

GRESHAM OUTLOOK

TWICE A WEEK
Published every Tuesday and Friday at Gresham, Oregon

H. L. ST. CLAIR, Editor and Publ'r.

Official paper of the Town of Gresham, Oregon.
Official paper of the Town of Fairview, Oregon.

Entered as second-class matter March 3, 1911, at the postoffice at Gresham, Oregon, under the act of March 3, 1879.

CONSCIENCE NOT CONSULTED.

Recent disclosure in this vicinity of a lapse of filial devotion, wherein an aged woman is reported to have lain for ten months in an attic with a broken leg without medical care, calls for stronger expressions of censure than the Outlook feels called upon to make. That the story is not written out in full is because it would serve no good purpose to give it further publicity. No extenuating circumstances have been shown, and it would seem that a daughter surrounded with plenty would have given her aged mother the best of care.

The invalid is now receiving attention and medical attendance due to the efforts of some Gresham women who accidentally became aware of her condition and notified the proper authorities who at once took the matter in hand. The patient will be cared for from now on and the incident will be forgotten by the general public, but it should rankle the consciences of an unfeeling daughter and her husband who allowed the woman to remain poorly cared for and neglected in that condition since last September.

THAT ILLUMINATION.

Notwithstanding the Oregonian's sneers at those who assert they saw the illumination of Mount Hood on Monday evening last, there are several persons who saw it just as described in the Outlook. Among them were three from the Outlook office. The red fire was burned promptly on the minute but perhaps not on the mountain. The Portland evening papers were correct in their statements about it and we would suggest that the Oregonian wear glasses and be a little more enterprising. It is a joke on a paper to get scooped on anything, and the joke is doubly so on the Oregonian this time. Its efforts to make others seem foolish are rather far fetched.

The special number of the Pacific Grange Bulletin, being the regular July issue in an increased number of pages, has been received. It contains 44 pages of matter pertaining to the grange, farm problems and the most noted members of the order in Oregon. The subjects cover a wide range and the historical features make it a valuable paper for future reference.

It will be 400 years next October since Balboa discovered the Pacific ocean. Those who were here in 1492, when Columbus discovered us, were just old enough to vote, but nothing was heard about the Oregon system as far as anyone is able to learn at this later date.

A comparison of the figures, by R. G. Dun & Co., for the first six months of this year with the corresponding period of the preceding year shows an increase of 110 in the number of failures with a decrease of over $100,000 in aggregate liabilities.

The building permits for Portland Seattle, Spokane and Tacoma for the past six months foot up $16,124,515. The total bank clearings for the same period are $798,688,865.29. These figures were compiled by R. G. Dun & Co.

If that automobile factory doesn't hurry up some it will soon be time for the 1915 models.

Card of Thanks.

To those who so kindly assisted us in our bereavement, sustained in the loss of a loving husband and father, the late Francis A. Hupp; and for the flowers received as tokens of sympathy and esteem, we wish to express our heartfelt thanks. Mrs. Francis A. Hupp, Charles Hupp, Mrs. George Russell.

SAD SERENADE.

"Sighing, dying, lying, frying
In the furnace of love's fire;
Weeping, creeping, leaping, sleeping—
Yet my love will ne'er expire."

Thus the song the lover sang
As he tuned his light guitar;
These the words the still night rang,
Echoing out their wild notes far:

"Moping, groping, hoping, sloping
From the fates that lure me on;
Cheering, nearing, hearing, fearing
Love's last hope is dead and gone."

Then he touched the tinkling chords;
Low and tender was the strain—
Hushed his voice, but music's words
Bore the maid this sweet refrain:

"Alry, fairy, tarry, marry
One that loves, and loves you most
Scary, dare? hari-kari!
I'll suicide and yield the ghost."

Thus was heard the mournful word
Floating on the quiet air;
But another, too, was stirred,
Beside the maiden young and fair.

Flashing, slashing, smashing, crashing
Came the old man's heavy tread;
Dashing, mashing, lashing, hashing
With his cane the young man's head.

Hshed the love song and the music—
Broken banjo—banged-up head.
That young man is feeling too sick—
Now he courts the softest bed.

EUGENE L. THORPE.

According to the year book of the Anti-Saloon league, just published, prohibition in Kansas presents a much more favorable financial standing than does license in Missouri. Missouri has more natural advantages than Kansas, such as mineral deposits, forests and richer soil, more rainfall and a nearer market. It is a much older state than Kansas. Its population is nearly double that of Kansas, Missouri having 3,300,000 population and Kansas having 1,690,000 population. Missouri has three cities larger than any in Kansas.

In Kansas there is hardly a town of 1,500 population but has its electric lights, water and sewer systems, while in Missouri numbers of towns of four and five thousand population have no paved streets, electric lights or water system. In Missouri the assessed value of is $2,750,000,000. In Missouri the assessed valuation is $300 per capita. In Kansas the assessed valuation is $1,750 per capita. In the panic of 1907, when the eastern banks appealed to those in the west for money to ease up the situation, Missouri with all its large banks in its large cities, refused to send one penny to the East, while Kansas bankers got together $50,000,000 and sent it to help the eastern banks in their emergency.

In Missouri there is $20 per capita deposited in the banks. In Kansas there is $100 per capita deposited in the banks.

In Missouri one farmer in 100 owns an auto. In Kansas one farmer in five owns an auto.

In Missouri common labor gets $8 per week and in Kansas common labor gets $14 per week.

Why these differences? The year book offers this explanation: "In Missouri there are over 4,000 saloons into which the people of the state pay $80,000,000 a year. In Kansas there are no saloons. Missourians expend on the average $24 a year for liquor. Kansans spends only $1.48 per year. Therefore, Missouri has been wasting her resources in the saloon while Kansas has been depositing her money in banks.
