

HOSE TEAM GIRLS DANCE

Gresham's hose team girls are not only the champions in their racing contests, but they seem to hold the record for social events as well.

Saturday evening's midnight dance, given by the girls, was a success in every particular. The Commercial hall was filled early and with a representation of the most select people of the town and vicinity. The dances were reeled off with amazing rapidity under the inspiring strains from Alyswoth's four-piece orchestra. The mazy whirl speeding, the time from 8 o'clock to 12 in one long-to-be-remembered evening of delight.

All the girls were dressed in tasty uniforms of black and orange the latter color being in evidence only in a big letter G upon the front of their black sweaters. They had full charge of the affair, did all the business in connection with it, ran the check room and acted as floor managers.

No man was left standing without a partner if he cared to dance—and they all did under the persuasive blandishments of the girls who seem to understand dance hall diplomacy as well as they do the art of going after racing championships.

The hall was gracefully decorated in ferns and brakes with orange embellishments in relief. A rocky, walled-in tank of ice water represented a "fountain" and it was a happy inspiration to relieve the thirsty dancers whenever their exertions had made them feel the need of something cooling and refreshing.

About 75 couples were on the dancing list, the net results being somewhere around $40. Another dance is contemplated along about New Years, as the girls are anxious to add to their bank account before the racing "season" opens again next summer.

Attention!
Come to the Baptist church next Thursday at 7:30 p. m. and hear a thrilling lecture by Miss Belle Crawford. Miss Crawford has been a missionary among the Indians for a number of years. She tell a wonderful story of the civilizing and christianizing of almost an entire tribe of the red man. Men, women and children are invited to come. E. A. LEONARD, Pastor.

FINDS TWO MOTOR-BIKES

To find something is a sign of good luck; it beats dreaming about things. To find two motorcycles in one summer is better luck than most people have or even dream about.

Roy Gore, who works for George Lee at Rockwood, found a motor bike in July which he promptly advertised in the Outlook and then he found the owner.

That would have ended the motor finding career of anybody else but on the 13th of this month—which some people think is an unlucky day—he found another. The last machine was found in the brush about 50 yards from the road two miles below Rockwood. It had been taken to pieces but all the parts were there and in fairly good condition. Being a genius in the machinery line, the lucky finder put it together and it runs nearly as good as new.

He reported his second "find" to the Outlook, but as there is a list of the license tags on file at the advertising desk he was directed to the supposed owner which, was given somewhere on Stark street in Portland. Inquiry revealed the fact that the family had moved away in January and no trace can be found of them.

Mr. Gore is at present one motor-bike ahead of good fortune but he is keeping his eyes open for another. Shouldn't wonder if he'd find it.

Portland will hold a special city election December 9, to vote on charter amendments.

OREGON DELEGATE TO CONVENTION SPEAKS

Rev. F. H. Freund, pastor of Zion Evangelical church, spoke last Sunday night at the Methodist Episcopal church to a large and appreciative audience, on his trip to Europe and the great world's convention to which he was a delegate. The United States and Canada sent over 1300 delegates to this convention.

Mr. Freund sailed with a party of 409 delegates, which was known as the official party because of the fact that many officers of the World's association were among them. The party left Boston on June 12, going early in order to give time for them to visit the Azores and Mediterranean places of interest. Mr. Freund's account of these visits was exceedingly interesting.

"Like the spokes of a wheel," said the speaker, "the Sunday school workers of the world met in Zurich, Switzerland, on July 8, to the number of 2609. The week from the 8th to the 15th was full of inspiring reports and speeches. Six great commissions reported, having studied the problems of Sunday school work in all parts of the world. They were of great scope and inspiring. Above the convention platform was suspended a globe and over that a blood red cross with the inscription 'In hoc signis.'" The singing was led by a chorus of 400 voices, and was an inspiring feature of the event. Among the special features of interest to be mentioned were the daily Bible studies by F. B. Meyer, of London, the raising of $110,000 for the world's work by Marion Lawrence of Chicago, the burst of enthusiasm that led to the choice of Tokio, Japan, as the place of meeting of the world's convention in 1916, and the remarkable closing service, in which 30,000 people took part, when each sang in the language he could use best such familiar hymns as "Nearer My God to Thee" and "Ein Feste Berg Ist Unser Gott. The great concourse of people joined hands and sang Hiest Be the Tie That Binds. Mr. Meyer pronounced the benediction and the seventh triennial convention of the World's Sunday school association was at an end.

GRANDMA'S OLD FRIEND.
An old lady laughed immoderately at a story told at a dinner in Chicago.
The story-teller looked at her inquiringly.
"Oh!" she gasped, "it's a great favorite of mine. The first time I heard it I laughed so hard I almost kicked the footboard off my crib!"—Saturday Evening Post.

Variety is necessary to form the mosaic of life, and fraternity adjusts the fragments to make one harmonious whole.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS NOTES

Gresham's high school executive committee now consists of eight members. At the last assembly meeting Miss Katherine Honey was elected to represent the student body; also two of the teachers.

The committee now consists of Metzger, Nellie Faris, Emelle Anderson, Hester Thorpe, Katherine Honey, Miss Jessie Young and Miss Elsa von Wintzengerode.

It has been decided that the Gresham high school shall enter the state debating league. The officers of the literary society are, president, Katherine Honey; secretary, Christine Burkholder; treasurer, Laura Davis. The chairman of the program committee is Laura Shipley.

The first subject of debate will be: "Resolved, The United States should have a larger navy." The club is under the direction of Miss Young.

A schedule of football games has been arranged from now to Thanksgiving as follows:

Melrose

Mrs. E. A. Stafford is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Dowsett at Gresham. Mrs. Mamie Cuddiford, of Ridgefield, Wash., visited the week-end with her sister, Mrs. Chet. Stafford. Miss Ingalls, our teacher, spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Ingalls, at St. Johns.

One of the Jap ladies on the Streb farm is sick.

As Mrs. Spybrock and daughter, who live beyond the Sandy were on their way to Gresham Saturday, their horse frightened and upset the buggy throwing them out but fortunately they escaped serious injury. A number of eggs which they were taking to market were broken and the buggy will need much repairing. A kitchen shower was given Miss Marie Wilhelm Saturday night which announces a soon-to-be wedding.

Some of our folks attended the quarterly meeting at Pleasant Home, Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Knowles, a fine boy October 17.

Miss Echo Jones spent Sunday with Miss Henrietta Wiles.

Mrs. Douglass announces that there will be an auction sale of various articles at the juvenile public market, First and Yamhill streets, on Saturday evening, October 25.

An elderly darky speaking to a young one, asked:
"Look yeah, John, is yo' married?"
John, with a grin, said:
"I ain't sayin' dat I ain't."
To which the old darky replied testily:
"I ain't askin' yo' is yo' ain't; I'm askin' yo' is yo' is; is yo'?"—Chicago Tribune.

Willie had been absent from school a whole day, so the teacher sent to his mother the usual excuse blank to fill out. When it was returned to her it held the following excuse:
"Deer teacher Willie got wet in the a. m. and sick in the p. m."—Woman's Home Companion.

Washington County went down on the map good and strong last week when she gave the biggest and best county fair in the Willamette valley. And that is going some! A gentleman who attended Multnomah county fair says we skinned them a mile. Good. What will we do with the prize winners at the State Fair next year. Just watch our smoke. Fourth this year with only two localities represented.—Forest Grove Times.

AUTO STOLEN AND FOUND

S. E. Toepleman was the victim of automobile thieves on Saturday night in Portland. With a family party to bring home after the theatre he found his auto gone, and it was a case of sending the others home by trolley while he put in the time until about one o'clock Sunday afternoon in looking for his machine.

About noon an automobile was seen stuck in the mud at East Fifty-fourth and East Oak streets. Two young men and two girls left it there and disappeared. A man living close by saw that the license number was missing and phoned the police who notified Mr. Toepleman and the machine was recovered.

One of the young men who left the auto was recognized and the discovery has been made that the two couples were here and attended the dance on Saturday night. They arrived about 11:30. One of the boys and the two girls took a few whirls but the other boy remained in the ante room because his clothes were not good enough for dancing.

The Portland police is working on the case and have found that one of the boys has been in such escapades before, and has been arrested twice for stealing autos. He has an uncontrollable appetite for autos and is working himself to a long sentence in jail for his rewards.

Some damage was done to Mr. Toepleman's auto and two extra tires were thrown away.

Two other autos were stolen in Portland on Friday night and three the night before. It is getting to be a common occurrence down there and some system will have to be devised to put a stop to it.

JUNIOR LEAGUERS ENJOY THEMSELVES

The Junior Leaguers were entertained Saturday afternoon by Miss Hoagland at her mother's home on Powell Valley road. The perfect day was too enticing to be resisted and after a short business meeting the children enjoyed out-of-door games until called in for refreshments. Harold Lyman won the prize for the potato race—a pumpkin jack-o'-lantern. Raymond Halligan showed his mastery skill at carving a pumpkin face, and Mildred Pullen outstripped all the girls in running. Mr. Grove Smith appeared with his moving van at the psychological moment and a jolly ride down town made a fitting ending to a happy afternoon. Those present were, Winifred St. Clair, Margaret Lawe, Margaret Gould, Jeanie Gould, Mildred Pullen, Marjorie Lyman, Harold Lyman, Glen Rusher, Raymond Halligan and Arthur Lahman.

WOMAN'S WIT.

Charlotte Perkins Gilman tells the story of the woman who went to market one morning to buy some geese and found five hanging outside the shop. "I am a boarding-house keeper," she remarked, with a smile: "Will you pick out for me the three of those geese that are toughest?" The man laughed knowingly and obeyed. "Thank you," said the woman briskly. "Now I'll take the other two."—Judge.

"I can't understand how you have the presumption to think I would permit my daughter to become your wife."

"It does seem rather surprising, I suppose; but cheer up. You're not as badly upset as I was when she suggested it to me."—Chicago Record-Herald.

FIRE SWEEPS SANDY BLOCK

A block of business buildings at Sandy, five in all, was swept away by fire early yesterday morning, the loss covering about $6000 with half that amount of insurance on them.

The fire originated in a vacant building known as the Mount Hood saloon. How it originated no one knows but it was soon a roaring mass of flames and the fire was spreading to Bell Bros' livery stable from whence it jumped to Mrs. Margaret Goger's restaurant and then to Bert Edward's saloon. Another small building used as a shoe shop was next, and there the flames were conquered by tearing the building down but its ruins were also burned.

A telephone call was sent to Gresham for help, but a later message was sent telling the firemen here that they could do no good. The buildings were gone and the flames were checked the only further damage being broken windows and blistered paint across the street.

The empty saloon building was owned by J. O'Dell. The others were owned by Casper Yunker. The latter carried $3000 insurance. All the horses were taken out of the burning stable but three buggies, a lot of harness and about 50 tons of hay were burned, together with a lot of grain and the fixtures from the empty saloon. The contents of the other three places were mostly saved.

The owners of the buildings began clearing away the embers before they were cold and will begin to rebuild at once.

NATUROPATH SYSTEM CURES ST. VITUS DANCE

A young nephew of Theodore and Andrew Brugger, Henry Karpenstein, who came here from Nebraska in August with his mother, was badly afflicted with St. Vitus' dance upon arrival here but has gone home cured. The seeming miracle was accomplished by Dr. B. J. Freese in a course of treatments lasting less than a month.

The boy was unable to walk when the first treatment was given, but in a few days was able to walk from Linneman to Gresham and was frequently seen on the streets with a complete cure to the credit of the naturopath system.

In conversation with Dr. Freese he was positive in his declaration that infantile paralysis can be cured, despite the assertions that it is an incurable disease. His method of treatment restores the nerve supply and natural vitality does the rest. He agrees that drugs will not cure, and takes no credit to himself for a cure except as he assists nature to do the work.

A recreation league has been formed in Portland. It will devise ways for its members to spend their leisure hours. As its name might imply to the initiated it will be wholly composed of those who have lots of money and lots of time.

W. O. W. PLANS FOR THE FAIR

A big movement is being inaugurated by the Woodmen of the World Camps of Portland to take a part in the Panama exposition at San Francisco year after next.

At a meeting of the central committee of the eleven Woodmen Camps, held last Sunday in the Woodmen temple, 35 delegates were present and they will take the matter up more fully in their respective camps within a short time.

The plan as outlined by City Auditor A. L. Barbur is to send two members to San Francisco to select a site of 20 acres for a Woodmen of the World "city" which will be the exposition refuge of all members of the order during the continuance of the fair.

The great need of something of the kind was fully explained. It will afford a "home" for Woodmen and their families where they will be protected from the dangers and rapacity attendant upon a stay in San Francisco, and will also afford an economical opportunity to live while there.

It is intended to run the "city" on municipal lines, with a "mayor" and a commission of five members to enforce a 12 laws of the immigration corporation. All sanitary matters will be looked after and every convenience will be afforded for the comfort of those who may take up residence in the place.

It is intended to enlist the aid of the San Francisco Woodmen in the scheme and make all plans broad enough to take in the entire jurisdiction, covering the nine Pacific states. The head camp, at Denver, will be called upon to help and will probably finance the movement, as it means much more to the order at large with its 115,000 members than it does to the individual camps.

A committee of three members, with Mr. Barbur as chairman, has the matter in charge and will push it along as rapidly as possible.

Pleasant Home

A number of Pleasant Home people attended the social given at Mr. Altman's last Saturday evening.

District Superintendent Moore preached here Sunday, staying over until Monday to attend first quarterly conference.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Lennartz, of Sandy, were Pleasant Home callers Sunday, later attending a family reunion at Rockwood.

The W. C. T. U. meeting was postponed till next Friday. All members are urged to be present as there is important business to transact.

A number of Pleasant Home ladies registered at Gresham during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Day, of Portland, visited over Sunday here with the former's parents.

J. E. Lovel is plumbing Ed. Senter's house this week.

Frank Comwell is building an addition to his house on Clare road.

Mr. and Mrs. Markell, of Portland, visited with their uncle W. E. Markell, of this place Sunday.

The Ladies' Aid meets with Mrs. Geo. Blackburn Wednesday afternoon, October 29.

Don't forget to register your choice of books for the new library at Thynnaman's store.

Twenty-two ladies, members and friends of the M. E. Ladies' Aid society, met last Thursday at the home of Mrs. James Manary to enjoy a social time and tea. A nice lunch was served which added $2 to the societies treasury. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Geo. Blackburn on Thursday, October 29.

Card of Thanks.

W wish to extend our sincere thanks to the many kind friends and neighbors who so nobly stood by us during the sickness and death of our dear Eva.

Signed, Mr. and Mrs. Turner and Blaine.

Closing of Low Prices.

The special low prices lumber sale of the Sandy Fir Lumber Co., and the Straus Lumber company, notices of which have been running in the Outlook for the past three months, will close positively on October 25. Those who contemplate buying lumber should take advantage of these offers before that date.
