

NOTICE TO WATER USERS

WATER WILL BE SHUT OFF.

The city of Gresham will be without water for 24 hours in order that the new meter may be connected. Water users are notified to have a supply drawn for the emergency.

A new water meter for the Gresham connection with the Bull Run line has just arrived. It is a National Meter Company's "resident" compound, costing $75.00. The meter exchange has been made with an allowance of $240 for the old Worthington meter and the balance thereof.

It is the intention to install the new meter tomorrow, Wednesday, commencing at noon, if an expert from Portland can be secured at that time. In any event the water will be shut off from the city mains, and will probably be off for twenty-four hours.

Every consumer is notified to have a full supply of water ready drawn in the emergency and to keep in mind that the work may be completed without further warning.

LAST TRIBUTE OF RESPECT

Mrs. Josephine Congdon, whose sudden illness was announced in the Outlook last Friday, was buried yesterday morning at Mount Scott cemetery. She was stricken about 4 o'clock on Thursday afternoon last and died on Saturday morning at 5. Mrs. Congdon was born in Moretown, Vermont, June 17, 1861, and moved with her parents to Brainerd, Minn., when ten years old. She was married to William Congdon at the age of 17. The family came to Gresham in 1907 and lived for seven years south of town on a farm. When the new Congdon hotel was opened they took charge and it was there she died.

She is survived by her husband, one son, Carl, and two daughters, Mrs. F. Schofield of New Westminster, and Mrs. Maude Hesel of Victoria. They were all here at the funeral yesterday.

Her mother, Mrs. Matilda Roton, was here with her when she died. Her father, William Shontell is a resident of Middleton, Michigan, besides whom is a grandson, Ralph Kepler, living here.

Herbert Schofield and Charles Hesel, husbands of the two daughters arrived here before the funeral. They will return to their homes, accompanied by Mrs. Roton. Mr. Congdon and Ralph Kepler will remain here.

Services were held from the M. E. church, Dr. Thompson officiating, assisted by Rev. M. T. Wire and Rev. S. F. Pitts. A choir composed of Mrs. Charles Cleveland, Mrs. O. J. Brown, C. E. Rusher and Bert Lindsey led in the singing. Flowers in abundance were contributed, including floral pieces from the Masonic lodge of Gresham and the Eastern Star lodge of Troutdale. The church was overcrowded with a sympathizing gathering of friends who thus testified their appreciation of the loss the community has sustained in her removal from life to another and higher sphere.

The pall bearers were R. R. Carlson, L. L. Kidder, James Elkington, H. M. Miller, Arthur Dowsett and Will Hessel. After the services in the church the remains were taken to Mount Scott and interred in the family plot.

Mrs. Congdon enjoyed the acquaintance of a large circle of friends all of whom regret her sudden departure. As an attentive hostess at the hotel she had all the tact and energy to please her patrons, as those knowing her will testify. The loss to the community is only second to that of her relatives.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank the many friends who have so kindly assisted us in the sickness and death of our loved one, and for the many floral tributes and other expressions of sympathy.

Wm. Congdon, Carl Congdon, Mrs. Maud Hesel, Mrs. Frank Schofield, Mrs. M. Roton, Ralph Kepler.

Tree Planting Time

Gresham is far behind the time in the matter of tree planting. A young growing city with the good prospects that this one has should give especial attention to the beautifying of its streets. This can best be done now by a systematic setting out of shade and ornamental trees along our streets. All beautiful cities have given attention to this, invariably early in their history, and now attract the well-to-do homeseeker and suburban resident.

Plans should be formulated and each property owner work to further the same along his street or avenue, in his district, and in the city at large, so far as possible.

A committee of the Commercial club and of the Women's League is working on a plan and seeks suggestions from any and all interested. They hope to announce a plan in a few days. In the meantime let everybody be thinking. The Outlook will gladly make public any suggestions that may be made.

The article by Chas. Cleveland, published elsewhere in this issue came to us after the above was in type. It is in the right line as encouraging the idea. Let others express their views and the committee will know better how to plan. Look out for more on this subject in Friday's Outlook.

SHADE TREES AS BEAUTIFIERS

The following appeal is made by an interested citizen for a system of shade trees as beautifiers of our streets and county roads.

Next to fine residences with well kept lawns; well paved streets and walks; and buildings or architectural beauty, nothing can add more to the attractiveness of a city or town than shade trees whether along the curb or upon the lawn. What is more delightful than the approach to some of our eastern towns through long lines of trees which furnish shade from the hot summer sun? Did you ever see a city or town that was called beautiful which did not have many tree-lined streets? What helps to make Pennsylvania avenue famous? The Linden trees. Many of the towns of the west look very much better than when I first saw them before the trees were large enough to be beautiful.

Gresham is about to enter on a new era of prosperity. Indications are that many well-to-do people from those states that are subject to severe winters, will as they advance in years, and are able to partially retire from business, seek homes in and around Portland, where the warm Japan current, bringing gentle mists from the southern seas, so tempers our climate that extreme frost or snows are unknown. To this favored climate hundreds of people will throng in the next decade, and if they find a community in advance of its neighbors in civic pride and one that has anticipated their wishes by having made many desirable improvements such as we now have, they will stop awhile to investigate.

We should begin now to beautify our town and the country around. Plant out shade trees along the country roads and streets of Gresham and make this portion of the country so beautiful and desirable that those looking for a home will find in this vicinity something that suits their fancy. Who will suggest a way to accomplish such a result? Write this paper or call up the Civic Improvement committee of the Commercial club.

CHAS. CLEVELAND,
One of the Committee.

WINTER RACING SPORT ON GRESHAM TRACK

Winter horse races is a sport that is enjoyed in many places but it is practically new in Oregon. Yet there is no reason why something of the kind should not be done here in the early winter season, before there is any snow or heavy mud.

The Willamette Valley Racing club is an organization trying to promote the sport here and will hold a race meet at the Gresham fair grounds on Saturday next, Nov. 22.

Many of the well known race horses from the fall fairs are being kept in prime condition and quite a string will be here on that occasion. Among them will be Black Joe, Cora Patch, White Hope, Nellie Ash and others. Several horses that are better known locally are Leo H., Drummer, Lattisha S., Nellie May, Nigger Babe, Birdie Lee, Come Again, Maud McG., Sallie Mint, Pet, Chorus Kate and See Bright.

The managers of the racing meet are A. Powell and R. E. Neal who are making complete arrangements.

UNITED STATES MAY OBJECT

Congressman A. W. Lafferty is in Oregon for two weeks, taking a vacation before entering upon his duties in the next session of congress which will convene on the first Monday in December.

He was in Gresham yesterday and made the Outlook a pleasant call. In fact he spent an hour in conversation with the office force before he was allowed to leave and during that time he was made the subject of an interview upon several of the important measures that are now taking up the time of the special congressional session and the attention of the people.

Mr. Lafferty is looking well and feeling good. His work at the national capital is well in hand and there is great harmony among the members of the Oregon delegation. All of them are working for the best interests of the state. He failed to state the reason for his visit here at this time except to say that he was taking a short rest and wanted to be at home for awhile before tackling the problems of the coming session; but he intimated that he might be here again in May to look after his own interests in the primaries.

He paid a high compliment to the Outlook as a newspaper and ranks it among his best supporters, making it clear that he values its influence in any cause it may champion.

His ideas on national subjects are embraced in the following statements, gleaned from his remarks in reply to questions about them:

"The new currency bill will become a law in January, 1914, in my opinion," said Congressman Lafferty. "It will undoubtedly make times better. The bill has passed the House, and is just ready to be favorably reported by the Senate committee. The Senate will talk on the bill for about a month. Hence I figure it will become a law about January."

"The Secretary of the Interior has just approved of the final orders for building the West Umatilla irrigation project to cost four million dollars. This project is 125 miles east of Gresham, on the Columbia river."

"The Mexican trouble is bound to come to a head soon. Unless the rebels succeed in overthrowing Huerta intervention by the United States will be inevitable. If President Wilson decides to recognize the rebels, and let them buy arms, they may win and set up a stable government."

"The Oregon delegation is now working in perfect harmony for the good of the state. Senator Lane is making good. Oregon is the premier progressive state. Her delegation in congress are standing for progressive laws."

"The Wilson administration is doing fairly well, but it is a little too conservative to suit me. It is going forward in the right direction, but it is moving too slow."

"I have bills pending for government ownership of telephones, government loans direct to the farmers and for an interstate trade commission to control monopolies."

GIRLS' BASKET BALL TEAMS ARE NAMED

The Gresham high school basket ball teams have been formed for the coming season as follows: Captain, Gladys Michel; manager, Evelyn Metzger; with Olive Merrill, Isabel Metzger and Hester Thorpe to comprise the first team. The second team will consist of Laura Davis, Addie Quesinberry, Catherine Honey, Laura and Mabel Shipley, with the first two as substitutes for the first team. Miss Jessie Young will be their coach.

GRANGE AFTER GAME LAWS

Saturday's meeting of the Masters' and Lecturers' association with Rockwood grange was prolific of a resolution that will go to Pomona grange in December and probably to the state grange.

The resolution was inspired by the editorial in Friday's Outlook on that phase of the game laws of the state which prevents the selling of game. The resolution asks that the laws be amended in that particular; also that the use of dogs be forbidden in hunting upland birds.

The session was largely attended, among those present as visitors being Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Vail, and Miss Wilda Buckman of Evening Star; T. J. Kreuder and A. F. Miller, of Lents; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Cavanagh and Mrs. Donald McKay Gresham; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dickenson, of Oswego; Mr. and Mrs. William Rowen, of Fairview; Mrs. Susan Wendell of Woodlawn; and C. M. Lake, of Multnomah.

The session lasted until late in the afternoon, a portion of the time being taken up with a good lecture program and the discussion of a splendid grange dinner.

The next session of the Masters' and Lecturers' association will be with Lents grange in February.

CONTEST FILED AGAINST CLOSING

The promised and expected filing of a contest was made on Friday in County Clerk Coffey's office by Herman Mathes and Hans Jacobsen, who charge irregularities in the recent election which voted Gresham dry. The court was asked to enjoin the county commissioners from issuing an order declaring the town "dry," and a temporary injunction was made subject to a hearing before one of the circuit judges.

The legality of the election is contested on the grounds that the election was not held on the date of a general state or city election; that the petition filed with the county clerk, and on which the commissioners ordered the election did not show that the voters who signed it were residents within the corporate limits of Gresham, and that the sheriff's return did not show that the notices had been posted, as required by law.

TWELVE TOUCHDOWNS IN FOOTBALL SCORE

Twelve touchdowns and seven kicks tell the story of last Saturday's football game between the Gresham High and the Orient school. The score of 79 to 0 was a decided victory for Gresham and, is partially explained in the fact that Orient has had but little practice.

Gresham used the forward pass and straight, football for the most consistent gains. Ralph Stanley bucked the line for first down whenever it was most needed and the entire backfield and both ends got loose for long runs at will.

The last game of the season will be played with Washougal at Washougal on November 22.

FREE METHODIST CHURCH—Gresham. Edwin W. Hight, Pastor. Sunday school 10 a. m., preaching at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Prayer meeting each Wednesday evening at 8.
