NEW RED CROSS FIELD.

Primarily organized for the purpose of alleviating the horrors of war, the Red Cross, especially in the United States, has abundantly demonstrated its efficiency in affording relief in time of peace.

Its work in alleviating human suffering on occasion of great catastrophes and its part in waging war on tuberculosis are too well known to need recapitulation, and now Miss Mabel T. Broadman submits a proposal that the Red Cross enter a new field. The figures which she presents with reference to the lumber camps of the country are such as will surprise most people who consider themselves fairly well informed.

The lumber industry of the United States employs 800,000 men and their occupation is extra hazardous. Miss Boardman states that each year the number of fatalities is nearly 2000. Eight thousand men annually are permanently injured, and 70,000 are temporarily incapacitated.

It is not proposed to cover the entire field but to form experimental Red Cross stations in some of the larger camps with a view to further extension of the work in a field for which such an organization is especially adapted.

EGGS FROM CHINA.

The high cost of eggs is responsible for another large shipment of them from China, received in Portland last week. The admission of eggs free of duty under the new tariff law has inspired hope in the breasts of consumers and some little apprehension among producers, but the consignments thus far received do not warrant the one or the other. Observation among the wholesale houses show that the eggs arrived in apparent good order and were well packed, but so far as size is concerned the lot was composed of small eggs and not carefully graded.

Some that were seen frying at a chop house appeared to be good except that there was a slight odor and they seemed watery. They were longer frying than fresh Oregon eggs and bubbled in the skillet. The quality and condition of the stock is said to be so irregular that comparison with domestic eggs is so far impossible. Some holders assert that they cannot be classed with seconds of domestic stock. Many dealers who looked over the lots offered classed the importation as equal to cold storage first, and it was the general opinion that a great deal of improvement in quality must be shown in order to create competition of a decided nature at this end of the market.

It seems that some of the schools of Oregon are teaching spelling, as they used to do in old times. One hundred per cent perfect on 50 words is not much of a feat, but it shows some progress, at least. Thirty years ago it took an hour to spell a class down with the hardest words in the spelling book.

As a sample of how the Woodmen of the World do things it may be noted that the Portland camps have secured Crystal Lake Park for the 1915 Fourth of July celebration. They are coming to Gresham this year for their Fourth of July.

St. Louis will stage a play requiring 8600 actors. Every tie-pans barn-stormer should hit the hike.

Probably not so many candidates for governor this month. Three days shorter, you know.

When the supreme court says it's so, it's so whether it's so or not so.

What is expected to be the most important session of the Oregon Irrigation congress ever held will be called to order at the Imperial Hotel in Portland on February 13 and will last for two days. It is expected that fully 200 men, representing all sections of the state, will be in attendance. About 40 organizations of water users, ditch owners and commercial bodies now belong to the congress and each is expected to send five delegates.

William Hanley, president of the congress, has announced that one of the most important problems to come before the business session at that time will be: "How to Finance the Individual Projects in Different Locations and give the owners the right to install their own irrigation plants." It will be contended that each municipality or project shall have the right to make its own rules and regulations in the same way that a private corporation handles its own affairs. On the night of February 14 a banquet will be given to the visiting delegates at the Imperial Hotel in celebration of the effective work done by the congress since the last session.

Equipped with stock from the Oregon Agricultural college, carrying expert instructors from that institution and also a number of farmers who have proven that hog raising and dairying are profitable pursuits in Oregon, the Southern Pacific demonstration train will start from Independence on the morning of February 2, concluding its trip at Albany on the 14th, in the meantime having passed over all S, P. and P. E. & E. lines. Arrangements have been made for two lectures with demonstrations at every stop. This train is intended to take the advantages of the college direct to the barn door of the farm and stands for practical farm education.

Believing that alfalfa growing is of vast importance, not only to the livestock interests of the state, but also in its relation to the up-building and maintenance of soil fertility, the State Superintendent of Public Instruction has set aside the entire second week of March as "Alfalfa week". Every school in Oregon, including the one-room country schools, will be expected to place special emphasis on the subject of alfalfa. In the lower grades this instruction will be in the form of story-telling by the teacher and comments and questions by the pupils. In the upper grades, all the written composition of the classes will be on the subject of alfalfa and its relation to other industries.

The dates for the Pendleton Round-up this year have been definitely fixed for September 24-25-26. The early fixing of the dates was caused by the desire of Eastern roads for ample time in which to list the Round-up in their advertising. It is the present plan of the association to permanently adopt the last week in September for the show.

February being a bottled month, people need to hustle a little more vigorously.

Some people praise the life record of a dead man, though never speaking well of him while he was alive.

F. W. Vanderbilt's palatial yacht Warrior having been wrecked, perhaps he will name his next one Peace. Except for past experiences, farmers would employ many of the idle men. But they have been biked too often.

Civil government is quite a different task from digging a canal, but probably Colonel Goethals will again make good.

Khyber Pass. The Khyber pass, from the time of Alexander the Great, has been noted as the great military and trade gateway into India from the Asiatic countries to the east. The pass begins near Jamrud in India, ten and one-half miles west of Peshawar, and twists through the hills for about thirty-three miles in a northwesterly direction till it debouches at Dukka, in Afghanistan.

No Wonder! The tired business man was found in a state of collapse on the sixth floor of a downtown office building. Restoratives were applied, and he sat up feebly. "I'm all right now," he explained. "You see, I wanted to go up to our other office on the tenth floor—and there he gasped for breath—I found the elevator—going—up!"—New York Post.

Most Profitable Age and Types of Beef Cattle.

Successful livestock growers as well as dealers in livestock and meats, must know the market demands and then grow animals that will meet them. This is the cardinal principle of the industry as announced by Mr. Forestel, expert buyer for the Union Meat company, in the livestock demonstration before the Oregon Agricultural College Short Course students. Farmers that raise livestock for beef and pork, often aim at the production of animals as big and as fat as they can be made. When those farmers take the stock to the markets they are disappointed and often angry because it brings less per pound than the smaller animals. Beef animals are sold with the highest margin of profit at from one to two years of age. A grower recently sold a yearling steer in the city market for $95 at the same time that another grower sold a two-year old for $117. There is no profit at all in carrying beef animals after they are two or three years old.

It was further pointed out that types should be developed that carry high percentages in the choice parts of the carcass. Everybody wants porterhouse steak and prime ribs, and these cuts must bear the loss of the chuck, which is about 42 per cent of the dressed beef. And then people wonder why beef is so high. But growers will profit by knowing the facts, if they choose their beef types accordingly.

Without A Coast Man.

"The vacancies in the interstate commission have been filled. One appointee is from New Jersey and the other from Colorado. The other members of the commission are from the following states: Alabama, Kentucky, Illinois, Wisconsin and Iowa. For the first time since its organization, the commission is without a member from the Pacific coast. There isn't, indeed, a member west of the Rocky mountains. On the contrary, nearly all the members are from a narrow circle of states near the center of the country, and they are states out of sympathy with the claims and issues incident to traffic on the coast."—Daily Journal.

Just to finish the comparison we would remark that Eastern Multnomah is not represented in any of the county offices. Sheriff Word, County Clerk Coffey, Assessor Reed and Treasurer Lewis each have a small army of deputies and clerks and all of them are from the city of Portland. Solid republican majorities from every precinct east of Mount Tabor do not seem to appeal to our republican county officers nor to a democratic sheriff who was elected by republican votes. We should worry.
