

SEEKING ELECTION TO THE LEGISLATURE

Mr. Wilson T. Hume, who is a candidate for the republican nomination for representative from this county, is well known to all old time republicans, having served as a member of the lower house in the legislative assembly of 1889. In 1892 he was elected District Attorney for this county which office he held for four years and his administration was noted for the vigor, force and marked ability displayed by Mr. Hume in the discharge of his duties.

Mr. Hume has always been prominent among the leaders of the republican party and on account of his experience as a legislator and prosecuting officer is particularly qualified to serve as representative in the law making body. Mr. Hume is a man liberal in his views, fair and impartial to all and is thoroughly familiar with the conditions and needed legislation of this county.

Columbia Heights

The work on the highway is progressing slow, but sure. Teams have now started with the wheelcrappers and several hundred men are at work under the supervision of John Yeon, the millionaire, who has donned a pair of overalls, and in rain and mud you will find him among the men every day hard at work and if you don't know the big boss personally you will have a time to distinguish him from the others laborers. He is liked by all of them and the best of order prevails in all the camps. The men are pleased with the treatment they receive and excellent meals are served them by the county. Another camp will be located at or near the grange hall very soon, and more men will find work. It seems that with the construction of a continental highway that the labor condition would soon be greatly improved.

Mrs. Gray and Mrs. Robinson, of Half-Way, Oregon, are with Mr. and Mrs. C. Illidge here at the Heights for a short visit. Mrs. Wals, wife of Engineer Wals, is also a guest of the Illidge family. Mr. Wals has the contract to construct the two miles of docks at Astoria.
