

TWICE A WEEK

GRESHAM OUTLOOK

Tuesdays and Fridays

VOL. 4. NO. 58

GRESHAM, MULTNOMAH, COUNTY, OREGON FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1914

$1.50 PER YEAR

CANNERY SOON TO BE BUILT

A new side track is being built on to the site of the new cannery east of the Mount Hood depot and lumber is already arriving on the grounds for the building which will be under way next week. This building will be 60x175 feet.

Opportunity is being offered to those who subscribed stock to work out all or a part of the price of the same.

The shares are $25.00 and nearly $15,000 of the stock has already been sold. Now is the time to become a member of the association by subscribing for one or more shares of the stock.

Every farmer this side of Portland should be a member and help to boost the best thing that ever came to or has been started in this section.

This organization is right in line with the talk given by President Kerr of the O. A. C. yesterday afternoon.

Co-operation is the only way to success in this business and will be adopted and worked out in the selling of farm products more and more each succeeding year. The National government and the Agricultural colleges are falling in line with these ideas and the movement will go forward from now on with leaps and bounds.

The period of experimenting is over in many sections of this country and farmers everywhere will be aided now instead of discouraged in these undertakings. Let us all boost for the Gresham Fruitgrowers association and the cannery.

BAND MEETING CHANGED TO MONDAY

The band members will meet next Monday night at the city hall for practice under direction of Bandmaster McDougal. The hour from 7 to 8 is given to beginners. All old band men are wanted to come at 8. It is promised they will be well repaid.

BRIDAL VEIL SCHOOL HAS GOOD ATTENDANCE

The first school of Multnomah county to report to the county superintendent's office for the year is the Bridal Veil, in charge of Mrs. Clara E. Gable as teacher. The report was for the school month ending September 4. The average daily attendance was 99.2 of the registration, with 16 boys and 12 girls enrolled. Of these, one boy and one girl are over 14 years of age.

AUCTION SALE OF LIVE STOCK TODAY

Beginning at 1 p. m. today and tomorrow an auction sale of livestock will be held on the Fair Grounds. An auctioneer will be on the grounds and have charge of the sale. All parties wishing to dispose of stock at this sale should list the same with the secretary before the hour of sale. Several parties have offered goods and horses already for this sale and no doubt a great many will avail themselves of this opportunity. Five per cent will be charged by the Fair management on all sales.

BABY SHOW SATURDAY AT FAIR GROUNDS

Aside and entirely separate from the Eugenic Baby show being held this morning at the library under the supervision of Dr. Mary V. Madigan there will be held the annual Fair baby show at the Fair Grounds at 3 o'clock p. m. tomorrow, Saturday afternoon. The entrance fee is 10 cents and the following premiums will be awarded:

- Prettiest baby, under 1 year, prize $5.00.
- Baby, under 1 year having best head of hair, prize $1.00.

MANY ATTEND ORIENT FAIR

The first Orient school fair, held at the grange hall, Friday and Saturday, September 11th and 12th, was participated in by a large number of children and patrons, and visitors showed their interest by a good attendance.

The vegetables shown were very good. The display of canned fruit, vegetables and jelly was especially fine. Baking was excellent. Mr. Maris, field worker for the state, who was present Saturday morning, made special mention of the canned fruit, and secured a photo of the exhibit. Miss Alma Stone conducted a children's educational after-dinner hour. This was enjoyed also by all present. Several of the patrons gave suggestive talks. A picnic dinner was enjoyed at noon, later cake and coffee were served from a booth. All were enthusiastic in regard to holding a fair next year.

A list of winners of cash prizes follows:

RACES YESTERDAY WON ON SLIPPERY TRACK

In spite of mud and slush on the race track the races scheduled for yesterday were pulled off. A wooden drag was hauled over the track frequently to assist nature in drying up the mud but in spite of every effort both horses and drivers found it a mighty nasty job.

The sun came out in the afternoon and made it quite pleasant over head but left it very muddy underfoot. A large crowd gathered to witness the races which were executed bravely by both drivers and horses. Winners in yesterday's races were as follows:

Mixed race, Pace and Trot—1st, Rubenstine, Jr.; 2d, Mysterious Jim; 3d, Effie M.; 4th, Rastus.

Running race, half mile dash—1st, Miss Condon; 2d, Judge Blue; 3d, Martha M.

O. A. C. BOOTH WORTH VISITING

The Oregon Agricultural college has a booth in the main building, containing exhibits from the departments of Poultry Husbandry and Plant Pathology which should prove interesting to all visitors.

The exhibit of the poultry department in charge of C. S. Brewster consists of a model poultry house, hatching and brooding coops, a feed hopper, and trap-nest, all especially adapted to the needs of the farmers in this locality; together with a balanced feed ration and much interesting and valuable material on poultry breeding and feeding in the form of charts, diagrams and photographs of the two world's record hens.

The department of Plant Pathology, in charge of J. H. Corsant, has an exhibit of plant diseases which are prevalent in this locality, showing actual specimens and photographs of these diseases and giving the best methods for combating them.

A supply of the college bulletins relating to the care of poultry on the farm and the proper methods of spraying for the various orchard diseases is on hand for free distribution, and the men in charge will be glad to answer all questions and to explain the exhibits at any time.

Potato Digging Forks, the kind that are guaranteed at Sterling & Kidder's.

ENCOURAGEMENT NOT COMPULSION

According to the laws of the state, attendance at school is a matter of "must" with most pupils. The law authorizes the appointment of a truant officer, the infliction of fines on parents who fail to comply with its provisions, and the like.

County Superintendent A. P. Armstrong believes in regular and punctual attendance at school. In his opinion, however, a truant officer is not needed for rural schools. The superintendent gave this work personal attention last year, and will do so the present season. His attitude toward a pupil who does not attend school from choice is one of persuasion rather than compulsion, and he finds it operates splendidly. Numerous trips to the country are made by him in carrying out the plan, but the results justify the work in his belief.

The following extracts are taken from the compulsory education law, and apply to both city and rural schools: "As soon as school opens, the district clerk must give to the teacher a copy of his last census report, showing the name and age of every child, and the name and address of father or guardian. Every child between and including the ages of 9 and 15 years must attend school regularly during the whole time the school is in session."

The attorney-general has ruled that this includes children when they become, and until they reach 15. Teachers are authorized to require excuses from parents, either in person or by written note, in all cases of absence or tardiness. No excuse shall be accepted, except sickness of the pupil's family, which makes attendance impossible.

The compulsory law does not apply to eighth grade graduates, or to children who are attending some other school regularly. It does not apply to children between 9 and 10 years of age if they live more than one and one-half miles from school, nor to older children if they live more than three miles from school by the nearest road. At the beginning of the term, and every four weeks thereafter the teacher must compare the names of the children on the register with those on the clerk's report, and if the census shows that there are children who are not attending school in the district, whose age is 9 years or over and under 16, the teacher should carefully inquire into the cause of such non-attendance. If at that time, or at any other time during the term, the absence of any child amounts in the aggregate to more than seven half-days during any four or less number of consecutive weeks, the teacher, if satisfied that the absence is due to truancy, must immediately report such child to the county superintendent, for such further attention as the law requires.

Swedish Pastor Will Speak on Adventism.

Friday evening, September 25, Adjutant Goode and Captain Bloom will preach in the Mission church in Powell Valley. They are prominent Salvation Army men. All who understand the Swedish language are invited to hear them.

Sunday evening, September 27, Rev. Jonas Johnson will speak on "Seventh-Day Adventism in the Light of History and the Bible." He will show that the Bible teaches immortality. All are cordially invited.

GRANGE EXHIBITS DRAW BIG PRIZES

The grange exhibits were judged Wednesday. The prizes were given as follows: first, Russellville; second, Pleasant Valley; third, Gresham; fourth, Lents; fifth, Rockwood; sixth, Columbia; seventh, Evening Star. The prize money was awarded in the following allotments: $250, $225, $200, $175, $150, $125, $100. As a whole the grange exhibits were splendid.

Gresham Library. A collection of mounted butterflies is on exhibition at the Gresham library. Some have been secured on Mt. Hood, others in Portland, India, South America and Massachusetts. To all lovers of butterflies this collection will be especially interesting.

Inez Lusted won the pair of white woolen Oregon-made blankets donated by the Brownsville Woolen Mills for the best collection of hand sewing in the domestic science division.

KERR'S ADDRESS WELL RECEIVED

President Kerr, of the O. A. C., was a welcome visitor at the Fair yesterday and spoke for half an hour to a large audience of Fair visitors, who appreciated very much his address on co-operation, which was the keynote of his address.

Mr. Kerr argues that the time has come when the farmer must use business methods and tact, not only in the production of crops and the rearing of livestock, but also in the selling of the same.

He states that more economy must be exercised in the distribution of products in the markets of the world and it is the business of the government and the O. A. C. henceforth to give practical aid in this direction as well as in the production of the crops.

The writer is aware of the fact that this policy has been adopted by the college largely because of the tremendous pressure brought to bear on officials at the college during the last eighteen months by the Farmers' society of Equity, the Grange and the Farmers' Union. Professor McPherson, who is at the head of this work at the college, was also one of the commission on agriculture sent by the national government to study European methods of co-operation among the farmers of Europe. This address came at a timely moment when the officials of the new Gresham Fruitgrowers association are trying to sell more stock in the association.

DRUM CORPS LOUDLY CHEERED

The chief attraction at the Fair Wednesday was the drum corps of the Sons of Veterans of the Spanish American war. The lads arrived a little later than the program called for but in plenty of time to participate in the afternoon program. They were met by the Pleasant Home band at the depot and escorted through town to the grounds where they exhibited great skill in the way of drum and bugle music.

The little fellows, ranging in age from 5 to 14 years, enjoyed themselves immensely looking over the poultry and other live stock and many expressed themselves as anxious to come again Saturday.

They appeared a second time at 3 o'clock and played several selections in true band style. Everywhere they showed up they were greeted with hearty applause and their visit will be remembered with pleasure by the visitors to the Fair.

Through a mistake this company was referred to on the program Wednesday as the Boy Scouts, we wish to correct this erroneous impression and make clear that they are not Boy Scouts, but "Sons of Veterans." The company consists of sixty-two members, thirty-two of whom visited the Fair Wednesday. They have been drilling since last February when the corps was organized. They are indeed a happy lot of youngsters in charge of L. E. Beach.

This company has visited during the past summer the Cherry fair at Salem, and the Vancouver fair. They were conspicuous at the Rose carnival and participated in the grocery-men's picnic at Bull Run. There is a strong possibility that they will appear here again Friday, and if they do they will meet with a royal welcome.

Accident to E. R. Wright.

E. R. Wright, who has a dairy farm near Gresham, is laid up with several broken ribs and badly bruised chest and legs, as the result of an attack on him by his Jersey bull on last Tuesday.

The animal, which is dehorned, charged Mr. Wright, striking him in the chest over the heart, knocked him down and trampled on him. Mr. Wright with rare presence of mind grabbed the bull by the ring in his nose and managed to get on to his feet. Then he pushed the infuriated animal back twenty feet to a manure spreader, drew the rope in the ring around a spoke of the wheel and escaped by crawling under the spreader.

The eugenic contest is in progress at the library in charge of Dr. Madigan assisted by Drs. Doring, Myers and Belt. More than a score of babies were at the library at the time of going to press, with more entries to come in.

EXTRA!
FAIR TO BE OPEN SUNDAY;
PRICE OF ADMISSION 25 CENTS

The Board of Directors of the County Fair Association this afternoon decided to hold the fair open on Sunday in order to permit those who have been unable to attend on account of the weather to see the really remarkable exhibits.

All the pavilion exhibitors have agreed to leave their exhibits over Sunday; also the Poultry exhibitors. In the stock barns there will be some good displays but some of them will be taken away to other fairs that open next week.

The Furrow concessions were anxious to have the fair hold over and will nearly all remain.

There will be no racing or dancing but the pony and dog show will be open and there is some talk of holding a concert if suitable arrangements can be made.

Admission will be 25 cents.

The Order of Muts will visit the Fair tomorrow rain or shine. They will come by auto, by train, on foot or on horseback, leaving the Oregonian building at 1 o'clock.

They will entertain the people with a wheelbarrow race, mule race, auto race backward and several other stunts peculiar to themselves.

The auto race will be five mile backward, the first prize being a life membership. The second prize will be a quart of gasoline.

After the funny stunts are all pulled off they will organize a dynasty of Gresham Muts among the leading citizens.
