

THE SUN DIALS HAVE HOODOO

Unlucky Thirteen Gets into Score for Third Time in Six Games.

A mixture of unfortunate circumstances caused the Sun Dials to lose out on Sunday in their game with the Timms-Cress team. Maxmeyer who was to play with the visitors as pitcher failed to show up and Townsend's arm was still in bad, so that he decided not to pitch. Thompson was selected to lead the sacrifice and he did it to perfection in the first inning. His record was seven tallies by the visitors, five walks to first and nary a strike-out. Of nine men to the bat under his jurisdiction five were walked, two struck by balls and one made a first base hit. The other man was caught out on a fly to center. The management ended the slaughter right there by substituting Heslin who pitched for three more batters and got two of them, leaving two or bases. That ended the first can to but bad luck pursued the Sun Dials to the close of their half. Four men went up. Stanley was out on a strike; Townsend got hit and went to first when Heslin forced him off and a double play and Heitsman put the side out with a big round hole on the scoreboard.

Then the visitors loaned the home team a pitcher. Marshall pitched the remainder of the game, Heitsman taking his delivery while Smith dropped out. After that the visitors made only six more runs, one in the third and five in the fifth. By a strange fate Marshall made the first run for the Sun Dials and the only one until the sixth when Skarek and Quisenberry got home on a passed ball. Stanley stole in on a lost ball in the ninth, and the game was over. Thompson's fierce luck as a pitcher was not due to anything but inexperience in the box. He is a good player in other positions. The fact is that the only good pitcher in Townsend that has played in the Sun Dials this season. Two other good men are the Leader brothers of Corbett. One is a pitcher and both were expected to be in the game last Sunday, but on Saturday they got word of the finding of their brother's body, who was drowned at Yakima, and they couldn't come. They will probably play with the Sun Dials next Sunday.

Heincke, the Timms-Cress twirler was scarcely above the average. He made but nine strike-outs during the game. The Sun Dials pitchers scored five—one by Heslin, four by Marshall. Three walks were made by Heincke and he hit one with the ball. The visitors made twelve safe hits and the Sun Dials nine. These show that the home team did better work in the field than the visitors. With equal good luck they would have scored several more runs. Stupp of the visitors made a beautiful left-hand catch in right field, and some of the other plays on both sides were good.

The score was, Sun Dials, 4; Timms-Cress, 13. Umpires—H. Wilson, Ed. Heslin.

Next Sunday's game will be between the Sun Dials and the Harrison team from railroad row, Portland.

PORTION OF THE DOMESTIC SCIENCE DISPLAY AT 1912 FAIR.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE DEPARTMENT OFFERS PRIZES

Interest in the domestic science department of the Multnomah county fair is growing, judging from the inquiries being made, and there is every indication that the women are going to have one of the biggest and best exhibits this year ever shown here.

The generous list of premiums published by the superintendent of this division, Mrs. O. A. Eastman in the annual premium list covers every class. The classes number seventeen, ranging through the various articles pertaining to that division from sewing and needlework to preserving and pickles. The entries total 132, being the largest list in the book excepting livestock. Articles in this department may be entered at the secretary's office on the grounds two days before the fair, and exhibitors are requested to make their entries early. All articles must be in charge of the superintendent by 10 o'clock, Sept. 16. While many of the prizes are comparatively small they total up a good sum. Those who prefer diplomas will be accommodated upon request for all prizes amounting to one dollar and over. This will be a new feature and many will prefer diplomas as a lasting evidence of their skill.

There is but one special prize in this department a baby buggy valued at $12 donated by R. R. Carlson for the best display of not less than six pieces of baby's outfit, hand made. This prize is worth contending for. Displays for this prize must be made up of specimens other than those entered for single or other premiums, but the losers may be awarded a diploma for merit upon recommendation of the judges.

OREGON BANKING LAW MADE FOR PROTECTION

Among the banking laws of the state of Oregon is an act to prohibit the circulation of false or injurious or derogatory reports upon the financial standing of any bank or trust company doing business in the state and providing a penalty for the violation thereof.

This act is very drastic and is published herewith for the benefit of the reading public who may be interested:

"Any person who shall willfully and maliciously circulate and transmit to any person or persons any false statement, rumor or suggestion, written or oral, which is directly or by inference derogatory to the financial standing or reputation of any bank, banking institution or trust company doing business in this state, or who shall counsel, aid, procure or induce another to start, transmit or circulate any such false statements, rumors or suggestions shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not less than one month, or by a fine of not less than $250 nor more than $500, or by both such fine and imprisonment."

Wants Bull Run Water.
Oregon City is making an effort to get Bull Run water. They know a good thing and Gresham don't need it all. We are generous enough to let some of it go on through town to Portland and are willing to give Oregon City some. The plan is to tap the big pipe just this side of Mount Tabor if arrangements can be made with the Portland authorities.

LaGrande citizens will probably vote October 1 on a new city charter

STOCK SALES ARE GROWING

Beaver Motor Company May Come to Gresham if Encouraged.

Frank McCrillis, promoter of the Beaver Motor Co., together with O. A. Eastman and Charles Cleveland were engaged this morning in making a canvass for capital stock. They met with excellent success, one subscription amounting to $2000. It is understood that about $10,000 have been pledged but it is said that fully $5000 more is in sight.

While it cannot be definitely stated that success is assured, or that the company will come to Gresham in any event, it begins to look as if the efforts to bring the factory here are nearing success.

This is Gresham's greatest opportunity and it only needs the cooperation of everyone to secure the works and their attendant adjuncts of prosperity.

A regular meeting of the Gresham Commercial club will be held tomorrow evening at which time it is more than possible some definite announcement concerning the automobile factory situation will be made.

GIRLS HOSE TEAM SURPRISES MANAGER

An appreciative surprise party was sprung by the girls' hose team on their business manager, Ernest Thompson, last Friday evening at the home of Miss Laura Davis. Every detail had been arranged by the girls and Mr. Thompson was decoyed to the Davis residence on some more or less important matter but he stayed through one of the most pleasant affairs of his existence. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Davis, Miss Laura Davis, Mrs. Charles Merrill, Miss Ethel Merrill, Miss Olive Merrill, Miss Eva Hamlin, Miss Georgina Hamlin, Mrs. W. Quisenberry, Miss Addie Quisenberry, Etsell Jones, Mrs. Grace Jones, Mrs. E. L. Thorpe, Miss Hester Thorpe, Miss Evelyn Metzger and the honored guest of the occasion, Ernest Thompson. Refreshments were provided by the girls and a pleasant evening was well spent until near midnight's witching hour.

BADGER JINKS NEXT SUNDAY

Wisconsin Progressives Are Going to Show Gresham how to Celebrate.

Wisconsin people are preparing to show Oregonians how to have a good time next Sunday when they gather here for their big picnic. Every preparation is being made for their reception at the fair grounds by the local committee and they are expected to take the town. Being progressives they are not going to do all the picnicing alone and there will be room for outsiders provided they bring their own lunch baskets along.

There will be speaking and music and other enjoyable features, one of the attractions being a brass band. It is going to be just a jolly get-together occasion for the mutual enjoyment of all Wisconsin people and there are bunches of them in Gresham who will be glad of the occasion to welcome those from other places for a day which will be reminiscent of old times in the Badger state. The only thing that can stop them will be one of our Oregon rains, and they are getting pretty well used to them by this time.

CONTRACT IS LET FOR NEW BUILDING

Johanson & Villa, Portland contractors, were the lowest bidders on the new Jacobson brick, to be erected at the southeast corner of Powell and Main streets. They will sub-let a part of the work, probably all of it, to local builders and operations will be pushed as rapidly as possible. The old building was taken from its foundations this morning and is now on its way to a new location one block west.

The basement of the new building will be of concrete and owing to the nature of the ground will go down two stories below the level of the street. The front and west side of the structure will be of white pressed brick, covering all the front space to the sidewalk line. When finished the lower store will be occupied by Herman Mathes and the upper floor will be used for office purposes with a stairway leading up from both streets.

WILLIAM LUELING DIES OF PARALYSIS

William Luelling, whose severe illness was noted in a former issue of the Outlook, died at the home of his niece, Mrs. James Hillyard, on Sunday evening last. His illness dated from April 3, which was his 59th birthday anniversary, at which time he suffered a severe stroke of paralysis affecting his right side.

On the 9th of June he attended the rose festival in Portland and went to a session of the K. of P. lodge that night. After retiring he was again seized with a second stroke from which he never rallied. Later he was brought to the home of Mrs. Hillyard in Powell Valley where he died, as stated.

Mr. Luelling was born April 3, 1854, on what is known as the Sweet Briar farm at Melrose. He was the first white child born in all this part of the county, in what was then more commonly known as Powell Valley. He was the son of pioneer parents, the Sweet Briar farm being his father's donation land claim. In 1862 the family emigrated to Eastern Oregon where he remained until nine years ago when he returned and made his home at Melrose near the site of his birth.

He was never married, his nearest surviving relatives being two brothers A. L. and Benjamin Luelling and a sister, Mrs. Edith Hastings. Mrs. Hillyard, Mrs. Sadie Kesterson and Mrs. James Hill are more distantly related, being nieces. Other distant relatives are Austin Jones, Mrs. Dan Dunbar and Mrs. Elizabeth Stafford, all cousins.

The funeral will take place from the Gresham Baptist church at 2 tomorrow. Interment will be made in the Douglass cemetery at Troutdale.

COLUMBIA BRICKYARD RUNNING FULL CAPACITY

A visit to the Columbia brick yard reveals the fact that the plant is working to its full capacity with fifteen men employed. Several new styles of brick are being turned out and some large shipments are being made. It is rumored that the company has secured two big contracts for early delivery, one of which is the largest ever given to a local factory. The report could not be confirmed but it is said that the material for the new Pittock building and the Northwest bank structure, both in Portland, will be sent from here. The Pittock building will cover an entire block on Washington street. The bank building is replacing the old Marquam. There is good reason to believe the reports are correct.
