GRESHAM, MULTNOMAH COUNTY, OREGON FRIDAY, APRIL 24, 1914

$1.50 PER YEAR

DON'T FORGET MONDAY NIGHT

Everybody living in the territory from Portland to the Cascade mountains and from the Columbia to the Clackamas rivers should be interested in the Producers' Co-operative association and cannery, and every community within this territory should be represented by a strong delegation at a meeting to be held in Gresham Monday evening, April 27, at which this subject will be thoroughly discussed.

If an organization of this kind can be effected here it spells prosperity for the entire community. It means a payroll; it means a market with a fair price for everything you produce; it means employment for men, women and children; it means that large holdings of real estate will be divided up into small tracts and a home will be built and maintained on each tract. It is proposed to organize along lines similar to those under which the Puyallup and Eugene people have attained such remarkable results. We are told and figures and facts are brought forward to substantiate the statements that growers in these communities are making a net profit of from 10 to 20 per cent on land valued at from $500.00 to $1000.00 per acre.

Gresham and the country tributary has all the advantages for growing and marketing fruit and produce that these places have and have some advantages which they do not possess.

The successful launching of this enterprise will without a doubt solve the question of our future prosperity. It insures a payroll, and a payroll makes business and provides work for everybody. If you can show a prospective homeseeker where he can make ten per cent and more on his investment, you will have no difficulty in selling $500.00 acre land.

The way to make this proposition a success is for everybody to put their shoulder to the wheel and help roll it over and if necessary dig down into your pocket and put up a few dollars, they will come back to you and bring more with them.

Another meeting is called for Monday evening, April 27, at which the question will be discussed in all its phases. This is your opportunity to start something. Get busy; tell your neighbors about it.

Don't forget the date, Monday evening, April 27. G. N. SAGER.

Plans for next Monday evening's cannery project meeting are progressing favorably in the hands of the Commercial club committee.

The announcement is made that a special meeting of the club and all others interested, especially the business men of Gresham, will be held tomorrow night preliminary to the greater meeting of next Monday night.

This call is authorized by the committee, the object being to prepare some sort of plan by which intelligent action may be taken at the Monday night meeting.

All business men of Gresham and all club members are urged to be present tomorrow night.

Speakers for Monday night are being secured by the committee among them being W. W. Cotton and J. Fred Larson.

The accompany article signed by G. N. Sager is of the right stuff and will be indorsed in every neighborhood. The boosters in Pleasant Valley are enthusiastic and will take a large part in the proposed enterprise. Other neighborhoods are in line and there is no doubt but that

The Outlook

CLUB GROUNDS ARE LOCATED

Gresham district gets the location of the Portland Gun club tournament grounds. Just a little bit away—less than three miles, but very convenient. It is located at Jenne station and will be arranged with every convenience for club and shooting purposes.

The grounds comprise 20 acres, bought from George B. Middleton for $6500. The tract is situated just across Johnson creek northwest from Jenne station, about two hundred yards. A slightly elevated site has been chosen for a club house site on which a building will be erected costing $2000.

Five shooting traps will be provided, set in concrete.

The shoot at Kenton last Sunday was the last out at that place, and next Sunday's shooting will be held on the new grounds, although the traps will only be placed in temporary position. The local gun clubs have disbanded but many of the members have joined the big association. The Pacific coast tournament will be held here this summer. This is one of the great events of the United States.

Plans for the club house have been prepared by Jones & Co. of Gresham and the grounds were staked off yesterday preparatory to commencing construction.

The club has financed its enterprise by a bond issue and has plenty of available funds.

Water for Dairy Cows.

Water requirements of the dairy cow are not always given the attention they ought to receive. Aside from the large amount of water used in milk production cows will drink about 60 to 80 pounds a day if they are given that amount of fresh, clean water. Some of the world's record cows have drunk as much as 270 pounds a day. Since milk has a large percentage of water in it large quantities of water are required to produce the milk. Not only that, but high milk production demands the digestion and assimilation of a great deal of nourishment, and water is needed in large quantities for these purposes. The best water is from springs or deep wells, says W. A. Barr, O. A. C. and Federal dairy agent. Ponds receiving drainage are especially bad, because they contain disease germs and because the water is not relished so that the cow really drinks all she needs.

Speaker Announces Schedule.

J. C. Vanzandt of the prohibition headquarters, who has given his lecture dealing with the economic side of the liquor question at several places in this territory, announces that he will speak on the following dates:

Tonight, April 24, at Barton schoolhouse.

Sunday night, April 26, at Gilbert station.

Monday night, April 27, at M. E. church, Troutdale.

The board of school directors of District No. 8, met on Monday evening and among other things decided to reduce the number of teachers in the school for the coming year. As the number of pupils in the district is small but one teacher will be required. Miss Eva I. Endicott has been employed to teach the school.

Rev. A. J. Lucas will preach in the chapel at Orient next Sunday at 11 a. m. A large attendance is desired as plans will be considered for special meetings to be held all next week. It may be possible to secure the services of Dr. Chas. Palmer, an experienced missionary worker.

Injury Result of Accident.

Gresham, Ore., Apr. 23, 1914. The report that Master George Heiney was intentionally injured on the school grounds by a fellow playmate is entirely erroneous. The injury was the result of an accident, says J. E. Stubbs, principal Gresham schools.

something will be done along the lines intended to get the proposed cannery here.

A few big boosts, altogether, and the work will be accomplished.

The Mt. Scott Herald has endorsed the project in an article urging the co-operation of everyone to help the cannery idea along. It says:

"It is hoped that every community from Portland to the Sandy river and from the Columbia to the Clackamas will be represented by a large delegation of representative men and women."

ALTMAN'S COW TESTED AGAIN

"Margaret of Ingleside" is the name of B. C. Altman's famous Jersey cow of which mention was made about two weeks ago. Her remarkable record as published at that time has not only been sustained but has been slightly exceeded in a thorough test lasting two days made this week by D. Brooks Hogan, official tester of the Oregon Agricultural college. It was her second test during the present month.

The first test was so extraordinary that Mr. Hogan was required to make a second test after the proper interval of time had elapsed in order to confirm his own work and give the cow a record with his official approval.

During the two days of the test the milkings were continued three times daily at exactly the same periods apart. Her yield was 104.1 pounds in the 48 hours. Each milking was tested out for butter fat, the average showing 5.755 per cent. That represented 6.67 pounds of butter for the two-day period.

Margaret of Ingleside has been fresh since March 1, this being her third maternity. Her age four years, and Mr. Hogan says that considering her age she is the best cow he ever tested of more than 100 head, and the best of any in the Jersey breed for her years. She will improve as she grows older and bids fair to become the grand champion cow of the state, or perhaps of the Pacific coast.

ROAD TO RIVER TO BE IMPROVED

A petition for the improvement of the new road leading from Fairview to the Columbia river was favorably acted upon by the commissioners, and the sum of $4000 was appropriated for the work. It is intended to raise the land of the roadway above high water mark where it is subject to overflow and build a necessary bridge or two across some of the sloughs. The distance from the Sandy road to the Columbia is about one and one-half miles a portion of which is above high water, and the intention is to place it in that condition the entire distance.

The work will probably not be undertaken until after the annual freshet has subsided in July.

The improvement of this road will make a direct route to Camas when some means is provided for crossing the Columbia. A ferry will probably be established some day and a boat landing will be provided for easy shipment of goods or produce from this section.

MEXICAN SITUATION SEEMS CRITICAL

News from Mexico is not at all reassuring. Things begin to take the aspect of war although war has not been officially declared by either nation. Huerta's plan seems to be one that will involve the United States as the aggressors, in which event he hopes the people of Mexico will all rally to his support, thus ending the rebellion in a common cause against the new enemy.

The United States has taken Vera Cruz and Tampico, and laid an embargo on the shipment of arms and ammunition into Mexican territory. War is imminent and very probable.

CHANGE MADE IN OFFICERS

The most important transaction in Gresham business circles the past week is made in the announcement that the interests in the Bank of Gresham recently acquired by Benj. Cameron have been disposed of, the purchasers being A. F. Miller and his son, K. A. Miller.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Bank of Gresham held yesterday, A. F. Miller was elected president to succeed Benj. Cameron, resigned, and K. A. Miller was elected vice president.

Mr. K. A. Miller, who will now take charge of the bank's interests is a son of A. F. Miller and is well and favorably known to the banking fraternity of Portland, having been actively identified with the business for the past sixteen years. He received his early training in the Citizens Bank of East Portland, and later was receiving teller of the Wells Fargo & Co. bank. After the sale of the latter bank to the U. S. National bank he became cashier of the Portland Trust company. For the past five years he has been cashier and manager of the Glendale State Bank of Glendale, Oregon.

Mr. Miller is married, his wife being a daughter of the Rev. C. E. Cline, D. D. of Portland. They have two young sons.

Mr. A. F. Miller is a pioneer and well known throughout the county. He has been identified with Gresham interests for many years in grange and fair work. He is president of the Grange Fire Insurance Co., secretary of the Patrons Life Insurance association, and a director and heavy stockholder in the Multnomah County Fair association.

K. A. Miller, who will become a welcome acquisition to the business fraternity of Gresham, will move his family here and become permanent residents. A. F. Miller, the new president, while retaining his home at Sellwood, will be here a great part of his time and may eventually decide to come here also for a permanent residence.

Mr. Cameron and family will remain here as permanent residents. This decision was made by Mr. Cameron in a statement this morning, but he qualified it by an intimation that he might go on a fishing trip occasionally. His connection with the business interests of this community have been brief and there is a feeling of disappointment over the fact that he has withdrawn from the business circles of the town. He and his family have been valuable acquisitions to Gresham society and there is much pleasure in recording the fact that they are to remain here.

LOCAL ASSISTANTS HELP THEIR BUSINESS

Good business methods have been shown by the Bartelt Mercantile Co. in their introductory sale. The new firm is becoming acquainted with the Gresham public and has been doing a volume of business hardly deemed possible at this season of the year.

Local clerks who are well known have been of great assistance to the new proprietors in getting acquainted, and the improvements to the interior of the store as well as the addition of new goods have attracted the public to an unusual extent. The sale will continue six days longer.—Adv.

WILL MAKE SURVEY OF GRAVEL PIT

The county gravel pit on the Base Line road two miles east of the Twelve-Mile House, seems to be encroaching on the property owned by Strong & Co., and the county surveyor has been instructed to locate its exact boundaries. There is considerable timber on the county tract which will be made into cordwood.

Our ability to satisfy the public has been proven by our great sale of Millinery Goods of this season. Our midsummer stock has been purchased. Thanking the public for their past favors, we solicit further patronage.

ALL WORKERS FOR HIGHWAY

How many are going from Gresham on the Columbia river highway construction excursion tomorrow? George F. Honey is recruiting a crew from among those who are willing to go and has hopes of a good delegation.

Fifty white ribbons with the word "Gresham" have been printed, and each horny-fisted laborer will get one to wear. All that is necessary to qualify is to take along a dinner pail and a shovel and be the possessor of 75 cents to pay car fare to Oneonta.

The train will leave Portland at 7:30 and stop at Fairview. At the end of the route there will be some work for the delegates to do and then the return trip will begin, with frequent stops along the line where more work is necessary.

It's going to be great, and those who want to go down in history as helpers in a great cause should report to Mr. Honey this evening and make reservations.

POWELL-MILLER WEDDING SURPRISE

Mr. Fred J. Powell and Miss Hazel Miller both of Portland, were married last Monday, April 20 at Tacoma, Washington. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Powell and was born and brought up in this community. He has been for some time in the drug business in Portland. The bride has been in the Powell home much during the winter and is known to many of the young people here. Mr. and Mrs. Powell will make their home in Portland.

Fred played a trick on his business associates, having taken advantage of a few days' vacation to get married. So far they have not learned the secret but announcements are being mailed to them today. The young people were given a rousing charivari last Wednesday night at the Powell ranch by a company of relatives and friends, mostly from Portland.

Inspection of College by Portland Ad. Club.

One of the gladdest days of the college year will be May 1st, when the Portland Ad. club more than 200 strong will visit and inspect the Agricultural college. This is a live bunch, borrowing one of their own rugged phrases, and their coming will be hailed with delight by the students and faculties alike.

On arrival the visitors will be divided into sections of convenient numbers and conducted through the campus by representatives of the cadet company. At noon they will be served with a go-as-you-please luncheon by the College Folk club and the city Commercial club. They will then spend the remainder of the day in an informal tour of grounds and buildings and in seeing Corvallis. In the evening they will be entertained with a banquet in Waldo Hall, leaving for Portland later.

The friendship and support of this body of Portland Business men are thoroughly appreciated by the College. Every effort will be made to provide so pleasant a time for them on the occasion of their visit that they will be induced to make annual pilgrimages to the college.

Sale of 30 Head of Registered and High Grade Jerseys.

In the near future O. W. Tarr will sell his entire herd of cows without reserve at auction on his place ¼ mile east of Gresham on the Section Line road. Without doubt this is the finest bunch of milk cows in Multnomah county as prices have not stood in the way of bringing this herd together. Some of these cows have a milk record of 11,000 lbs. of milk a year with a butter fat record of over 500 lbs. People wanting good cows should watch for the announcement of this sale.

School Entertainment at Terry.

A school entertainment will be held in Terry schoolhouse, District No. 8, Friday night, April 24, at 8 o'clock, the proceeds for the benefit of the school. An excellent program; refreshments and candy on sale. Admission 15c and 20c. Everybody come.

PETITIONS IN FOR PRIMARY

Primary Day is more than three weeks away and all the petitions for office, from governor down to precinct committeeman have filed their petitions. There is a continual rustling of candidates, speech making at every opportunity and a general effort in every way by every candidate to impress upon the voters the fact that the country will be safer if the other fellow is defeated.

While there is considerable interest being taken in nearly every office to be filled this year, there seems to be a deeper feeling in regard to the legislative ticket in this county than any of the others. For the twelve places there are just 40 republican aspirants, four democrats and three progressives. Of the latter two are women. Twelve of the regular republicans are up "by request," the others on their own initiative. Of the entire lot only one, R. W. Gill, is a farmer. All are Portland people except one D. C. Lewis who hails from Saint Johns. The majority of them are lawyers.
