There will be a meeting of the Library Board at the library, next Monday evening. All members are urged to be present.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT CAUSES BROKEN LIMB

Mrs. Roy Kern met with a painful accident on Tuesday evening in which her right ankle was broken. She was in C. M. Zimmerman's automobile on her way home. It was after nightfall and in the darkness a farm team almost came in collision with the auto. The machine was stopped but Mrs. Kern became frightened and jumped out, breaking her ankle as described.

Dr. S. P. Bittner made an examination and found both bones broken, one being splintered down into the ankle joint. It will take a tedious time for her to recover and a stiff ankle may be the result. She is resting easily at last reports.

PET DEER KILLED AFTER ACCIDENT

Billy is dead. Billy was G. H. Dammeler's pet deer and the immediate cause of his death was a sharp knife in the hands of an experienced butcher. His death was necessitated by contact with a barbed wire which so lacerated his face that it was necessary to kill him to save his life [pardon the Irish.] and he was sacrificed in the interests of humanity.

Billy was a pet that had ideas of his own. In fact he was turning the tables on the Dammeler family and had almost made them subservient to his own inclinations. Only the superiority of the human mind over that of the brute creation kept him from ordering the affairs of the family to suit himself. In his early life he would follow his captives up the front steps but he used the wild life method in going down and would jump off the porch. One lesson, however, taught him to descend in a more dignified manner and he never jumped down again.

One day he was attracted by the savory smells of the kitchen and was discovered licking the skillet on the kitchen range. A mild chastisement had no effect and he was soon becoming an intolerable nuisance around the house. Only closed doors could keep him out.

As an instance of his agility it is related that he was one day shut up in the barn to prevent his following the family down town. The only opening left was a window eight feet above the floor, and a few minutes later Billy was seen trotting down the road toward town where it is unlawful for a deer to run at large.

But Billy will run around no more. He has licked his last skillet, but the skillets and pots of Mr. Dammeler's friends are savory from cooking his remains. The aforesaid friends got all there was of him as the Dammelers had too much regard for their erstwhile pet to help eat him.

Girls' Club Will Study Birds.

The girls' club at the library will take up for the coming year as their topic, "Birds of U. S." During the fall and winter, birds of those seasons in all parts of the country will be discussed. For the spring the Washington and Oregon birds will be studied with an opera glass. In this way the birds will be made more interesting. Next Thursday the china pheasant will be discussed.

 All are cordially invited to all these services. E. A. Leonard, acting pastor.
