"The Linotype Way is the Way that Wins."

Official paper of the Town of Gresham, Oregon.
Official paper of the Town of Fairview, Oregon.

Entered as second-class matter March 3, 1911, at the Postoffice at Gresham, Oregon, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

With Dr. James Withycombe as governor of Oregon there should be a return to a wise and economical administration of the affairs of the state. The sky rocket methods of the past years, and the dissensions that have marked the efforts of several co-ordinate branches of the state government to work together will be harmonized, and all will work together. "A house divided against itself cannot stand" is applicable in state affairs, where there is a democratic governor and republican associates.

The people of Multnomah county and the undertakers are to be congratulated in the selection of Dr. Dammasch for coroner. A public morgue has been refused, but it was one of the pledges, practically the only one, made by the coming incumbent of the coroner's office. The promise will be kept and all the undertakers will be treated alike hereafter.

The selection of Rufus Holman to succeed himself as county commissioner was an indorsement of his business policies during the past year. The rejection of Mr. Hart was partially due to his opposition to Mr. Holman's methods. The new commissioner, Mr. Holbrook has an extensive knowledge of the needs of the county after an experience of eight years as county surveyor, and should be in a position to work in harmony with the other members of the board, and to the best interests of the taxpayers.

The defeat of T. J. Kreuder for county commissioner was not due to lack of support in the country precincts. He was third in the outcome having fallen less than 1800 votes behind Mr. Holman, who was second. His vote is one of confidence in his ability, but other good men were defeated also.

Congressman LeFerty's defeat by C. N. McArthur is unfortunate, although the latter is fully capable. Mr. Lafferty was entitled to another term in order that he might have time to bring about the passage of important measures affecting the welfare of the state. Time's changes, however, will present new problems for the future congressmen and we believe Mr. McArthur will be fully able to cope with them. But then we would like to see Mr. Lafferty's plans carried out. He will still be useful in advocating his reforms before the courts and some of them are sure to become effective when his ideas are taken up by others and converted into laws. He is on the right track concerning the land grants and public utility measures, and his course will be vindicated before many years. With their most able champion out of the way they will come more slowly. That is the reason his opponents and enemies were so vindictive in their efforts to defeat him.

The value of the Outlook as a campaign advertiser was strikingly illustrated in the recent campaign. It gave full indorsement to a few particular candidates, all of whom polled the highest votes in Eastern Multnomah. Those whom the Outlook endorsed were not all elected, but they ran highest in this district. The Outlook's influence is only circumscribed by its field. Were it a state-wide paper with a corresponding influence it would easily be the leader, as its opinions are known to be safe and reliable.

Perhaps the county road question will get some attention again. If something isn't done there won't be any roads left by the time the fall rains set in.

That bridge across the Sandy, at the club house, is crying aloud for attention. Present conditions are wearing out the Sandy road, saving the Base Line some hard usage and causing the circulation of a choice lot of profanity.
