Official paper of the Town of Gresham, Oregon.
Official paper of the Town of Fairview, Oregon.

Entered as second-class matter March 3, 1911, at the Postoffice at Gresham, Oregon, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

President Wilson realizing that prosperity in the United States is due in a great measure to prosperous railroads has sent out a statement calling attention to the importance of sustaining their credit and asks the public to co-operate to this end. Declares emergency is extraordinary as nation's industrial life depends on roads. This is virtually a request that further legislation be abolished and such sentiments are welcomed by every industry in the country.

We call attention to the article by Geo. F. Honey in this paper on the duty of voters. Read it and act accordingly.

public posts, and interment will be made in the Grand Army cemetery. Rev. C. E. Cline officiated. Members of the G. A. R. were invited to attend the funeral.

Captain Johnson had lived at the County Farm for the past fourteen years, from choice largely, as he had access to the Soldiers' Home, but preferred to remain at the County Farm. He has no relatives in Oregon as far as known. Those who know Johnson say he was a remarkable man, and a man of fine mind. For some time on account of his great age he had been quite feeble. Had he lived he would have been 100 years of age in November. He was born in Ireland and came to the United States quite early. He was a sea captain so it is stated. It is related of Johnson many years ago while the poor farm was on the west side that word came that he was dead, and an employee with a wagon and coffin was sent after the body. On the return trip Johnson re-arriving under the joggling of the wagon got out of the coffin. The driver seeing the supposed dead man emerge from the coffin jumped from the wagon. Johnson took the driver's seat and drove back to the farm much to the startling amazement of the people at the county farm when they saw him drive up to the house with an empty coffin in the wagon. Those who have talked with Johnson say he has had a remarkable career.

Rev. J. R. Knodell, pastor of the Laurelwood Congregational church, has resigned and delivers his farewell sermons there next Sunday. He will go to Spokane to take up the work of associate home mission superintendent. He will be succeeded at Laurelwood by Rev. C. F. Johnson, recently from Osoe, Wis., who has arrived ready to enter on his work. Rev. Knodell has been in charge at Laurelwood for the past two years. He had been for five years superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League in Oregon and was in charge of the campaign of 1910. He is moderator of the Portland Congregational ministers and president of the Portland Congregational Ministerial association.

Every one attending the county fair can bear testimony to the activity and personal sacrifices of the superintendents and officers. H. A. Lewis and E. L. Thorpe, president and secretary. A. F. Miller, superintendent of the grounds, was on the job all the time. Same can be said of all superintendents. It was a war against the elements, and in that case the fair associations lost out in the matter of attendance. It was the opinion of such men as E. J. Werlein and others that for its size it was one of the best fairs held in any county in the state. Some improvements have been suggested, which no doubt will be considered. To have rain every day is not always the misfortune of the management, and bright skies will come again next year, when we shall meet again on the furrow.

By the way, did not every one notice the fine enterprise displayed by the Outlook. Its daily issue covered the salient and essential features of the fair. This issue was highly creditable to the management and owner of the Outlook. After a time we may see the Outlook issued every day the year 'round—who knows.

APPEAL TO VOTERS TO REGISTER, VOTE DRY

Some one has well said that if the women in Europe had been consulted, there would have been no war. Oregon saloons make drunkards of Oregon children. There are drunkards in Gresham today, who are drinkers, (some of them drunkards) because saloons were tolerated here during their childhood.

The saloons are gone. Who voted them out, the men? No! It was left for the women of Gresham; and how quickly they did it when they were permitted to vote. Exchanging the welfare of their children for $1200 license money did not appeal to them, not to mention the waste and want, which is the only return from those legalized parasites.

On November 3d next we vote on state-wide Prohibition and it will be up to the women again, to come to the rescue, and put the lid on the whole state, and elect officers who will see that the lid is kept on.

Remember that you must be registered since January 1st this year, to vote this fall. The registration books closed September 9th, they will be reopened September 24th, remaining open 21 days, finally closing October 15th. You can register at the courthouse Portland, or before Justice of the Peace in Gresham.

No charge for registering. Two property owners as witnesses are required.

Prohibition means "personal liberty" for the women and children as well as the men.

The children have a right to this protection, and if you fail to register and vote, don't blame anyone but yourself, if it develops later that you have a drunkard in your family. This year the Gresham voting precinct is divided into two precincts, the Powell Valley road being the dividing line. The south side is known as precinct No. 308, and the north side as 309.

Last Thursday I copied from the county register the names of the people registered in these two precincts.

Precinct No. 308 has 288, precinct No. 309 has 318, making a total of 606 registered to date. My next statement should command more than a passing glance especially among our women who were such a potent factor in our municipal house cleaning last fall.

In reviewing the names I find that of the 606 registered, 421 are men, and 185 women. Please note that and 185 women. Please note that cinct is registered, a much larger registration than last year.

Don't think for a minute that one whiskey voter will be overlooked, they don't do business that way.

"All any reform needs is the friendship of its friends."

The sentiment in Oregon is overwhelmingly in favor of state-wide prohibition, and the only thing that will defeat it, will be indifference on the part of the good people of the state.

Don't be a "goose egg," get out and use your franchise. I lived in North Dakota in territorial days, "wild and wooly" license days. Our little prairie town, half the size of Gresham had 14 saloons each paying $500 license. North Dakota was admitted into the union as a prohibition state twenty-six years ago and has steadily increased in wealth until it is second in the U. S. in assessed wealth per capita. (Prohibition Kansas, being first.)

She has more pianos in proportion to population than any other state. Why is that?

Don't let anyone insult your intelligence by telling you prohibition in Oregon would mean hardship and disaster. On the contrary prohibition gives credit to the town or state, precisely as sobriety inspires confidence in the individual.

Any up to date doctor will tell you that alcohol is not only unnecessary, but a detriment in the sick room. Also that continued use will produce chronic stomach disorders, or kidney trouble. Alcohol tears down tissue instead of building up. Any your family doctor about it.

If there is one thing more than another that will create a seaisick feeling in a person from a state where they have prohibition, it is seeing the calamity howling cards, posted by the breweries, on the trees and fences along our highways, and reading Mrs. Abigail Scott Duniway's "personal liberty" anti-prohibition articles.

The liquor afflicted home is the most competent to judge, and the ballot the most effective expression. Oregon expects every woman to do her duty (man too). We are sure she will.

Oregon Dry 1914 by 30,000 majority is the prediction, this includes 200 Gresham women who have not registered, so get busy. I shall be pleased to use my auto to bring any one who is unable to walk to the registration office. Phone 686. Don't hesitate to call, for this is my way of assisting in deciding what I believe to be the most important moral and financial question that Oregon will ever be called on to decide.

I have had twenty-six years of pleasure from the fact that my vote helped to make North Dakota dry.

If voting for Oregon Dry is the last thing you do on earth, you can't leave your children a better legacy. GEO. F. HONEY.

Diarrhoea Quickly Cured.
"My attention was first called to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as much as twelve years ago. At that time I was seriously ill with summer complaint. One dose of this remedy checked the trouble," writes Mrs. C. W. Florence, Rockfield, Ind. For sale by All Dealers.

Acute Indigestion.
"I was annoyed for over a year by attacks of acute indigestion, followed by constipation," writes Mrs. M. J. Gallagher, Geneva, N. Y. "I tried everything that was recommended to me for this complaint but nothing did me much good until about four months ago I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and procured a bottle of them from our druggist. I soon realized that I had gotten the right thing for they had ed me at once. Since taking several bottles of them I can eat heartily without any bad effects." Sold by all Dealers.
