MANY CHANGES IN PIANO CONTEST

It's a very determined and hard working half dozen contestants who are holding their places at the top of the list with but little change in position from week to week. Other contestants however are waking up as will be seen by the revised list, resulting from last night's count of votes and what the changes will be during the remaining weeks of the contest it is hard to guess. It will be noted that two new contestants have entered. The opportunity is open for nominations up to November 1st when the list closes. A person can nominate himself or be nominated by a friend, each nominee receiving 2000 votes to start with.

A new rule has also been adopted (Rule 12) by which names having made no gain up to October 19 will be dropped from the published list.

In last night's count there were found three ballots, aggregating several hundred votes, which were not signed and hence could not be counted for any contestant.

Columbia Heights

Somebody asked the other day, what was the matter with Columbia Heights, we don't hear from there any more? Well it is like this, we are so busy you know, it is such a busy season now, in fact it is a mighty busy place all the time. And then you know it was the county fair. We was there too this year and even though we didn't make much of a show, it took time. We are proud of our grain exhibit and everybody agreed that the grain exhibit at Columbia grange booth, could not be beat. Nevertheless we got two points lower than Russellville grange for our grain, but it is not an easy task to be a judge and do justice to everybody; somebody will get hurt. The county fair is growing bigger and better every year, but still there is room for lots of improvement, and the people of Multnomah county are going to work harder than ever to have something to show to the eastern people who still thinks that Oregon is a wilderness.

If you wish to know the latest up here, it is this: "We signed the right of way for the Columbia highway across our land." You see it was like this, we had some trespass notices put up and you bet you when John Yeon and Benson, the two big bosses, same along and spied those notices, they got busy for it was said the court could not afford to give more than the damage already allowed, and the county court, missionaries would not listen to pay any more for you know they are so saving to the county, and there you are, but Benson put his hand on his pocket book and from there he took $100 and added to the sum that the court allowed and so we agreed to let them go. How many of Portland's big moneyed men would do what Benson and Mr. Yeon are doing? No answer.

Andersen has a gang of men on now getting the potatoes out of the way. The crop is fairly good. Jas. Ellis sold one carload at $81.20 at Corbett.

Joe Dobbins, the butler at Camp Three, was made a granger last night at our hall. The mail carrier and Miss Olga Groff took the third and fourth degree.

Mrs. C. Illidge was in the city on Friday with relatives. A baby boy was born last week to

Mr. and Mrs. F. Krierlem. The infant died shortly after birth. Mrs. Krierlem is getting along quite nicely.

Mrs. Lottie Benfield spent last week in Portland with her friends.

Senator Lane insists that the government should operate the Alaska coal mines. He is beginning to advocate some of the things that Representative Lafferty has been contending for.

Mr. Farmer:—We want potatoes, apple, green corn, chickens, butter, eggs, plums, prunes. We are making special cleanup price on Field Fence. If you intend using any soon it will pay you to see us. Metzger Bros.
