DISTRICT CONSOLIDATION.

Over in Molalla, about twenty miles south of Gresham, fourteen school districts have consolidated for the purpose of providing a union school. Something like it was attempted here a few years ago, but the vote was not favorable in the other districts, although Gresham was willing to let the others join with us in building up a great school. The result was our present attractive high school, but the other districts stood still and are still struggling with the grade classes only.

The plan, wherever tried, has produced good results. In an article on this subject the American City magazine says: "The greatest hope for a general and thorough betterment of rural social conditions lies in the consolidated school. It is no longer an experiment, having been tried for a score of years in Ohio and in all parts of the land. Its full harvest of beneficial results has not been reaped because in both educational and social directions ideals of what ought to be done are just appearing. Enough in these directions has been secured to insure the information of more competent plans and methods."

The consolidated school supplies the social clearing house and social center needed in rural communities. We have seen that the school is the only completely democratic, non-sectarian, universal and permanent institution rural regions possess. But the small one-room buildings have incapacitated them to act as social centers. The consolidated school, with its larger building and grounds established for social as well as educational objects, serves as a competent agent. Its social serviceability is seen in the case of the children while in school.

"Citizens," whoever they may be, have put up a legislative ticket of 12 prominent men for the voters to endorse at the coming primaries. It is noticeable that Eastern Multnomah, as usual, is left out. There would have been better chances for success if "citizens" had given this section representation.

Union carpenters walked out on the state house repairs' contract because the contractors employed two non-union men. The contractors are doing the work on the open shop basis and find plenty of workers.

Attorney General Crawford has decided that municipalities will not come under the operation of the workmen's compensation act unless they elect so to do.

John R. Fitzhugh, who will raise broom corn on his large farm near Coburg, will establish a broom factory at Eugene. Carload of machinery has arrived.

The Oregon Blue Sky law is being attacked by a second suit, and is meeting with general opposition from those seeking investments.

The Washington supreme court has reduced the jury verdict of $17,500 as too high for the loss of a man's life, fixing it at $10,000.

ORGANIZING FACTS INTO WORKING PLANS

PORTLAND, Apr. 2—(Special)—The stage is set for the fifth annual convention of the Columbia and Snake River Waterways association, to be held in the Commercial club rooms of this city on Monday and Tuesday, April 13-14, 1914.

It is not intended that this gathering shall be merely a feast of words. The representatives of four states and the province of British Columbia will be concerned in the organizing of facts into working plans. The nearly two million horse power in electric energy to be developed incidental to the canalization of the Upper Columbia and Snake rivers will be discussed in relation to the deepening of the bar channel to forty feet at the mouth of the Columbia, the thirty-foot channel from Portland to the sea, and the public-owned water terminals at Astoria and Portland.

There will be an advance celebration of the opening of the Cello canal—the project which has been aptly termed the Panama canal of the northwest.

The keynote of the convention, it is proposed, shall be, "Let us now get together and do something."

A new era in water development and transportation is beginning. The Columbia district has never lacked the opportunity for actual use of the rivers in navigation and in furnishing true competitive elements in railroad tariffs. The power that can be developed through canalization of the Upper Columbia may be used to operate railroads, factories and farms. The power may help produce that which the stream will carry. Millions of tons in coal deposits could not represent to us the equivalent value of our potential hydro-electric power development.

Acceptances received by the committee on arrangements of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, under whose auspices the convention will be held, indicate the attendance of prominent men from all parts of the northwest. While numerous special invitations have been sent out, it is understood to be the desire of the Waterways association that citizens generally consider themselves invited to freely participate in the proceedings of the convention. Reduced rail rates of one and one-third fare for the round trip have been granted by all the railways of the northwest.

A general public reception will be given to the delegates and visitors by the united commercial and business men's organizations of the city of Portland in the Commercial club rooms on Monday night, April 13.

The Guthrie-McDougal Co., Lewis building, Portland, were awarded the construction of municipal dock No. 2, at Portland for $229,447.

Rev. Geo. F. Thompson and Rev. E. V. O'Hara filled lecture dates at Albany on the minimum wage and eight hour law for women.

J. O. Richmond is looking over Springfield for the W. R. Roach canning interests of Hart, Michigan, and may put in a plant there.

Big orders are being taken in advance of the railroad going into Coos Bay, and lumber mills are all preparing to get into operation.

A four foot vein of gold quartz has been struck in Sucker Creek, Josephine county, going 75 cents to $1 to the pan of crushed ore.

Astoria is about to begin work on the construction of a retaining wall or bulkhead in front of the city and reclamation of tidelands.

All industries will feel relieved at the decision of Judge Cleaton that taxes will not become delinquent until September 1.

A mine of paint clay such as is used by the Beaver paint factory at Salem has been found near Waterloo.

The taxpayers of McMinnville, have authorized the erection of a $30,000 high school building.

Mrs. Eleanor LaFrance will erect a fine brick building on her property at Hood River.

FUNERAL OBSEQUIES OF MRS. JANE S. CULY

A large concourse of friends gathered at the Baptist church Thursday morning to pay their last respects to the memory of an old neighbor and highly esteemed friend, Mrs. Jane S. Culy, familiarly known as "Grandma Culy." Appropriate words of sympathy and comfort were spoken by Rev. David M. Cathey and prayer was offered by Rev. J. H. Wood. "Shepherd Teach Us How to Go," and "Rock of Ages" were sung by a quartet and "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" was sung by C. E. Rusher.

The casket, completely covered with beautiful floral tributes, was borne by H. E. Davis, Geo. Sleret, John Roberts, Theo. Brugger, P. Michel and D. W. Metzger. Jane S. LaZaw was born in New Jersey, January 10, 1825, of Dutch and French parentage, her mother having come from Holland and her father from France. On June 20, 1843, she was married to Thomas Day, who died in less than a year. On May 15, 1846 she was married to Phineas J. Culy whom she survived more than eight years.

Mr. and Mrs. Culy moved from New Jersey to Sheboygan county, Wisconsin in 1858, and about twenty-four years ago they came to Oregon. About twenty-two years ago they came to Gresham where they resided until the death of Mr. Culy eight years ago. Grandma Culy has been, so far as we know, the oldest resident of this vicinity, being at the time of her death 89 years, 2 months and 21 days old. Until the last few months she has been in good health and remarkably sprightly.

Mrs. Culy is survived by two sons and two daughters, J. A. Culy, of Drain, Oregon, D. J. Culy and Mrs. Percy Giese of Gresham and Mrs. John E. Miller of Portland, and sixteen grandchildren, one of whom is Miss Hope Anderson, a teacher in the Gresham school, and fourteen great grandchildren. Mrs. Culy made her home the most of the time for the past two years with Mrs. Giese at her home near Gresham where she passed away last Tuesday surrounded by the daughters, her son David and Miss Anderson. J. A. Culy was summoned to her bedside about two weeks ago, but on account of the serious illness of his wife, he returned to Drain a few days ago.

Mrs. Culy had been for many years a member of the United Brethren church. She was faithful in her christian life and expressed her deep trust and her desire to depart and be with Christ.
