"The Linotype Way is the Way that Wins."

Official paper of the Town of Gresham, Oregon.
Official paper of the Town of Fairview, Oregon.

Entered as second-class matter March 3, 1911, at the postoffice at Gresham, Oregon, under the act of March 3, 1879.

A PROTECTED BANK.

Reference elsewhere to the banking laws of the state will convey to the minds of intelligent people the fact that it is rather risky business to say anything derogatory to any banking institution, either orally or in writing. The law was passed only last February and has been in force but a short time, hence it is not generally known, but it is a wise provision that protects our financial institutions from more or less malicious attacks, or unthinking remarks due more to ignorance than malice.

The signed guarantee of the Bank of Gresham in this issue of the Outlook means more to the depositors of that institution than appears on the surface. Those signatures carry with them individually and collectively a guarantee to assume all the liabilities of the bank. This guarantee is aside from their shares of the capital stock and gives the bank the backing of a quarter of a million dollars.

If all our financial institutions had such protection there would be less fear of loss and less danger of panic, for when it is known that all deposits are guaranteed there is no cause for unrest. The signers of the guarantee of the stability of the bank of Gresham are all well known in this community, and as their agreement binds them to become responsible for its liabilities the public is assured of its solidity to the extent of their private fortunes.

At least we have so far been spared the universal silly summer question.

THE DAMMEIER PRIZES.

Some criticism has been heard concerning the awarding of the Dammeier prizes for the best lawns, but according to the terms of the contest, the committee could scarcely do otherwise than it did.

Last year according to the terms, the prizes were to be given for new lawns that met certain requirements, old ones being barred. This was for the purpose of encouraging the work of making beauty spots and it was thought that there would be incentive enough to keep the idea of a city beautiful in the minds of all the contestants, at least.

Each member was anxious to bestow the awards where painstaking effort should have been considered above the money spent on the lawns that were awarded the prizes. Several very beautiful lawns that should be given more than honorable mention were necessarily passed up just because there were two which strictly complied with the conditions.

For Cuts, Burns and Bruises.
In every home there should be a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, ready to apply in every case of burns, cuts, wounds or scalds. J. H. Polanco, Delville, Tex., R. No. 2, writes: "Bucklen's Arnica Salve saved my little girl's cut foot. No one believed it could be cured." The world's best salve. Only 25c. Recommended by all Druggists.

Dun & Co., report fewer business failures during the first half of 1913 than the same period a year ago. While the number is less, some of the more recent insolvencies have been of exceptional size so that the aggregate liabilities reached the highest point since 1893, the total being $132,909,061. Banking failures, according to the months of 1913 were 55, the same as last year, but the liabilities were only little more than a third of those of the first six months of 1912.

A few days ago contracts were let at Medford for the construction of a $40,000 pre-cooling and storage plant, the contract calling for its completion by the 15th of August, in time for the first shipment of pears. The building is to be 80x124 feet in size and will have a capacity of 100 carloads.

Recently compiled statistics place New York City on the top of the list of leading ports of the world. In 1912 New York had a greater commerce than London. The commerce of the single port of New York in 1912 was four times greater than that of the entire nation fifty years ago.

Get up, brother! do your duty!
Never falter by the way.
