The City Bakery has begun the distribution of the most artistic and novel calendar for 1914 that has been seen here. It represents a medieval tower but is embellished with a useful thermometer embedded in the tower window. It will be both useful and ornamental in the other years to follow.

N. O. Fuller, who has been busy building a house and improving his property in Cleveland's addition for several weeks past, went today to Lebanon to spend a week or two with his family. It is expected that they will move here within the near future.

Miss Bessie Howitt is home from Corvallis to spend the Xmas holidays with the home folks.

M. D. Kern is the recipient of a goose for his Christmas dinner, sent him by parcel post by his daughter, Mrs. W. J. Hollenbeck, of Heyburn, Idaho.

W. R. Gould suffered a severe straining of his back while working in the woods one day last week, and as a consequence was confined to his bed for several days. While working with another man rolling a log, his companion's peavy slipped, letting the load fall on Mr. Gould.

Child's Wagons, Velocipedes and Wheelbarrows, at Sterling & Kidder's.

The second quarterly meeting of the year will be held in the Free Methodist church this week, beginning Friday evening and continuing over Sunday. The district elder, Rev. W. N. Coffee of Portland, is expected to preach Friday and Saturday evenings and Sunday morning and evening. Sunday school will convene at 9:30, love feast at 10; the morning preaching will begin at 11 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Christmas services at St. Henry's Catholic church will begin at 7 o'clock in the morning with first mass, to be followed by a second at 9 o'clock and the last at 10:30. These will be the only Christmas Day services at that church.

Croup and Cough Remedy.
Croup is a terrible disease, it attacks children so suddenly they are very apt to choke unless given the proper remedy at once. There is nothing better in the world than Dr. King's New Discovery. Lewis Chamberlain, of Manchester, Ohio, writes about his children: "Sometimes in severe attacks we were afraid they would die, but since we proved what a certain remedy Dr. King's New Discovery is, we have no fear. We rely on it for croup, coughs and colds." So can you. 50c and $1.00. A bottle should be in every home. At all druggists. H. E. J. & Co., Philadelphia, St. Louis.

Weekly Oregonian subscription offer extended.

IN GRESHAM AND VICINITY

Yesterday's shooting match for Christmas fowls was largely attended and many birds were won. The scores were universally good, some of the best shots carrying away several birds each. The snow made it rather difficult for a steady aim but there was enough enthusiasm to make the sport successful.

The December issue of the Multnomah Booster was issued from the Outlook press yesterday and was an exceptionally fine number. It was a good Christmas paper, well filled with Woodmen news and special articles. It goes to 2500 members of Camp No. 77 and will be a welcome messenger to every Woodman of the World in the biggest Camp of the Northwest.

There is no change in the automobile factory situation as far as known in Gresham. It is reported, but the report is not authentic, that one name is yet lacking on the deed to the Powell tract, and that the papers will be all signed up in a day or so. Beyond this there is nothing to be said.

Word has been received from Miss Maude Cleveland, who is attending Wellesley College, that she will not be home for the Christmas holidays, but will spend them in New York with friends.

Miss Maude Mason of Portland, is spending a few days with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Mewhirter.

Mayo Bradfield, a cousin of Mrs. C. E. Rusher, called on the Rusher family Sunday.

Christmas will be celebrated at Zion Evangelical church by a program and tree on Christmas day. The exercises will begin at 10:30.

The telephone girls are enjoying a box of fine Spitzenberg apples, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Alder.

Miss Minnie Istrom, who has been assisting at the Congdon hotel for the past few weeks, went today to Grants Pass where she will work in a hotel.

Miss Leila Gibbs is at Anderson station where she is nursing the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Appleton.

A disarrangement of the power wires on Sunday evening left the city in darkness for nearly two hours. There was some inconvenience which was cheerfully borne by the people until the current was restored.

A ripple of excitement was caused Friday evening when the chimney at the home of Mrs. Rose Metzger burned out. No serious damage was done.

The Gresham schools will close for the holidays tomorrow afternoon and will reopen again on Monday, January 5.

From the size of the loads the rural carriers are taking out for delivery every day now it would seem that some of the people elsewhere did their shopping early. As Christmas is not a holiday with the postoffice force the carriers will be the hardest worked people in the United States next Thursday.

Claude Sunderland, of Woodlawn, attended the Gresham skating rink on Saturday evening and spent Sunday with friends in this vicinity.

All the stores of Gresham are keeping open evenings this week.

The dance to be given tomorrow evening by the hose team girls will be the most important public event of Christmas eve. Aside from the several Christmas trees it will be the most largely attended of any event in Gresham during the holidays.

The masquerade to be given at Fairview tomorrow evening will be one of the big affairs of the holiday season. Dancing will continue until early morning and supper will be served in the hall. Suitable prizes will be given for the two best sustained characters, lady and gentleman.

An error in the membership of Rockwood grange, as published in the Outlook last Friday gave the wrong number as to the total membership in Multnomah county. Rockwood has 65 members, and the total as reported at Pomona was 941.

Professor C. E. Rice, instructor in the Gresham high school, who has been confined with the measles for two weeks past has so far recovered that he was able to be out yesterday and will leave today for Cottage Grove where he will spend the holidays. He will return in time to take up his duties the first Monday in January.

Mrs. Roy Kern returned Monday from the hospital in Portland where she has been for more than a month for treatment.

Sudden changes in the temperature during the past few days have developed many colds and a few cases of grip, especially among children. There is a feeling of anxiety in the minds of Oregonians whenever the rain gives way to freezing, sleet and snow and there is nothing quite so welcome after such a spell as the Oregon mist.

Dr. H. H. Hughes had a birthday dinner the other Sunday but he won't tell how old he was. Being a bachelor the dinner was arranged by the "folks at home" and there were only a few invited outside of the family. The invited guests were Miss Frances Fuller, Dr. McLean and Dr. Dillehunt, all of Portland, with Joseph Pateneau and William Crow of Gresham.

The Christmas program to be given by the Methodist Sunday school next Wednesday evening, is well in hand, and the public is invited to enjoy it. An old fashioned Christmas tree will close the evening's entertainment. A committee of ladies will be at the church from 2 o'clock until the exercises begin to receive and hang the gifts and guard them. All are welcome to bring gifts for their friends. The program will begin at 7:30.

The library will be closed Christmas eve from 7 to 9, and all day Christmas day.
