS HEAD OF MARKET

Mrs. Eunice M. Douglass, well known in Eastern Multnomah, has been chosen as the head of the Portland Juvenile market located at the corner of First and Stark streets. She will visit the various schools and home gardens and urge the children to continue the cultivation of their plots for a second crop of seasonable vegetables, so as to keep the market constantly supplied. On Wednesdays and Fridays she will superintend the sale of produce. Besides the garden truck, the market will deal in baking and salad edibles made by the domestic science pupils of the various schools.

W. E. TERHUNE HURT

W. E. Terhune, a young unmarried man aged about 25 years, is in the Good Samaritan hospital badly injured about the face, the result of an accident at the O. W. P. station here on Saturday morning last. He was assisting in the moving of one of the transformers at the power station when a railroad tie swung around, as it flew from its place under the machine, striking him on the right cheek. He was in a narrow place near the wall and his head was pushed against the brickwork with such force that his right cheek bone was crushed in and he was made insensible. He was taken to the hospital at once and was doing well at last accounts from there.

Evening Session Hereafter.

Multnomah Grange, No. 71, at Orient, will hereafter hold an evening session once each month in addition to the regular day meeting. The evening session will be held on the second Wednesday evening. The day session will be held as at present on the fourth Saturday, beginning at 10:30 a. m.
