Official paper of the Town of Gresham, Oregon. Official paper of the Town of Fairview, Oregon.

Entered as second-class matter March 3, 1911, at the postoffice at Gresham, Oregon, under the act of March 3, 1879.

APPRECIATED.

The Outlook is in occasional receipt of commendatory words from its readers, all of which are highly appreciated as an encouraging sign of its efforts to please.

VALUE OF ORGANIZATION.

Over in the city of Milwaukie, about a year ago, there was a flourishing Commercial club which was endeavoring to do something for the community.

Like such organizations in many other places it went into a state of innocuous desuetude, and when there was something for it to do there was no one to do it.

When the Beaver State Motor company was casting about for a location for its factory it was hovering for several weeks; so to speak, over Milwaukie and Gresham, alternately smiling first on one place then on the other. The rest is history.

But the point we are seeking to make clear is the value of an organization in dealing with such propositions. Gresham won out in the contest for the Motor company, and its victory is principally due to the splendid support of the Gresham Commercial club.

The people of Milwaukie are now reorganizing their Commercial club. It is a case of locking the barn door after the horse is stolen. It will now get a new horse and perhaps will take better care of it hereafter.

The Gresham Commercial club is asking and should receive the cordial support and co-operation of every citizen of the town. Its doors are open to all worthy applicants and especially to the farmers of the vicinity for several miles around.

Nearly 100 manufacturing and jobbing firms of Portland are represented on the committee which is perfecting the details of the entertainment for out-of-town merchants who are to visit Portland during "Buyers' Excursion Week," September 1-6.

A Pendleton woman has just divorced her ninth husband. One of the round-up attractions, probably. Let 'er buck.

SHORT STORIES TERSLEY TOLD

PORTLAND, Sept. 2.—(Special)—

Presently the campaign for the issuing of bonds for the erection of that part of the interstate bridge across the Columbia river by Multnomah county will be started. First petitions will be circulated in order to get the measure on the ballot in the next November election.

Next Saturday Evening Star grange will celebrate the 40th anniversary of its organization at its hall, Section Line road, with an appropriate program under the charge of Miss Willda Buckman, lecturer.

Portland will erect a combination building, including an auditorium, Oregon Historical Society and Art Museum, under one roof, if the plans that have been prepared under the direction of the East Side Business Men's club are carried out.

Milwaukie, smarting under the loss of the plant of the Beaver State Motor company to Gresham, has decided to make a movement for manufacturing establishments through the organization of a Commercial club.

The funeral of R. W. Evans, a pioneer locomotive engineer on the Southern Pacific line between Woodburn and Silverton, who died Sunday night, will be held Wednesday of this week.

Safest Laxative for Women.

Nearly every woman needs a good laxative. Dr. King's New Life Pills are good because they are prompt, safe, and do not cause pain.

Oregon products spell prosperity this year, for they were never worth so much money as the present season. It is estimated that the grand total for the state this year will be $245,979,000, more than $20,000,000 in excess of the returns of last year.

Labor Day was such a restful affair that everybody settled down to work again today in order to get rested up.

Top Buggies, open Buggies, Hacks Carts, Bain and Old Hickory Wagons, Waterloo Gas Engines, New Idea Manure Spreader. Talk with Hessel.

Additional Gresham Locals

Mrs. H. A. Kent and Mrs. S. P. Bittner and children returned Saturday from Seaside where they had been for the past two weeks.

The car service provided by the P. R. L. & P. Co., between Portland and Fairview, on the two routes, was all that could be asked. It plainly evidenced the favorable attitude of the company toward the smaller but attractive localities outside of Portland.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Gresham Volunteer Fire department will be held in the fire hall tomorrow night, (Wednesday.) A full attendance of all firemen is desired.

The celebration on Labor Day at Fairview was a good thing, well planned and well executed. It served to attract considerable attention to our neighbor on the north, it brought together many hundreds of people from neighboring localities and from Portland.

E. E. Chipman and L. P. Manning attended the rural letter carriers' convention at Oregon City on Sunday and Monday. The former was on the resolution committee, the latter on the committee for good of the order.

Diarrhoea Quickly Cured.

"I was taken with diarrhoea and Mr. Yorks, the merchant here, persuaded me to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After taking one dose of it I was cured. It also cured others that I gave it to."

It was mentioned in these columns a week ago that a representative of a labor union was in Gresham on "business" connected with the affiliated trades.

One of the incentives that decided the Beaver Motor company to locate here was to avoid the unions; the Oregon Packing company is looking this way with the same idea in view.

The labor unions are trying to make Portland a "closed shop" town where no man who is not branded with the union label shall be allowed to earn a living.

Imagine what would happen if the unions were in full control in Gresham, and no person could find work except through union influence and no man could do business except by union consent.

No city ever becomes rich enough or big enough to deny to a large class of its citizens the right to work; nor does any ever become great enough to say to homeseekers and business men that unless they wear the union brand they shall not be allowed to come among us.
